Voices In Black Political Thought African American Literature And Culture:

Voices in Black Political Thought Ricky K. Green, 2005 The Black community has historically suffered stasis on the political level W E B Du Bois originally identified the source of the stasis as a contradiction of political goals within individuals and Black culture During the last century the development of African American political organizations has institutionalized this contradiction of double aims That institutionalization is largely due to the energy and resources of two distinct and often contradicting political traditions Black nationalism and the Black American Jeremiad It is within a third tradition Black cultural pluralism that a possible discourse exists that can address the stasis within the Black community This book attempts to reconstruct the development of this third tradition and posits it as the most viable source of Black political development

Underserved Women of Color, Voice, and Resistance Sonja M. Brown Givens, Keisha Edwards Tassie, 2014-03-20 Contemporary research on the lives and experiences of women of color tends to neglect the influence of women's perceived access to voice as they manage tensions related to race class and gender Underserved Women of Color Voice and Resistance Claiming a Seat at the Table contributes to current dialogues that construct Black Feminist Theory as active critical engagement within dominant American institutions that oppress women of color in their daily lives Women of color face unique social challenges that exist at the intersections of race gender class and sexual orientation While some challenges are common to women of color others reflect the distinct journey each woman makes as she negotiates her identity within her family professional circle social and romantic relationships and community The editors have constructed a rich collection of voices in this work exploring the politics of women of color across various social contexts

African American Mystery Writers Frankie Y. Bailey, 2014-01-10 The book describes the movement by African American authors from slave narratives and antebellum newspapers into fiction writing and the subsequent developments of black genre fiction through the present It analyzes works by modern African American mystery writers focusing on sleuths the social locations of crime victims and offenders the notion of doing justice and the role of African American cultural vernacular in mystery fiction A final section focuses on readers and reading examining African American mystery writers access to the marketplace and the issue of the double audience raised by earlier writers

W.E.B. Du Bois and the Africana Rhetoric of Dealienation Monique Leslie Akassi, 2018-11-02 As the rich words from the African proverbs resonate into the twenty first century regarding the importance of identity and telling the stories of people of African descent through the eyes of the people the grand rhetorician and griot of the twentieth century Dr William Edward Burghardt Du Bois's infamous problem remains so today the problem of the colour line After the election of Barack Hussein Obama the first African American president of the United States after the Civil Rights Movement after Brown versus the Board of Education after the students right to their own language after Plessy versus Ferguson and the murders of innocent young African American males including Emmett Till Timothy Thomas Trayvon Martin John Crawford III Tamir Rice Jordan Davis Eric Garner and Mike Brown people of African descent are still battling with being labelled a problem in one's own country while the USA continues to strive for a post racial era W E B Du Bois's rhetoric and motives in general are more relevant today than ever in reassessing what he so eloquently describes and unveils through the phrase double consciousness in Souls of Black Folk 1903 through which he reveals the feeling of a problem This ground breaking volume featuring contributions from W E B Du Bois's great grandson Arthur McFarlane II among others is organized into three parts Part I focuses on the foundation of Du Bois's Africana Rhetoric through the origins of Africana Studies Pan Africanism and Africana Critical Theory Part II focuses on Du Bois's rhetorical strategies and rhetorical analyses in his scholarship and life Part III focuses on gender and sexuality in Du Bois's selected works This work the first of its kind devoted exclusively to Du Bois's rhetoric and motives can serve as a blueprint for today as the struggle toward a post racial society continues
