

A stylized, high-contrast illustration in white and yellow on a dark background. It depicts a car, possibly a convertible, driving on a road that curves up a hill. The car is shown from a side profile, with its headlights and wheels visible. The hill in the background is rendered with bold, sweeping lines, suggesting a steep incline. The overall style is graphic and evocative, typical of mid-20th-century book cover art.

The Rise of the Memoir Alex Zwerdling, 2017 The Rise of the Memoir traces the growth and extraordinarily wide appeal of the memoir Its territory is private rather than public life shame guilt and embarrassment not the achievements celebrated in the public record What accounts for the sharp need writers like Rousseau Woolf Orwell Nabokov Primo Levi and Maxine Hong Kingston felt to write and to publish such works when they might more easily have chosen to remain silent Alex Zwerdling explores why each of these writers felt compelled to write them as that story can be reconstructed from personal materials available in archival collections what internal conflicts they encountered while trying and how each of them resisted the private and public pressures to stop themselves rather than pursuing this confessional route against their own doubts without a reasonable expectation that such works would be welcome in print and eventually find an empathetic audience Reconstructing this process in which a dubious project eventually becomes a compelling product a memoir that will last illuminates both what was at stake and why this serially invented open form has reshaped the expectations of readers who welcomed a vital alternative to the official story This Boy's Life Perfection Learning Corporation,2010 Tobias Wolff's This Boy's Life Sue Sherman,2014 Insight Text Guides are written by highly qualified specialists in the relevant area of literature or film All writers are experienced teachers at secondary or tertiary level and present clear comprehensive and accessible analyses for students This guide to Tobias Wolff s memoir covers context and background genre narrative structure and style language characters and themes Cart's Top 200 Adult Books for Young Adults Michael Cart,2013-02-21 Author of the bestseller Young Adult Literature From Romance to Realism Cart applies his considerable expertise as columnist and critic for Booklist to identifying 200 exceptional adult books that will satisfy a variety of young adults recreational reading tastes Features only the best of the best no cheesy star bios or chick lit lite here Makes finding a great book easy with multiple indexes and thorough annotation
