Eco-Homes Doctor Jenny Pickerill, 2016-01-15 It is widely understood that good affordable eco housing needs to be at the heart of any attempt to mitigate or adapt to climate change This is the first book to comprehensively explore eco housing from a geographical social and political perspective It starts from the premise that we already know how to build good eco houses and we already have the technology to retrofit existing housing Despite this relatively few eco houses are being built Featuring over thirty case studies of eco housing in Britain Spain Thailand Argentina and the United States Eco Homes examines the ways in which radical changes to our houses such as making them more temporary using natural materials or relying on manual heating and ventilation systems require changes in how we live As such it argues it is not lack of technology or political will that is holding us back from responding to climate change but deep rooted cultural and social understandings of our way of life and what we expect our houses to do for us Cultural Studies of Transnationalism Handel Wright, Meaghan Morris, 2013-09-13 This book asks what transnationalism might mean for Cultural Studies as an intellectual project shaped in vastly differing circumstances across the world With contributions from scholars with experience of cultural life and the work of education in various regions countries and locales from francophone Africa Eastern Europe and the Middle East to Hawaii Jamaica South Korea and Japan Cultural Studies of Transnationalism ranges across literary film dance theatrical and translation studies to explore the socially material and institutional factors that not only shape transnational developments in culture broadly understood but also frame the academic and professional spaces in which we reflect on these This book was originally published as a special issue of the journal Cultural Studies Race, Gender, and Curriculum Theorizing Denise Taliaferro Baszile, Kirsten T. Edwards, Nichole A. Guillory, 2016-11-15 Race Gender and Curriculum Theorizing Working in Womanish Ways recognizes and represents the significance of Black feminist and womanist theorizing within curriculum theorizing In this collection a vibrant group of women of color who do curriculum work reflect on a Black feminist womanist scholar text and or concept speaking to how it has both influenced and enriched their work as scholar activists Black feminist and womanist theorizing plays a dynamic role in the development of women of color in academia and gets folded into our thinking and doing as scholar activists who teach write profess express organize engage community educate do curriculum theory heal and love in the struggle for a more just world Theorizing Composition Mary Kennedy, 1998-06-25 The last 25 years have witnessed extraordinary growth in the academic specialization variously described as composition studies or rhetoric and composition What was noticeable about the field in its infancy was a preoccupation with practice a lack of emphasis on theory and an exclusive reliance on the writing process As its disciplinary status has grown the field has become far more theoretical Composition studies has expanded its focus reconceptualized the writing process and embraced a wide range of critical perspectives The result of this change is that terms such as poststructuralism social construction gender and genre which were largely unknown in 1965 now dominate discussion This reference book is a guide to the multiplicity of theories that have emerged to form the disciplinary foundation of composition studies The volume consists of 66 entries each of which is written by an expert contributor and focuses on a particular theory or group of theories While the entries show how various individuals have contributed to theoretical movements very few concentrate on the work of a single theorist Each entry first provides a critical summary of a particular theory or group of theories including key elements basic concepts and claims and information about seminal or particularly influential works It then reviews the theory s critical reception in composition studies and discusses its significance in the field The bibliography at the end of each entry lists primary texts and major scholarship related to the theory and provides additional suggestions for further reading The volume closes with a selected bibliography of important works Education and Cultural Studies Henry A. Giroux, Patrick Shannon, 2013-12-02 Although the disciplines of critical education and cultural studies have traditionally occupied separate spaces as they have addressed different audiences their concerns as well as the political and pedagogical nature of their work overlap Education and Cultural Studies brings members of these two groups together to demonstrate how a critical understanding of culture and education can transgressively implement broad political change All written from within this framework of cultural studies and critical pedagogy the contributors illuminate the possibilities and opportunities open to practicing educators In eschewing a romantic utopianism and in assessing the current climate of what is attainable and practical this book teaches us how we can begin to translate and perhaps even transform the vexing social problems that confront us daily Contributors include Carol Becker Harvey J Kaye David Theo Goldberg Jeffrey Williams Sharon Todd Douglas Kellner Deborah Britzman Jacqueline Reid Walsh Claudia Mitchell Cameron McCarthy Mike Hill Susan Searls Stanley Aronowitz Douglas Noble Kakie Urch Henry Giroux David Trend and Robert Mikilitsch Resonances of Slavery in Race/Gender Relations J. Flax, 2010-11-14 Jane Flax argues that a reciprocal relationship exists between unconscious processes and race gender domination and that unless we attend to these unconscious processes no adequate remedy for the malignant consequences of our current race gender practices and relations can be devised Flax supports her arguments using a variety of sources
