Art, Trade, and

Cultural Mediation in Asia, 1600-1950 Raquel A. G. Reyes, 2018-12-12 This Palgrave Pivot explores the social and cultural impact of global trade at a micro level from around 1600 to 1950. Bringing together the collaborative skills of cultural, social, economic, and art historians, it examines how the diffusion of trade goods and objects affected people's everyday lives. The authors tell several stories of the role played by a host of intermediaries such as apothecaries, artisans, and missionaries who facilitated the process of objects such as Japanese export lacquer ware and paintings of how diverse artistic influences came to be expressed in colonial church architecture in the Philippines, of revolutionary changes wrought on quotidian tastes and preferences as shown in the interior decoration of private homes in the Dutch East Indies, and of transformations in the smoking and drinking habits of Southeast Asians. The chapters consider the conditions from which emerged new forms of artistic production and transfer fresh cultural interpretations and expanded markets for goods, objects, and images.

Creolization and Diaspora in the Portuguese Indies Stefan Halikowski Smith, 2011-09-20 This book provides an original study of the sizeable Portuguese community in Ayutthaya, the chief river state in Siam during a period of apparent decline, 1640-1720. Portuguese populations were displaced from their chief settlements like Melaka and Makassar and attracted to the river states of mainland South East Asia by a protective model of kingship, hopes of international trade, and the opportunity to harvest souls. A variety of sources will be used to shed light on the fortunes and make up of this displaced mixed race tribe which was largely independent of the matrices of Portuguese colonial power and fared poorly alongside other foreign communities in this remarkably open dynamic environment. Circumstances changed for the better after the National Revolution of 1688 when Portuguese started to fill many of the jobs at court and in commerce previously occupied by Frenchmen and northern Europeans.

Magic and Divination in Malay Illustrated Manuscripts Farouk Yahya, 2015-10-27 This book offers an integrated study of the texts and images of illustrated Malay manuscripts on magic and divination from private and public collections in Malaysia, the UK, and Indonesia. Containing some of the rare examples of Malay painting, these manuscripts provide direct evidence for the intercultural connections between the Malay region, other parts of Southeast Asia, and the rest of the world. In this richly illustrated volume, many images and texts are gathered for the first time, making this book essential reading for all those interested in the practice of magic and divination and the history of Malay, Southeast Asian, and Islamic manuscript art.

Baptizing Burma Alexandra Kaloyanides, 2023-06-20 Shortlisted 2024 EuroSEAS Book Prize in the Humanities European Association for Southeast Asian Studies. In July 1813, a young American couple from Boston arrived in Rangoon to preach the gospel.
