Towards A New Architecture Dover Architecture:

Towards a New Architecture Le Corbusier, 2013-04-09 Pioneering manifesto by founder of International School Technical and aesthetic theories views of industry economics relation of form to function mass production split and much more Profusely illustrated Toward an Architecture Le Corbusier, 2007 Published in 1923 Toward an Architecture had an immediate impact on architects throughout Europe and remains a foundational text for students and professionals Le Corbusier urges readers to cease thinking of architecture as a matter of historical styles and instead open their eyes to the modern world Simultaneously a historian critic and prophet he provocatively juxtaposes views of classical Greece and Renaissance Rome with images of airplanes cars and ocean liners Le Corbusier's slogans such as the house is a machine for living in and philosophy changed how his contemporaries saw the relationship between architecture technology and history This edition includes a new translation of the original text a scholarly introduction and background notes that illuminate the text and illustrations

The Autopoiesis of Architecture, Volume II Patrik Schumacher, 2012-04-24 This is the second part of a major theoretical work by Patrik Schumacher which outlines how the discipline of architecture should be understood as its own distinct system of communication Autopoeisis comes from the Greek and means literally self production it was first adopted in biology in the 1970s to describe the essential characteristics of life as a circular self organizing system and has since been transposed into a theory of social systems This new approach offers architecture an arsenal of general comparative concepts It allows architecture to be understood as a distinct discipline which can be analyzed in elaborate detail while at the same time offering insightful comparisons with other subject areas such as art science and political discourse On the basis of such comparisons the book insists on the necessity of disciplinary autonomy and argues for a sharp demarcation of design from both art and engineering Schumacher accordingly argues controversially that design as a discipline has its own sui generis intelligence with its own internal logic reach and limitations Whereas the first volume provides the theoretical groundwork for Schumacher's ideas focusing on architecture as an autopoietic system with its own theory history medium and its unique societal function the second volume addresses the specific contemporary challenges and tasks that architecture faces It formulates these tasks looking specifically at how architecture is seeking to organize and articulate the complexity of post fordist network society The volume explicitly addresses how current architecture can upgrade its design methodology in the face of an increasingly demanding task environment characterized by both complexity and novelty Architecture's specific role within contemporary society is explained and its relationship to politics is clarified Finally the new global style of Parametricism is introduced and theoretically grounded Subnature David Gissen, 2012-03-20 We are conditioned over time to regard environmental forces such as dust mud gas smoke debris weeds and insects as inimical to architecture Much of today's discussion about sustainable and green design revolves around efforts to clean or filter out these primitive elements While mostly the direct result of human habitation these subnatural forces are nothing new In fact our ability to manage these forces has long defined the limits of civilized life From its origins architecture has been engaged in both fighting and embracing these so called destructive forces In Subnature David Gissen author of our critically acclaimed Big and Green examines experimental work by today's leading designers scholars philosophers and biologists that rejects the idea that humans can somehow recreate a purely natural world free of the untidy elements that actually constitute nature Each chapter provides an examination of a particular form of subnature and its actualization in contemporary design practice The exhilarating and at times unsettling work featured in Subnature suggests an alternative view of natural processes and ecosystems and their relationships to human society and architecture R Sie n s Mosquito Bottleneck house in Trinidad uses a skin that actually attracts mosquitoes and moves them through the building while keeping them separate from the occupants In his building designs the architect Philippe Rahm draws the dank air from the earth and the gasses and moisture from our breath to define new forms of spatial experience In his Underground House Mollier House and Omnisport Hall Rahm forces us to consider the odor of soil and the emissions from our body as the natural context of a future architecture Cero 9's design for the Magic Mountain captures excess heat emitted from a power generator in Ames Iowa to fuel a rose garden that embellishes the industrial site and creates a natural mountain rising above the city's skyline Subnature looks beyond LEED ratings green roofs and solar panels toward a progressive architecture based on a radical new conception of nature

Illustrated Dictionary of Historic Architecture Cyril M. Harris, 2013-02-28 This massive compendium contains over 2 000 line drawings and clear concise definitions for over 5 000 important terms relating to the architectural achievements of a great variety of world cultures ancient to modern

Digital Modernism Heritage Lexicon Cristiana Bartolomei, Alfonso Ippolito, Simone Helena Tanoue Vizioli, 2021-08-11 The book investigates the theme of Modernism 1920 1960 and its epigones as an integral part of tangible and intangible cultural heritage which contains the result of a whole range of disciplines whose aim is to identify document and preserve the memory of the past and the value of the future Including several chapters it contains research results relating to cultural heritage more specifically Modernism and current digital technologies This makes it possible to record and evaluate the changes that both undergo the first one from a material point of view the second one from the research point of view which integrates the traditional approach with an innovative one The purpose of the publication is to show the most recent studies on the modernist lexicon 100 years after its birth moving through different fields of cultural heritage from different forms of art to architecture from design to engineering from literature to history representation and restoration The book appeals to scholars and professionals who are involved in the process of understanding reading and comprehension the transformation that the places have undergone within the period under examination It will certainly foster the international exchange of knowledge that characterized Modernism

Introducing Architectural Theory Korydon Smith, Miguel Guitart, 2024-01-22 Building on the success of the first edition an engaging and reader friendly work on complex ideas Introducing Architectural Theory Expanding the

Disciplinary Debate broadens the range of themes voices and geographies represented to provide a more comprehensive and contemporary theory book This book presents major discourses in architectural theory and design in a debate like format integrating a series of edited texts across architectural history with context and newly written commentaries by the authors This new edition has been fully revised updated and expanded to include long standing debates such as simplicity vs complexity or the relationship between form and function as well as newer discussions on innovation globalization and social equity Authors Smith and Guitart provide a comprehensive means and conceptual framework for readers to compare multiple points of view The chapter structure discussion questions and additional resources allow teachers to facilitate in class discussions and writing assignments This book remains the most accessible architectural theory textbook written for beginning architecture students and those outside the discipline Its reflective and critical approach will equally engage the minds of upper level students and experts

Twisted Mehrdad Hadighi, Marc Neveu, 2018-12-01 Twisted documents and explores an eleven story garment factory building in Shantou China for the fashion label Lafayette 148 The book presents the building as an artifact of architecture with detailed documentation of images and drawings The book also presents essays that offer a series of distinct but interrelated responses to the many questions that arise when building a garment factory facility in contemporary China Issues addressed range from the architectural import of the building typology to the ecological footprint of a factory to social and architectural concerns regarding labor as well as construction practices to the ethics and aesthetics of factory building Clear tensions exist between the global and the local with respect to issues such as material economies labor relations working conditions and company branding The book investigates the role of design in all of this For what can the architect be held responsible in contemporary praxis Is it ultimately possible to address the social inequalities produced by global garment manufacturing through design This book is not a monograph but includes extensive documentation of the design process the development of working drawings construction technologies as well as the completed building and a post occupancy review of the building

Architectural Research Methods Linda N. Groat, David Wang, 2002-02-11 This work offers a survey of architectural research methods tools of technical aesthetic and environmental behavioural inquiry that go into the creation of the built information It covers methods such as quantitative and qualitative analysis

Creating Through Mind and Emotions Mário Ming Kong, Maria do Rosário Monteiro, Maria João Pereira Neto, 2022-07-01 The texts presented in Proportion Harmonies and Identities PHI Creating Through Mind and Emotions were compiled to establish a multidisciplinary platform for presenting interacting and disseminating research This platform also aims to foster the awareness and discussion on Creating Through Mind and Emotions focusing on different visions relevant to Architecture Arts and Humanities Design and Social Sciences and its importance and benefits for the sense of identity both individual and communal The idea of Creating Through Mind and Emotions has been a powerful motor for development since the Western Early Modern Age Its theoretical and practical foundations have become the working tools of scientists philosophers and artists who seek strategies and policies to accelerate the development process in different contexts
