Zimbabwe's Casino Economy Extraordinary Measures For Extraordinary Challenges:

Zimbabwe's Casino Economy Gideon Gono, 2008 This is the remarkable first hand account of the tenure of the Governor of the Reserve Bank of Zimbabwe from December 2003 until November 2008 A close colleague of President Robert Mugabe he explains why he cherishes that opportunity to serve him and his country A number of beliefs underpin his account of his tenure every nation seeks development in terms of economic growth equity social cohesion political stability democracy and human rights as well as sovereignty or national autonomy in international affairs and his account is therefore in a development context the object of public policy He contends that Zimbabweans have been denied the pursuit of development which is in a precarious state because of illegal economic sanctions imposed on Zimbabwe by Britain and its allies who have sought regime change in the country and because of serious gaps and weaknesses in the policy response to the sanctions by both the government and the business community in our country The result of political turmoil and market failure is that order and stability have been compromised and the Zimbabwe economy is now drive by a casino ethic with devastating effects He outlines the Reserve bank response to the challenges and concludes by mapping a socio economic roadmap for reform and recovery After an introductory bio professional note the chapters cover The Invisible Hand s Dirty Politics The Market Economy as a Casino Economy Corrupting Banking and the Stock Exchange Illegal Sanctions as Terrorism When Things Fell Apart Taking a New Direction Tackling the Casino Economy Beyond the Casino Economy Economic and Monetary Sovereignty in 21st Century Africa Maha Ben Gadha, Fadhel Kaboub, Kai Koddenbrock, Ines Mahmoud, Ndongo Samba Sylla, 2021-12-20 Over forty years after the formal end of colonialism suffocating ties to Western financial systems continue to prevent African countries from achieving any meaningful monetary sovereignty Economic and Monetary Sovereignty in 21st Century Africa traces the recent history of African monetary and financial dependencies looking at the ways African nations are resisting colonial legacies Using a comparative multi disciplinary approach this book uncovers what went wrong after the Pan African approaches that defined the early stages of independence and how most African economies fell into the firm grip of the IMF World Bank and the EU s strict neoliberal policies This collection is the first to offer a wide ranging comparative and historical look at how African societies have attempted to increase their policy influence and move beyond neoliberal orthodoxy and US dollar dependency Economic and Monetary Sovereignty in 21st Century Africa is essential reading for anyone interested in the African quest for self determination in a turbulent world of recurring economic and financial crisis Zimbos Never Die?, 2023-05-08 This book seeks to explore how the Zimbabwean society and its institutions have survived if not succumbed to continuous economic crises in the country From the 1990s Zimbabwe experienced a sustained economic decline challenged by both internal and external strains Coupled with internal mis governance and corruption the nation plunged into a political and economic crisis which culminated in the second highest world inflation rate for an economy that is not at war In the face of the harsh and continuously deteriorating economic environments Zimbabweans as individuals as well as part of institutions adopted various strategies to negotiate and survive the economic scourge Contributors include Wellington Bamu Nathaniel Chimhete Anusa Daimon Innocent Dande Sylvester Dombo Tinotenda Dube Rudo Gaidzanwa Tafara Evelyn Kombora Ushehweu Kufakurinani Bernard Kusena Eric Kushinga Makombe Albert Makochekanwa Blessed Masawi Ivo Mhike Joseph P Mtisi Joseph Mujere Wesley Mwatwara Pius S Nyambara Tinashe Nyamunda Mark Nyandoro Takesure Taringana and Nicola Yon Mutimurefu Kanyenze: Zimbabwe:

Jones, 2011-11-01 There are plenty of books on specialized risk topics but few that deal with the broad diversity and daily applicability of this subject Risk applications require a robust knowledge of many attributes of this seemingly simple subject This book teaches the reader through examples and case studies the fundamental and subtle aspects of risk regardless of the specific situation The text allows the reader to understand the concept of risk analysis while not getting too involved in the mathematics in this method the reader can apply these techniques across a wide range of situations The second edition includes new examples from NASA and several other industries as well as new case studies from legal databases The many real life discussion topics enable the reader to form an understanding of the concepts of risk and risk management and apply them to day to day issues Myths of Peace and Democracy? Transformation in Africa Mawere, Munyaradzi, Marongwe, Ngonidzashe, 2016-09-01 The myths of peace and democracy in Africa are at the heart of this volume Democracy and peace have become buzz words across postcolonial Africa The gospel of democracy and peace is preached by national governments and by civil society and international organisations alike But to what extent are the ongoing sideshows and charades of quasi oligarchies in Africa really democracy What do ordinary Africans mean when they hunger and thirst for democracy and peace Positive and noble as the loud sounding rhetoric about democracy and peace in Africa might seem the reality of propaganda and dissemblance and of multi dimensional violence are simply too overwhelming not to be disillusioning This book interrogates the rampant violence enduring conflicts autocratic governance and facades of democracy amidst claims and calls for enduring peace on the continent This is a monumental resource book for human rights activists conflict management practitioners civil society activists political scientists statesmen and development practitioners It poses a challenge to those African governments who claim to embrace principles of democracy and respect for human rights to rethink and reconsider their role as ambassadors of peace hope transformation and good governance Where Credit is Due Gregory Smith, 2021-12-01 Analyzes the strategy of many African countries

Violence, Politics and Conflict Management in Africa Munyaradzi Mawere, Ngonidzashe Marongwe, 2016-09-01 This volume critically interrogates from different angles and dimensions the resilience of conflict and violence into 21st century Africa. The demise of European colonial administration in Africa in the 1960s wielded fervent hope for enduring peace for the people of Africa. Regrettably, conflict alongside violence in all its dimensions—physical, religious, political, psychological, and structural—remain unabated and occupy central stage in contemporary Africa. The resilience of conflict and violence on the continental scene invokes unsettling memories of the past while negatively influencing the present and future of crafting inclusive citizenship and statehood. The book provides fresh insightful ethnographic and intellectual material for rethinking violence and conflict and for fostering long-lasting peace and political justice on the continent and beyond. With its penetrating focus on conflict and associated trajectories of violence in Africa, the book is an inestimable asset for conflict management practitioners, political scientists, historians, civil society activists, and leaders in economics and politics, as well as all those interested in the affairs of Africa.

Zimbabwe@40 Lloyd Sachikonye, David Kaulemu, 2021-05-17 Zimbabwe 40 is a celebration of the country's four decades of independence and statehood. Forty years is a relatively short period in a nation's life, but it is a formative period. What lessons can be learnt from the successes and failures, challenges and opportunities of the last 40 years? What should be avoided in the next 40? Lloyd Sachikonye and David Kaulemu have assembled a distinguished team of scholars to address these questions, and the book focuses on issues that characterise the country's development trajectory: the linkage between values and institutions, defects in its democracy, the curse of mineral and agricultural endowment, the impact of migration and the social exclusion of women and young people. The book is written from a depth of commitment to a just, peaceful, and prosperous Zimbabwe and represents a work in progress reflecting the continuing research, evaluation, and dialogue that each of the authors is engaged in, signalling the nature and direction of future work. As the editors conclude, none of the chapters are pessimistic nor are they negative about the country. They are realistic about the gravity of the historical moment the nation faces and the high moral, political, and economic mountains we must climb before we can see the Promised Land. Yet they are full of hope; they are convinced that we have not come to the end of history.

Relationality and Resilience in a Not So Relational World? Artwell Nhemachena, 2017-03-08 This book critically examines the relevance of the increasingly popular theories on relationality by interfacing those theories with the African Shona modes of engagement known as chivanhu, often erroneously narrowly translated as tradition. In other words, the book takes seriously concerns by African scholars that much of the theories that have been applied in Africa do not speak to relevance and faithfulness to the continent. Situated in a recent Zimbabwean context marked by multiple crises producing multiple forms of violence, the book examines the relevance of relational ontologies and epistemologies to the everyday life modes of engagements by villagers in a selected district. The book unflinchingly surfaces the strengths and weaknesses of popular theories while at the same time underlining the exigencies of theorising from Africa using African data as the millstones. By meticulously and painstakingly unpacking pertinent issues, the book provides unparalleled intellectual grit for the contemporary and increasingly popular discourses on decoloniality and resilience in relation to the African peoples and their often deliberately contested environments past, present and future. In other words, the book loudly sounds the bells for the battles to decolonise and transform Africa on Africa's own terms. This is a book that would be extremely useful to scholars, activists, theorists, policy makers and implementers as well as researchers interested not only in Africa's future trajectory but also in the simultaneities of temporalities and worlds that were sadly overshadowed by colonial epistemologies and ontologies for the past centuries.

Land and Agrarian Reform in Zimbabwe Sam Moyo, Walter Chambati, 2013. The Fast Track Land Reform Programme implemented during the 2000s in Zimbabwe represents the only instance of radical redistributive land reforms since the end of the Cold War. It reversed the racially skewed agrarian structure and discriminatory land tenures inherited from colonial rule. The land reform also radicalised the state towards a nationalist introverted accumulation strategy against a broad array of unilateral Western sanctions. Indeed, Zimbabwe's land reform in its social and political dynamics must be compared to the leading land reforms of the twentieth century which include those of Mexico, Russia, China, Japan, South Korea, Taiwan, Cuba and Mozambique. The fact that the Zimbabwe case has not been recognised as vanguard nationalism has much to do with the intellectual structural adjustment which has accompanied neoliberalism and a hostile media campaign. This has entailed dubious theories of neopatrimonialism which reduce African politics and the state to endemic corruption, patronage and tribalism while overstating the virtues of neoliberal good governance. Under this racist repertoire, it has been impossible to see class politics, mass mobilisation and resistance, let alone believe that something progressive can occur in Africa. This book comes to a conclusion that the Zimbabwe land reform represents a new form of resistance with distinct and innovative characteristics when compared to other cases of radicalisation, reform and resistance. The process of reform and resistance has entailed the deliberate creation of a tri-modal agrarian structure to accommodate and balance the interests of various domestic classes, the progressive restructuring of labour relations and agrarian markets, the continuing pressures for radical reforms through the indigenisation of mining and other sectors and the rise of extensive albeit relatively weak producer cooperative structures. The book also highlights some of the resonances between the Zimbabwean land struggles and those on the continent as well as in the South in general, arguing that there are some convergences and divergences worthy of intellectual attention. The book thus calls for greater endogenous empirical research which overcomes the preoccupation with failed interpretations of the nature of the state and agency in Africa.

Securitising Monstrous Bottoms in the Age of Posthuman Carnavalesque? Artwell Nhemachena, Munyaradzi Mawere, 2020-07-03. Placing security studies in the context of contemporary discourses about the colonial comeback and posthumanism, this book postulates the notion of staticide which avers that the effacement of African state sovereignty is crucial for the security of the oncoming empire Understood in the light of posthumanism antihumanism animism postanthropocentrism and transhumanism African human security has evidently been put on a recession course together with African state security Much as African states are demonised as so failed defective corrupt weak and rogue to require recolonisation transhumanism also assumes that human bodies are so corrupt imperfect defective failed rogue and weak to require not only enhancements or augmentation but also to beckon recolonisation Also deemed to be ecologies human bodies are set to be liberalised and democratised in the interest of nonhuman viruses nanobots microchips bacteria fungi and other pathogens living within the bodies The book critically examines the security implications of theorising human bodies as ecologies for nonhuman entities Reading staticide together with transhumanism this book foresees transhumanist new eugenics that are accompanying the new empire in a supposedly Anthropocene world that serves to justify the sacrifice and disposability of some surplus humans living in the recesses and nether regions of the empire Paying attention to the colonial comeback the book urges African scholars not to mistake imperial transformation for decolonisation The book is invaluable for scholars and activists in African studies anthropology decoloniality sociology politics development studies security studies sociology and anthropology of science and technology studies and environmental studies Economic Management in a Hyperinflationary Environment George Kararach, Raphael O.

Dream. Rethinking Educational Transformation in Zimbabwe Shizha, Edward, 2013-12-07 The role of education in human well being and social development cannot be overestimated After a number of highly commendable policies on education in the first decade of independence the education system in Zimbabwe has taken a tumble that needs both examining and rectifying This volume analyses the challenges facing the education system in Zimbabwe and explores and scrutinises theoretical and practical possibilities for restoring the educational dream that was initiated at independence in 1980 The book is targeted at academics scholars college and university students policy makers and other stakeholders and advocates a multi pronged approach that must involve all stakeholders if educational retransformation reconstruction and restoration are to be achieved The authors provide a range of recommendations for a project that would restore the educational dream in Zimbabwe Powered by Faith Tapiwa Praise Mapuranga, 2018-11-30 This book investigates the impact of Pentecostalism on the participation of women in business in Harare Zimbabwe Chapters in this volume trace the history of women's participation in business and highlight how Pentecostalism serves as a major motivating factor The central argument is that there is a way in which selected women's businesses are powered by the Spirit Contributors to the volume utilize case studies of selected Pentecostal churches and ministries to highlight how the religious ideologies of these churches galvanize them to engage in business They also draw patterns of similarity and difference across the different Pentecostal churches The volume demonstrates how Pentecostalism both facilitates and militates against women's participation in business concerning a specific setting in Zimbabwe Transnational Land Grabs and Restitution in an Age of the (De-) Militarised New Scramble for Africa: A Pan African Socio-Legal Warikandwa, Tapiwa V., Nhemachena, Artwell, 2017-09-26 One of the fundamental challenges in deconstructing rethinking and remaking the world from a Pan African vantage point is that some captives have tended to delight in the warmth of the imperial predator's mouth In other words some captives forget that the imperial predator's mouth gets warm because empire is eating and heating up from prey on the continent De Militarisation Transnational Land Grabs and Restitution in an Age of the New Scramble for Africa A Pan African Socio Legal Perspective is a book that knocks on key aspects relating to land militarisation a Post African World Order and a chaotic Post God World Order which require critical scholarly and policy attention in the quest to free Africa from centuries old imperial depredations The book carefully navigates the imperial entrapments which are designed to focus African attention only on decolonising African minds without also engaging in the imperially more unsettling decolonisation of African materialities Urban Social Capital Gregory W. Streich, 2016-02-11 This volume presents a kaleidoscopic view of the norms and forms of contemporary city life focusing especially on the processes of social capital de formation in the urban milieu It brings together studies from highly diverse urban settings such as squatter re settlement projects in Kathmandu urban funeral societies in Africa an HIV AIDS community in Los Angeles the poor of Harare pensioners in Shanghai Maori gangs in Auckland and a Roma boxing club in Prague among others Contributors draw on contemporary theory and research in social capital political economy urban planning and policy social movements civil society and democracy to explore how social norms networks connections and ties are created deployed and often frayed under conditions of social complexity inequality cultural pluralism and the ethno racial diversity and division characteristic of urban contexts throughout the world In this way the volume engages in a genuinely globalized and globalizing discussion of contemporary urban social life and stands as a unique and timely interdisciplinary contribution to the ever expanding literature devoted to social capital Lived Experiences of Borderland Communities in Zimbabwe Nedson Pophiwa, Joshua Matanzima, Kirk Helliker, 2023-06-27 This book examines the national borders and borderlands of Zimbabwe through the presentation of empirically rich case studies It delves into the lived experiences both past and present of populations residing along the borders between

Zimbabwe and its neighbours i e Zambia Botswana South Africa and Mozambique It locates these lived experiences within the political economy of Zimbabwe and highlights a wide range of themes pertinent to borders including health COVID 19 marginalisation resource access conservation human wildlife conflicts civil wars politico economic crises border jumping and cross border trade The borderland communities discussed also include ethnic minorities such as the Tonga San Ndauro Shangane and Kalanga Overall the book demonstrates the centrality of borders to the Zimbabwean nation state and the importance of reading history politics and society from the borderlands The book fits into the wider prevailing literature of border and borderlands in Africa and beyond and thus has appeal far beyond Zimbabwe Its diverse themes also relate to topics covered in multiple disciplines including history anthropology and sociology Academics development specialists and policy makers will benefit in different ways from the depth and breadth of the analysis in the book

War Veterans in Zimbabwe's Revolution Zvakanyorwa Wilbert Sadomba, 2011 An insider's view of the land issue and farm invasions in Zimbabwe this book gives a different perspective than is normally heard revealing much about the tensions within Zimbabwean society and between the war veterans and the ruling party

Resilience Under Siege Ezra Chitando, Munyaradzi Nyakudya, Government Phiri, 2016-04-26 This volume explores the challenges and solutions experienced within Zimbabwe's economic and social spheres with particular reference to the crisis years 2000 2008 and the promising turn 2009 2012 This latter phase was prompted by the formation of the Government of National Unity GNU The contributors to the volume pay attention to how individuals and institutions sought to respond to the crisis critiquing the reactions of various actors and exploring solutions to the various challenges that were experienced Chapters in this book include reviews of agricultural subsidies a gendered approach to poverty the collapse of service delivery including a particular focus on education the look East policy the expansion of the religious sector and the experiences of Zimbabwean migrants in South Africa Underlying these contributions are the concepts of resilience and agency The authors all highlight the massive challenges that individuals and institutions had to navigate and acknowledge the creativity deployed in such quests This book will appeal to scholars in economics history and economic history religious studies education and political science as well as the general reader
