Conceptualising Women's Working Lives Wendy Patton, 2013-04-20 Theoretical work on the career development of women has travelled a journey from critique to creation Early work responded to and criticised a literature that focused on theorising male roles in a workplace that was conceptualised as providing vertical career paths primarily for middle class males More recently theorists are creating new constructions and frameworks to enable a more holistic understanding of career applicable to both women and men These constructions include broadening the discussion from women s careers to women s working lives This is the fifth book in the Sense Publishers Career Development Series It features the vibrant work of contributors from around the world writing in the field of women s working lives It emphasises the need to explore theoretical connections and understandings in order to facilitate a more holistic and inclusive understanding of women s working lives The writers in the current volume acknowledge the changing roles of women in both public and private spheres Women s roles in paid work are changing both in their nature and type of engagement In addition with an ageing population women s roles in care work are increasingly being extended from child care to aged care This book provides a history of theorising about women s careers in addition to presenting a focus on current empirical and theoretical work which contributes to understandings of women s working lives It s contributions both map the current discourse and challenge future work to extend the boundaries of that discourse

COVID-19 and Women's Health, 2nd edition Stephen Kennedy,Laura A. Magee,Stacey A. Missmer,Jayashri Kulkarni,Vassiliki Benetou,Marianne Vidler,Chelsea Morroni,2023-02-07 As a result of the Coronavirus disease COVID 19 pandemic the world is facing one of the greatest challenges we have experienced in over a century The economic consequences for society at large are potentially catastrophic The health and social care sectors have reacted by providing emergency care on an unprecedented scale while the scientific community has focused on developing new treatments and a vaccine to prevent future waves of the pandemic Evidence is emerging to suggest that certain conditions such as obesity and hypertension predispose some individuals to a worse outcome if they become infected and that women may be less likely to die from COVID 19 than men It is also currently believed that pregnant women are at no greater risk than the general population There is an urgent need to determine whether these early observations are correct Furthermore we need to be sure that pregnancy outcomes are not affected by COVID 19 and that SARS CoV 2 is not transmitted to the fetus during pregnancy or labour nor to the infant through breast milk There are so many questions that need to be answered to optimise care avoid harm reduce anxiety amongst women and their families and inform health professionals and policymakers We also need to understand the unintended consequences of the global lockdown on women s health in general For example have rates of domestic violence risen to what extent has women s mental health been affected and have women successfully adapted or devised new coping mechanisms have women been denied access to gynaecological treatments during the lockdown including safe abortion and if so with what impact on their health and wellbeing has the female work force suffered disproportionately in economic terms have national and international recommendations and policies been sufficiently gender neutral have breastfeeding rates been adversely affected will COVID 19 make attainment of the UN SDGs more difficult etc In keeping with the Scope Mission of Frontiers in Global Women s Health this Research Topic aims to provide a multi disciplinary platform to answer important COVID 19 related questions that specifically impact upon women s health and wellbeing particular in resource poor settings The Topic Editors welcome a broad range of contributions including Original Research Reviews Commentaries Study Protocols and Systematic Reviews We would like to acknowledge Dr Nathalie MacDermott and Dr Rhiannon George Carey who have acted as coordinators and have contributed to the preparation of the proposal for this Research Topic Given the exceptional nature of the COVID 19 situation Frontiers is waiving all article publishing charges for COVID 19 related research in this Research Topic Please note that manuscripts must be submitted by the deadline of December 31st The SAGE Handbook of Gender and Psychology Michelle K Ryan,Nyla R

Branscombe,2013-09-23 The SAGE Handbook of Gender and Psychology is a unique state of the art synthesis of the known work combined with current research trends in the broad field of gender and psychology In the past 35 years academic publications on the subject have increased tenfold and this level of activity as well the diversity of research looks set to increase in the coming years too The time is ideal for a systematic review of the field Contributions come from academics around the world and many different disciplines and as a result multiple perspectives and a diversity of methodologies are presented to understand gender and its implications for behaviour Chapters cover a wide variety of topics theoretical approaches contexts and social issues they also critically examine the key issues and current debates Both advanced students and scholars will find extensive range and depth in the topics covered across the Handbook s 29 chapters Published as a

Women in Prison Barbara H. Zaitzow, Jim Thomas, 2003 It is old news that the conditions and policies of women s prisons are different from those for incarcerated men Less evident however is how gender differences shape those policies and how gender identity and roles shape women s adaptation and resistance to prison culture and control The papers in this collection explore how the gender based attitudes that women bring to prison frame how they respond to the prison environment and how gender stereotypes continue to affect the treatment and opportunities of incarcerated women today It looks particularly at how the personal and social problems imported into the prison setting become part of the intricate web of prison culture and how extensively women s prison experience reflects the control and domination they experienced in the outside world
