The Big Smallness Michelle Ann Abate, 2016-02-12 This book is the first full length critical study to explore the rapidly growing cadre of amateur authored independently published and niche market picture books that have been released during the opening decades of the twenty first century Emerging from a powerful combination of the ease and affordability of desktop publishing software the promotional marketing and distribution possibilities allowed by the Internet and the tremendous national divisiveness over contentious socio political issues these texts embody a shift in how narratives for young people are being creatively conceived materially constructed and socially consumed in the United States Abate explores how titles such as My Parents Open Carry about gun laws It's Just a Plant about marijuana policy and My Beautiful Mommy about the plastic surgery industry occupy important battle stations in ongoing partisan conflicts while they are simultaneously changing the landscape of American children's literature The book demonstrates how texts like Little Zizi and Me Tarzan You Jane mark the advent of not simply a new commercial strategy in texts for young readers they embody a paradigm shift in the way that narratives are being conceived constructed and consumed Niche market picture books can be seen as a telling barometer about public perceptions concerning children and the social construction of childhood as well as the function of narratives for young readers in the twenty first century At the same time these texts reveal compelling new insights about the complex interaction among American print culture children's reading practices and consumer capitalism Amateur authored self published and specialty subject titles reveal the way in which children's childhood and children's literature are both highly political and heavily politicized in the United States The book will be of interest to scholars and students in the fields of American Studies children's literature childhood studies popular culture political science microeconomics psychology advertising book history education and gender studies

Interpreting Early Modern Europe

C. Scott Dixon, Beat Kümin, 2019-09-11 Interpreting Early Modern Europe is a comprehensive collection of essays on the historiography of the early modern period circa 1450-1800 Concerned with the principles priorities theories and narratives behind the writing of early modern history the book places particular emphasis on developments in recent scholarship Each chapter written by a prominent historian caught up in the debates is devoted to the varieties of interpretation relating to a specific theme or field considered integral to understanding the age providing readers with a behind the scenes look at how historians have worked and still work within these fields At one level the emphasis is historiographical with the essays engaged in a direct dialogue with the influential theories methods assumptions and conclusions in each of the fields At another level the contributions emphasise the historical dimensions of interpretation providing readers with surveys of the component parts that make up the modern narratives Supported by extensive bibliographies primary materials and appendices with extracts from key secondary debates Interpreting Early Modern Europe provides a systematic exploration of how historians have shaped the study of the early modern past It is essential reading for students of early modern history For

Christman, 2022-10-18 In this Kierkegaardian reading of Mark's Gospel two of the most creative and passionate witnesses of Christ's gospel are brought together to mutually inform its superlative wonder Both writers winsomely revealed the nature of human existence in sin and the new life Jesus lived and made possible for all as the paradoxical God-man They highlighted the single individual against the frenzied crowd in untruth driven by despair whether conscious or unconscious and vulnerable to enticing publicity and deceptive propaganda The entrenched societal systems unjustly determined for time and eternity who God favored or disfavored In dramatic contrast Mark and Kierkegaard both elucidated God's good news calling forth the highest and happy passion of faith capable of creating a new family unconstrained by the status quo of the established order's old wineskin In short through the gospel they powerfully challenged the system whether modern Christendom or its first century equivalent and did so by merely following Jesus out over 70 000 fathoms weathering demonic storms and overcoming dehumanizing societal bureaucracies set against them and humanity at large This Kierkegaardian reading of Mark reveals two kindred spirits after Christ's spirit demonstrating the redemptive love of God for all humanity centered in Christ Struggles in the Concrete Mark

Crinson, Luisa Lorenza Corna, 2025-05-06 What are Marxist architectural history and criticism What methods do they employ and what are their objects of critical analysis These questions have been asked before but now more than ever they require reassessment in light of the continuous expansion and revision of Marxism in response to new global crises Struggles in the Concrete Architecture and the Marxist Tradition embarks on this endeavour The eleven chapters not only reconsider classical Marxist categories and historical conjunctures but also devise new critical frameworks for analysing architecture and capitalism today The book reconsiders neglected figures like Marta Lonzi Sergio Ferro and Anthony D King as well as re-engaging with major figures like Siegfried Kracauer Manfredo Tafuri and Stuart Hall Tool for critical thinking in the current architectural discourse on global crises Contributions by renowned architectural historians and theorists Claire Zimmerman Katie Lloyd Thomas Silke Kapp Nicholas Thoburn Onyeka Igwe From Lying to Perjury Laurence R. This volume provides new insights on lying and intentionally misleading in and out of the courtroom a timely topic for scholarship and society Not all deceptive statements are lies not every lie under oath amounts to perjury but what are the relevant criteria Taxonomies of falsehood based on illocutionary force utterance context and speakers intentions have been debated by linguists moral philosophers social psychologists and cognitive scientists Legal scholars have examined the boundary between actual perjury and garden variety lies The fourteen previously unpublished essays in this book apply theoretical and empirical tools to delineate the landscape of falsehood half truth perjury and verbal manipulation including puffery bluffing and bullshit The papers in this collection address conceptual and ethical aspects of lying vs misleading and the correlation of this opposition with the Gricean pragmatic distinction between what is said and what is implicated The questions of truth and lies addressed in this volume have long engaged the attention of scholars in linguistics philosophy psychology cognitive science organizational research and the law and researchers from all these fields will find this book of interest Carmen in Diaspora Associate Professor of English African & African Diaspora Studies and Comparative Literature Jennifer Wilks, 2024-11-08 Carmen in Diaspora is a cultural history of Carmen adaptations set in African diasporic contexts Beginning with Prosper Mérimée's novella and Georges Bizet's opera and continuing through twentieth and twentieth first century interpretations in literature film and musical theatre the book explores how opera's most famous character has exceeded the 19th century French context in which she was created and taken on a life of her own Through this transformation the Carmen figure has sparked important conversations not only about French culture and canonical opera but also about Black womanhood community and self determination Shattering Minds Anna Ovaska, 2023-09-07 This study offers a new perspective on unusual and unsettling experiences that are often interpreted as mental illnesses and on the techniques through which literary representations invite readerly responses and engagement The book examines how four Finnish modernist writers Helvi Hämäläinen Jorma Korpela Timo K. Mukka and Maria Vaara construct experiences of shattering and distress as bodily experiences that are embedded in the social and material world and entangled with social and cultural norms that govern subjectivity gender and sexuality Drawing on narrative theory theories of embodied cognition phenomenology of illness and feminist theory the analyses show how literary works can invite readers to respond emotionally and to reflect on our views of the human mind and its interaction with the world The book sheds light on the fictional portrayals and techniques of representation and on the ethics of narrating and reading about painful experiences It also illuminates the ways the mind body consciousness and mental distress are discussed in Finnish modernist literature and situates the texts in the international modernist tradition
