Microtravel Charles Forsdick, Zoë Kinsley, Kate Walchester, 2024-06-04 The 2020 COVID 19 pandemic imposed immobility on large sectors of the world's population with confinement becoming an everyday reality. The lives of those who previously enjoyed the privileges of being fast-travelers ground to a halt while at the same time the displacement of more vulnerable populations along well-established migration corridors has been radically reduced. The result has been a recalibration of the scale of journeying with travellers slowing down their journeys and readjusting their relationship to the proximate and nearby. This situation has provided an opportunity for those who study travel and travel writing to rethink their objects of study and approaches to them. This volume explores and historicizes the phenomenon of microtravel designating slower journeys within a limited radius which allow and sometimes necessitate new forms of experiencing the world. Women and the Collaborative Art of Gardens Victoria E. Pagán, Judith W. Page, 2023-11-30

Women and the Collaborative Art of Gardens explores the garden and its agency in the history of the built and natural environments as evidenced in landscape architecture literature art archaeology history photography and film. Throughout the book each chapter centers the act of collaboration from garden clubs of the early twentieth century as powerful models of women's leadership to the more intimate partnerships between family members to the delicate relationship between artist and subject. Women emerge in every chapter whether as gardeners designers owners writers illustrators photographers filmmakers or subjects but the contributors to this dynamic collection unseat common assumptions about the role of women in gardens to make manifest the significant ways in which women write themselves into the accounts of garden design practice and history. The book reveals the power of gardens to shape human existence even as humans shape gardens and their representations in a variety of media including brilliantly illuminated manuscripts intricately carved architectural spaces wall paintings black and white photographs and wood cuts. Ultimately the volume reveals that gardens are best apprehended when understood as products of collaboration. The book will be of interest to scholars and students of gardens and culture ancient Rome art history British literature medieval France film studies women's studies photography African American Studies and landscape architecture. William Wordsworth and the Invention of Tourism, 1820-1900 Saeko

Yoshikawa, 2016-02-17 In her study of the opening of the English Lake District to mass tourism Saeko Yoshikawa examines William Wordsworth's role in the rise and development of the region as a popular destination. For the middle classes on holiday guidebooks not only offered practical information but they also provided a fresh motive and a new model of appreciation by associating writers with places. The nineteenth century saw the invention of Robert Burns's and Walter Scott's Borders Shakespeare's Stratford and the Brontë Country as holiday locales for the middle classes. Investigating the international cult of Wordsworthian tourism Yoshikawa shows both how Wordsworth's public celebrity was constructed through the tourist industry and how the cultural identity of the Lake District was influenced by the poet's presence and works. Informed by extensive archival work her book provides an original case study of the contributions of Romantic writers to the invention of middle class tourism and the part guidebooks played in promoting the popular reputations of authors.

Wordsworth's Monastic Inheritance Jessica Fay, 2018 The first extended examination of the influence of monasticism on Wordsworth's writing Covering the poet's development between 1806 and 1822 it considers how a series of sources describing medieval monastic life in the north of England influenced Wordsworth's thinking about regional attachment trans historical community and national cohesion
