Writing Between The Lines Composition In The Social Sciences:

Writing Between the Lines Douglas Flemons, 2001-12 An accessible guide for writers in the social sciences Author Douglas Flemons walks readers through the process of researching organizing creating and editing papers theses and dissertations The guiding premise here is that keeping track of relationships between words sentences and paragraphs will enable writers to compose clear thoughtful aesthetic prose Research Methods in Family Therapy Douglas H. Sprenkle, Fred P. Piercy, 2005-06-01 In this widely adopted text and professional reference leading contributors provide the knowledge needed to design strong qualitative quantitative and mixed method studies analyze the resulting data and translate findings into improved practices and programs Following a consistent format user friendly chapters thoroughly describe the various methodologies and illustrate their applications with helpful concrete examples Navigating the Academic Career Victor N. Shaw, 2013-03-01 There is an urgent need to provide academic professionals with individual institutional and contextual accounts of their careers and career making endeavors An individual account makes academicians think about what they do and how they might do it better An institutional account makes academicians reflect upon the organizational environment in which they function and ponder what they might do to improve it A contextual account connects academicians and their work to knowledge the knowledge enterprise and the larger social structure so that they know and understand the impact they and their career making efforts have on themselves academia and general social processes This book examines academic careers and career making activities with respect to their main aspects milestones and general pathways In content it divides into four identifiable parts Part I focuses on professional preparation It examines education degree reeducation job search and job change Part II centers on organizational employment It investigates position research teaching service and tenure Part III revolves around professional networking It looks into publication conference presentation application for grants and awards and membership in academic associations Part IV rises above specific issues It explores general career pathways and overall scholarly identity Career-Making in Postmodern Academia Victor N. Shaw, 2004 This volume examines academic careers and career making endeavors in contemporary society It serves as a critical forum for theoretical reflection and generalization a thought provoking reference for institutional innovation and reform and a down to earth guide for individual learning and practice In View of Academic Careers and Career-Making Scholars Victor N. Shaw, 2008-03-01 This volume connects career making to the general social context in which it takes place careermaking individuals to the large institutional establishment in which they operate and specifically career academicians to the overall knowledge enterprise from which they draw their intellectual inspiration on which they build their career achievements and to which they contribute their personal talents The main purpose is to explore what academic institutions the knowledge enterprise and the society as a whole can and ought to do to enhance productivity facilitate performance and improve experience of individual academicians in their career making endeavor

Although various innovative ideas are presented to improve normal procedures or standard processes throughout academia answers to this focal question often lie in different levels of organizational units involved in academic operation That is what should a department do for its faculty a college for its departments a university for its colleges an association for its member organizations or a government for its academic institutions in the best interest of the latter Similarly although reformative measures are proposed to the attention of established entities or institutionalized systems change within the existing situation or practice to a large degree depends upon how people in various social roles relate to each other in attitude as well as in behavior when they perform their specific job In other words what should a professor do for graduate students a senior scholar for junior colleagues a chair for faculty members a dean for chairs a university chancellor for deans an editor for authors or an association president for the general membership from the due perspective of the latter The logic or legitimacy of examining this focal question and its organizational unit and social role is clear a shining academician owes much to the support of his or her assistants students and followers a rising university builds on the productivity of its individual divisions and a thriving knowledge enterprise depends upon the success of individual career making scholars Beyond its own functionality and success by division of labor the higher level or the larger system has an inescapable responsibility to ensure that individual players or components therein grow develop and perform to the best of their potential In content this volume consists of sixteen chapters Chapter 1 identifies main pathways and stages in academic careers Chapters 2 5 focuses on the career process exploring major requirements that an academician has to work on and fulfill in his or her career making endeavor These requirements include educational preparation job search institutional placement and professional networking Chapters 6 15 centers on the career structure examining essential elements that a scholar has to build and maintain in his or her career identity These elements range from the academic degree position publication teaching presentation service grants awards and membership in academic associations to tenure The last chapter capitalizes on the curriculum vitae as a miniature of the academic personality that a career professional must present to the community of scholarship

The Ethnographic I Carolyn Ellis, 2004 Carolyn Ellis the leading proponent of autoethnography weaves both methodological advice and her own personal stories into an intriguing narrative about a fictional graduate course she instructs Through Ellis's interactions with her students you are given useful strategies for conducting a study including the need for introspection the struggles of the budding ethnographic writer the practical problems in explaining results of this method to outsiders and the moral and ethical issues that get raised in this intimate form of research

Advanced Interviewing Techniques Jack Schafer, Joe Navarro, 2022-12-29 Law enforcement officers face difficult challenges in light of the new social environment in which they must work With additional public scrutiny on police tactics and interviewing methods new techniques must be developed to address the changing political and social landscape Interviewing and interrogating methods must change in concert with the increased focus on community policing and the public demand to take a softer approach to interviewing and interrogation The new edition of this book presents positive interviewing techniques to conduct less intrusive non threatening interviews and interrogations without forfeiting investigative integrity Positive interviewing techniques focus on rapport building which serves as the keystone for successful interviews and interrogations Suspects and witnesses who like the people who are interviewing them are more likely to confess or provide information of value Positive interviewing relies on psychological principles instead of threats and coercion to obtain needed information The psychological principles presented in this book derive from proven psychological research and have been proven effective in the field As with the previous book editions this edition was written with working professionals in mind and contains advanced interviewing techniques Some basic topics emphasized in other interviewing books will not be addressed This book was designed as a quick reference guide rather than a comprehensive manual The enhanced outline format of the text and the extended Table of Contents provide for easy reference reading and comprehension The marketplace is replete with interviewing books and manuals however quickly locating information buried in thick manuscripts is costly and time consuming The style of this book is consistent with the manner in which law enforcement officers like to receive information quickly authoritatively and to the point
