Towards Human Rights In Residential Care For Older Persons International Perspectives:

Towards Human Rights in Residential Care for Older Persons Helen Meenan, Nicola Rees, Israel Doron, 2015-07-30 People are leading significantly longer lives than previous generations did and the proportion of older people in the population is growing Residential care for older people will become increasingly necessary as our society ages and we will require more of it At this moment in time the rights of older people receive attention at international and regional levels with the United Nations the Organization of American States and the African Union exploring the possibility of establishing new conventions for the rights of older persons This book explores the rights of older people and their quality of care once they are living in a care home and considers how we can commence the journey towards a human rights framework to ensure decent and dignified care for older people The book takes a comparative approach to present and future challenges facing the care home sector for older people in Africa Kenya the Arab world Egypt Australia China England Israel Japan and the USA An international panel of experts have contributed chapters identifying how their particular society cares for its older and oldest people the extent to which demographic and economic change has placed their system under pressure and the role that residential elder care homes play in their culture The book also explores the extent to which constitutional or other rights form a foundation to the regulatory and legislative structures to residential elder care and it examines the important concept of dignity As a multi regional study of the care of older person from a human rights perspective this book will be of excellent use and interest in particular to students and researchers of family and welfare law long term care social policy social work human rights and elder law

Human Rights and the Care of Older People Maeve O'Rourke, 2024-04-24 Set against the rapid aging of the world's population Human Rights and the Care of Older People explores the potential for the rule against torture and ill treatment in international human rights law to better protect older people from care related mistreatment The book's analysis is broadly relevant but is prompted by the widespread reports of older people's suffering due to lack of access to care and coercion in respect of care needs This includes the deprivation of liberty for care While recognizing that a new United Nations Convention on the rights of older people is on the horizon the book argues that there is a pressing need for older people and all human rights actors to use and progressively interpret the established right to freedom from torture and ill treatment As an interpretive lens the book offers a conception of a dignity violation that may amount to prohibited ill treatment and thus trigger states positive obligations to protect including through systemic prevention measures This book is intended as a tool for advocacy and a call for critical awareness highlighting the anti torture norm's potential for more effective application and challenging current legal barriers to such effectiveness Meant for readers worldwide the book addresses the rule against torture and ill treatment from international law regional European Inter American and African perspectives This is an open access title available under the terms of a CC BY NC ND 4.0 International licence It is free to read on Oxford Academic and offered as a free PDF download from OUP and selected open access locations

Care of Older

Persons Mala Kapur Shankardass, 2024-10-23 This book explores the implications and significant ethical social economic and health challenges that an ageing world population presents It provides valuable insights on concerns related to providing organizing planning and managing care for older persons in both formal and informal settings As the number of older persons increases rapidly around the globe caring for them is a very important aspect of all ageing and aged societies While in most countries the care of older persons is provided informally by family members the changing social scene family structures and work and employment patterns are leading many nations to create provisions for formal care through institutions or paid services of caregivers This book offers perspectives on formal and informal care from countries such as Japan the Netherlands the USA India South Africa and Poland among others The essays in this book underline a rights based approach and focus on ethical social economic health and legal aspects of care as they pertain to the universal phenomena of ageing as well as the specific demographic and epidemiological realities of the selected countries They discuss concerns such as long term care provisions catering to the needs of people affected by dementia providing residential care taking the needs of family care providers into account the growing requirement for paid care workers and channelizing training of both skilled and semi skilled care providers to suit the needs of older people This volume would be of interest to scholars and those working in the fields of sociology health studies age and ageing psychology social work medical sciences nursing and public policy It will also be useful to NGO sector workers administrators as well as grassroots workers involved with the care of older persons

Historical Dictionary of Human Rights Jacques Fomerand, 2021-03-29 The second edition of Historical Dictionary of Human Rights explores both the theory and the practice of international human rights with a focus on the norms and institutions that make up the architecture of the global human rights regime and the tools processes and procedures through which such norms are realized and enforced Particular attention is given to the contextual political and sociological factors that shape and constrain the operation and functioning of international human rights institutions and their state and non state actors This is done through a chronology an introduction and an extensive bibliography The dictionary section has more than 1 000 cross referenced entries on terminology conventions treaties intergovernmental organizations in the United Nations and non governmental organizations as well as some of the pioneers and defenders This book is an excellent resource for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about human rights

Dementia and Human Rights Suzanne Cahill, 2018-03-28 The time has come to further challenge biomedical and clinical thinking about dementia which has for so long underpinned policy and practice Framing dementia as a disability this book takes a rights based approach to expand the debate Applying a social constructionist lens it builds on earlier critical perspectives by bringing together concepts including disability social inclusion personhood equality participation dignity empowerment autonomy and solidarity Launching the debate into new and exciting territory the book argues that people living with dementia come within the UN Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities and therefore have full entitlement to all the rights the Convention enshrines A human rights based approach has not to date been fully applied to interrogate the lived experience and policy response to dementia With the fresh analytical tools provided in this book policy makers and practitioners will gain new insights into how this broader perspective can be used to further promote the quality of life and quality of care for all those affected by dementia Critical Multicultural Practice in Social Work Charlotte

Williams,2020-07-16 Critical multicultural practice rather than being a specialism is integral to Australian social work Drawing on critical race theory critical multiculturalism intersectionality and critical reflection as practice theory this major new edited collection challenges many of the dominant assumptions of cross cultural social work and provides instead a new model of transformative engagement Key concepts are considered including identity culture diversity and superdiversity how power and privilege shape everyday interactions and what is meant by citizenship in the contemporary context Part One explores the changing nature of multicultural practice in Australia including our society s changing demographic profile the impact of asylum and refugee migrations race and racism and cultural identity Indigenous perspectives and the relationship with multicultural practice are examined together with the ethical and legal basis for multicultural practice This part concludes with an outline of the editors framework for critical multicultural practice Part Two draws on contributions from a range of practitioners and offers new perspectives on diverse fields including child protection mental health disability ageing homelessness and rural and regional practice Featuring case studies and insights drawn from across the spectrum of practice this book is a vital resource for all social workers practising in Australia today A rich and nuanced analysis of what is happening at the interfaces of our work and the lives of Australian citizens it articulates ways forward that are genuine bold and empathetic From the foreword by Professor Kerry Arabena The University of Melbourne Socio-Legal Generation

Sharon Cowan,Simon Halliday,2024-09-28 This book honors the diverse and path breaking work of Michael Adler a pioneer of socio legal scholarship in the UK The book brings together an international group of scholars established and emerging researchers from across the globe to develop key ideas generated by Adler s scholarship Building on his rich portfolio of creative work at the interface of law and social science the book explores themes that continue to resonate in contemporary debates about how best to understand the relationship between justice fairness and the modern administrative state Specifically the book re examines core issues which Adler as a key figure of the first generation of UK socio legal scholars explored including the relationship between official discretion and the rule of law the justice of internal administrative processes the importance of a bottom up perspective on justice power and accountability in the prison sector access to justice for social welfare claimants and the promise of viewing law through the lens of social science Critical Dementia

Studies Richard Ward,Linn J. Sandberg,2023-03-15 This book puts the critical into dementia studies It makes a timely and novel contribution to the field offering a thought provoking critique of current thinking and debate on dementia Collectively the contributions gathered together in this text make a powerful case for a more politically engaged and critical treatment of dementia and the systems and structures that currently govern and frame it The book is inter disciplinary and draws together leading dementia scholars alongside dementia activists from around the world It frames dementia as first and foremost a political category The book advances both theoretical and methodological thinking in the field as well as sharing learning from empirical research Outlining the limits to existing efforts to frame and theorise the condition it proposes a new critical movement for the field of dementia studies and practice The book will be of direct interest to researchers and scholars in the field of dementia studies and wider fields of health disability and care It will provide a novel resource for students and practitioners in the fields of dementia health care and social care The book also has implications for dementia policymaking commissioning and community development The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license
