Zeegers, 2016-03-10 It is an inescapable fact that causation both generally in populations and specifically in individuals cannot be observed Rather causation is determined when it can be inferred that the risk of an observed injury or disease from a plausible cause is greater than the risk from other plausible causes While many causal evaluations performed in forensic medicine are simplified by the fact that the circumstances surrounding the onset of an injury or disease clearly rules out competing causes eg a death following a fall there are many cases that present a more complicated picture It is these types of investigations in which an analysis of comparative levels of risk from competing causes is needed to arrive at a reliable and accurate determination of the most likely cause that forensic epidemiology FE is directed at In Forensic Epidemiology the authors present the legal and scientific theories underlying the methods by which risk is used in the investigation of individual causation Methods and principles from epidemiology are combined with those from a multitude of other disciplines including general medicine pharmacology forensic pathology biostatistics and biomechanics inter alia as a basis for investigating the plausibility of injury and disease exposures and mechanisms The ultimate determination of the probability of causation PC results from an assessment of the strength of association of the investigated relationship in the individual based on a comparison between the risk of disease or injury from the investigated exposure versus the risk of the same disease or injury occurring at the same point in time in the individual but absent the exposure The principles and methods described in Forensic Epidemiology will be of interest to those who work and study in the fields of forensic medicine epidemiology and the law Historical perspective on how epidemiologic evidence of causation has been used in courts in the US and Europe Theory and science underlying the use of risk to assess individual causation Primer on epidemiologic methods and various measures used to arrive at individualized comparative risk assessments and PC The use of statistical methods applied to publicly available data for ad hoc analysis of PC applicable to the specific circumstances of a case Background on complementary disciplines including forensic pathology

The Governance of Credit Rating Agencies Andrea Miglionico, The global crisis revealed that credit rating agencies CRAs are capable of bringing about potential distortions in the financial sector thereby resulting in a reduction in market confidence which in turn influences negotiations and expectations CRAs need to be held accountable for lack of transparency and inaccurate ratings however the existing regulatory framework does not secure adequate investor protection This book provides a new and important contribution to research in the area at a crucial time in the debate around financial regulation and investment regimes , Defences in Tort Andrew Dyson,James Goudkamp,Frederick Wilmot-Smith,2015-02-26 This book is the first in a series of essay collections on defences in private law It addresses defences to liability arising in tort The essays range from those adopting a primarily doctrinal approach to others that examine the law from a more theoretical or historical perspective Some essays focus on individual defences while some are concerned with the links between defences or with how defences relate to the structure of tort law as a whole A number of the essays also draw upon concepts and literature that have been developed mainly in relation to the criminal law and consider their application to tort law The essays make several original contributions to this complex important but neglected field of academic enquiry Reports of Cases Argued and Determined in the Superior Court, Appellate Division, Chancery Division, Law Division of the State of New Jersey New Jersey. Superior Court,2013

Illegality after Patel v Mirza Sarah Green,Alan Bogg,2018-06-14 In Patel v Mirza 2016 UKSC 42 nine justices of the Supreme Court of England and Wales decided in favour of a restitutionary award in response to an unjust enrichment despite the illegal transaction on which that enrichment was based Whilst the result was reached unanimously the reasoning could be said to have divided the Court Lord Toulson Lady Hale Lord Kerr Lord Wilson Lord Hodge and Lord Neuberger favoured a discretionary approach but their mode of reasoning was described as revolutionary by Lord Sumption at 261 who outlined in contrast a more rule based means of dealing with the issue a method with which Lord Mance and Lord Clarke broadly agreed The decision is detailed and complex and its implications for several areas of the law are considerable Significantly the reliance principle from Tinsley v Milligan 1994 1 AC 340 has been discarded as has the rule in Parkinson v College of Ambulance Ltd 1925 KB 1 Patel v Mirza therefore can fairly be described as one of the most important judgments in general private law for a generation and it can be expected to have ramifications for the application of the illegality doctrine across a wide range of disciplinary areas Unless there is legislative intervention which does not seem likely at the present time Patel v Mirza is set to be of enduring significance This collection will provide a crucial set of theoretical and practical perspectives on the illegality defence in English private law All of the authors are well established in their respective fields The timing of the book means that it will be unusually well placed as the go to work on this subject for legal practitioners and for scholars

Decolonisation, Anti-Racism, and Legal Pedagogy Foluke I

Adebisi, Suhraiya Jivraj, Ntina Tzouvala, 2023-12-08 This book offers an international breadth of historical and theoretical insights into recent efforts to decolonise legal education across the world With a specific focus on post and decolonial thought and anti racist methods in pedagogy this edited collection provides an accessible illustration of pedagogical innovation in teaching and learning law Chapters cover civil and common law legal systems incorporate cases from non state Indigenous legal systems and critically examine key topics such as decolonisation and anti racism in criminology colonialism and the British Empire and court process and Indigenous justice The book demonstrates how teaching can be modified and adapted to address long standing injustice in the curriculum Offering a systematic collection of theoretical and practical examples of anti racist and decolonial legal pedagogy this volume will appeal to curriculum designers and law educators as well as to undergraduate and post graduate level law teachers and researchers Research Handbook on the Economics of Torts Jennifer Arlen, 2013-11-29 Focusing on issues of vital importance to those seeking to understand and reform the tort system this volume takes a multi disciplinary approach including theoretical economic analysis empirical analysis socio economic analysis and behavioral anal Tort Law Tjong Tjin Tai, Eric, 2022-09-06 This accessible textbook provides an introductory guide to tort law with a structured explanation of the key concepts and doctrines Using a comparative approach the discussion is illustrated with case law and provisions from three key jurisdictions England France and Germany With liberal reference to other codes and cases from around the world the book gives readers a contextual understanding and will appeal to classes with a global outlook Torts Russell L. Weaver, 2009 Administrative Law in Aotearoa New Zealand Hanna Wilberg, 2025-10-16 This book on administrative law in Aotearoa New Zealand fills a gap with its fresh scholarly account of the law in this area focusing on analysis of structures and principles It identifies underlying tensions between competing objectives and outlines current trends and debates It includes chapters on administrative justice and throughout promotes an awareness of wider administrative law beyond judicial review Given the recent recognition of tikanga Maori customary law as part of the laws of Aotearoa New Zealand this book also offers tentative explorations of the roles tikanga may come to play in administrative law The book is suitable for use in university courses especially in specialist administrative law courses It is also addressed to judges officials and practitioners seeking to deepen their understanding of this area of law to academic audiences around the common law world and to policy makers designing or evaluating administrative regimes The Southeastern Reporter ,1914 Blackstone's Guide to the Human Rights Act 1998 John Wadham, JOHN; MOUNTFIELD KC WADHAM (HELEN; DESAI, RAJ; HANNE.), Wadham et al, 2024 Blackstone's Guide to the Human Rights Act 1998 provides clear concise coverage of the operation and application of the Human Rights Act 1998 The Guide considers the case law of the European Court of Human Rights and the impact of Convention rights in landmark domestic judgments Catholic Dioceses, Legal Systems, and Corporate Accountability Meredith Edelman, 2025-11-13 This book explores how different legal systems handle a particularly difficult type of corporate wrongdoing Catholic dioceses responsibility for child sexual abuse Usually when people think about corporate wrongdoing they think about tax fraud insider trading and similar white collar crime As corporations dioceses responsibility for child sexual abuse exists separately from that of individual perpetrators and this corporate responsibility is the focus of this book Through an analysis of cases involving dioceses that have significant documented histories of priests abusing children this book illustrates how criminal law canon law tort law bankruptcy law and an Australian Royal Commission have responded or why they have not The cases involve the Diocese of Ballarat in Victoria Australia and the Diocese of Gallup in northern Arizona and New Mexico in the United States Each diocese faced similar claims in a diverse field of legal systems so very different legal systems were handling in essence the same cases in dissimilar contexts Employing a novel interdisciplinary approach the book traces the theories purposes doctrines procedures and logistics of engaging with these different legal systems evaluating what they can and cannot do Revitalising theories of responsive law the book demonstrates that it is possible for legal systems to better hold not just Catholic dioceses but corporations more generally to account for wrongdoing but we may need to rethink how those systems are structured

The Oxford Handbook of Comparative Environmental Law Emma Lees, Jorge E. Viñuales, 2019-04-25 This Handbook is the first comprehensive account of comparative environmental law It examines in detail the methodological foundations of the discipline as well as the substance of environmental law across countries from four vantage points country studies from all continents responses to common problems including air pollution water management nature conservation genetically modified organisms climate change and energy chemicals waste foundational components of environmental law systems including principles property rights administrative and judicial organisation command and control regulation market mechanisms informational techniques and liability mechanisms and common interactions of environmental protection with the broader public private and criminal law contexts The volume brings together the foremost authorities in this field from around the world to provide a concise self contained and technically rigorous account of environmental law as a single overall system

Liability of Corporate Groups and Networks Christian A. Witting, 2018-01-11 What happens when a corporate subsidiary or network company is unable to pay personal injury victims in full This book sets out to tackle the insolvent entity problem especially as it arises in cases of mass wrongdoing such as those involving asbestos exposure and defective pharmaceuticals After discussing the nature of corporate groups and networks from the perspectives of business history organisation studies and social theory the book assesses a range of rules and proposed rules for extending liability for personal injuries beyond insolvent entities New proposals are put for an exception to the rule of limited liability and for the development of a flexible new tort based on conspiracy that encompasses not only control based relationships but also horizontal coordination between companies The book concludes with a general discussion of lessons learned from debates about extended liability and provides guidelines for the development of new liability rules
