Understanding Marijuana A New Look At The Scientific Evidence:

Understanding Marijuana Mitch Earleywine, 2002-08-15 Marijuana is the world's most popular illicit drug with hundreds of millions of regular users worldwide. One in three Americans has smoked pot at least once. The Drug Enforcement Agency estimates that Americans smoke five million pounds of marijuana each year. And yet marijuana remains largely misunderstood by both its advocates and its detractors. To some, marijuana is an insidious stepping stone drug enticing the inexperienced and paving the way to the inevitable abuse of harder drugs. To others, medical marijuana is an organic means of easing the discomfort or stimulating the appetite of the gravely ill. Others still view marijuana like alcohol as a largely harmless indulgence, dangerous only when used immoderately. All sides of the debate have appropriated the scientific evidence on marijuana to satisfy their claims. What then are we to make of these conflicting portrayals of a drug with historical origins dating back to 8,000 B.C. Understanding Marijuana examines the biological, psychological, and societal impact of this controversial substance. What are the effects for mind and body of long-term use? Are smokers of marijuana more likely than non-users to abuse cocaine and heroine? What effect has the increasing potency of marijuana in recent years had on users and on use? Does our current legal policy toward marijuana make sense? Earleywine separates science from opinion to show how marijuana defies easy dichotomies. Tracing the medical and political debates surrounding marijuana in a balanced, objective fashion, this book will be the definitive primer on our most controversial and widely used illicit substance.

The Routledge Handbook of Post-Prohibition Cannabis Research Dominic Corva, Joshua Meisel, 2021-09-06 The place of cannabis in global drug prohibition is in crisis, opening up new directions for socially engaged cannabis research. The Routledge Handbook of Post-Prohibition Cannabis Research invites readers to explore new landscapes of cannabis research under conditions of legalization, with not after prohibition, post-prohibition. The chapters are organized into five multidisciplinary sections: Governance, Public Health, Markets and Society, Ecology and the Environment, and Culture and Social Change. Case studies from the United States, Uruguay, Morocco, and the United Kingdom show readers alternative ways of thinking about human cannabis relationships that move beyond questions of legality and illegality. Representing a cross-section of cannabis scholarship, the contributors provide readers with critical perspectives on legalization that are not based upon orthodoxies of prohibition. While legalization signals a global shift in the legitimacy of cannabis research, this collection identifies openings for academics, policy makers, and the public interested in ending the drug war, as well as a way to address broader social problems evident in the age of neoliberal governance within which prohibition has been entangled. Drugs and the American Dream Patricia A. Adler, Peter Adler, Patrick K. O'Brien, 2012-02-28 Drugs and the American Dream presents an up-to-date anthology of chiefly contemporary readings that explore the myriad sociological correlates of licit and illicit drug use in the United States. Unique approach to the topic that offers an organizing theme of sociological concepts: age, social class, ethnicity, gender, as well as societal response to drug use, including drug education, treatment, and policy. The book is interdisciplinary in terms of approach making it useful in a variety of contexts Includes a wide array of ethnographic articles that place reader directly into the perspectives of drug users through their own voices Brief framing introductions to each article provide interconnective tissue guiding the student to the heart of what's important in the piece that follows Offers a balanced approach to various substances tobacco alcohol prescription drugs and illegal drugs Provides students with a realistic perspective on the extent of substance use in American society as well as a critical appreciation of the real versus imagined harms associated with use of various substances

Commodifying Cannabis Bradley J. Borougerdi, 2018-11-19 Cannabis is a genetically diverse plant that has been commodified for a variety of different purposes by many cultures throughout world history For thousands of years people have used its fiber seed and flowers to make rope and cloth rig ships feed people and livestock concoct medicines and alter states of consciousness Until the nineteenth century though most Europeans and Americans were unaware of drug varieties of cannabis The British encountered them in India and created western style medicines that sold throughout the Atlantic world by the 1840s but negative associations with Oriental intoxication and degeneracy sullied the plant's reputation as a viable commodity Now after decades of transatlantic criminalization policies against cannabis in the twentieth century it is making a comeback In Commodifying Cannabis Bradley J Borougerdi traces the tangled histories of its use for fiber medicine and altered states of consciousness across the Atlantic world focusing on the dynamic interplay between these three different cultural applications to explain why the plant has transformed so many times throughout history The historical journey spans a vast geographical landscape and includes over three centuries of source material to illuminate the cultural foundations behind the myriad transformations cannabis has endured as a commodity in the Atlantic world

Marijuana 360 Nancy E. Marion, Joshua B. Hill, 2019-05-08 In 1996 California became the first state to legalize medical marijuana Since then 30 states and the District of Columbia have passed laws legalizing marijuana in some form Nine of those states including Alaska Oregon Colorado and Washington have legalized marijuana for recreational use Many states including Arizona and Ohio are considering legislation to allow for legalized cannabis use Marijuana 360 Differing Perspectives on Legalization examines the perception of marijuana legalization from the perspective of those who are directly involved in some aspect of legal marijuana Nancy E Marion and Joshua B Hill interweaves the interviews from a variety of representatives from different integral groups that have been affected by marijuana legalization in both states that have legalized or are considering the legalization of marijuana to get their impressions of the impact the law has made or will make in their area These groups include medical professionals educators parents lawmakers drug users and others There is more public support for reform than ever before but still much debate over the issues of legalizing marijuana Marijuana 360 increases our understanding of what different professionals think about the legalization of marijuana
