Bessie Head and the Trauma of Exile Joshua Agbo, 2021-06-17 This book investigates themes of exile and oppression in Southern Africa across Bessie Head's novels and short fiction. An exile herself, arriving in Botswana as a South African refugee, Bessie Head's fiction serves as an important example of African exile literature. This book argues that Head's characters are driven to exile as a result of their socio-political ambivalence while still in South Africa, and that this sense of discomfort follows them to their new lives. Investigating themes of trauma and identity politics across colonial and post-colonial contexts, this book also addresses the important theme of black on black prejudice and hostility, which is often overlooked in studies of Head's work. Covering Head's shorter fiction as well as her major novels When Rain Clouds Gather (1969), Maru (1971), A Question of Power (1973), Serowe, Village of the Rain Wind (1981), and A Bewitched Crossroads, An African Saga (1984), this book will be of interest to researchers of African literature and postcolonial history.

An Introduction to the African Prose Narrative Lokangaka Losambe, 2004 This collection of essays introduces students of African literature to the heritage of the African prose narrative, starting from its oral base and covering its linguistic and cultural diversity. The book brings together essays on both the classics and the relatively new works in all subgenres of the African prose narrative, including the traditional epic, the novel, the short story, and the autobiography. The chapters are arranged according to the respective thematic paradigms under which the discussed works fall.

Postcolonial African Writers Siga Fatima Jagne, Pushpa Naidu Parekh, 2012-11-12 This reference book surveys the richness of postcolonial African literature. The volume begins with an introductory essay on postcolonial criticism and African writing, then presents alphabetically arranged profiles of some 60 writers, including Chinua Achebe, Nadine Gordimer, Bessie Head, Doris Lessing, Tsitsi Dangarembga, Tahar Ben Jelloun, among others. Each entry includes a brief biography, a discussion of major works and themes that appear in the author's writings, an overview of the critical response to the author's work, and a bibliography of primary and secondary sources. These profiles are written by expert contributors and reflect many different perspectives. The volume concludes with a selected general bibliography of the most important critical works on postcolonial African literature.

"Toubab La!" Literary Representations of Mixed-Race Characters in the African Diaspora Ginette Curry, 2009-05-05 The book is an examination of mixed-race characters from writers in the United States, the French and British Caribbean islands (Martinique, Guadeloupe, St. Lucia, and Jamaica), Europe (France and England), and Africa (Burkina Faso, South Africa, Botswana, and Senegal). The objective of this study is to capture a realistic view of the literature of the African diaspora as it pertains to biracial and multiracial people For example the expression Toubab La as used in the title is from the Wolof ethnic group in Senegal West Africa It means This is a white person or This is a black person who looks or acts white It is used as a metaphor to illustrate multiethnic people s plight in many areas of the African diaspora and how it has evolved The analysis addresses the different ways multiracial characters look at the world and how the world looks at them These characters experience historical economic sociological and emotional realities in various environments from either white or black people Their lineage as both white and black determines a new self making them constantly search for their identity Each section of the manuscript provides an in depth analysis of specific authors novels that is a window into their true experiences The first section is a study of mixed race characters in three acclaimed contemporary novels from the United States James McBride s The Color of Water 1996 Danzy Senna s Caucasia 1998 and Rebecca Walker s Black White and Jewish 2001 reveal the conflicting dynamics of being biracial in today s American society The second section is an examination of mixed race characters in the following French Caribbean novels Mayotte Cap cie s I Am a Martinican Woman 1948 Mich le Lacrosil s Cajou 1961 and Ravines du Devant Jour 1993 by Rapha l Confiat Section three is about their literary representations in Derek Walcott s What the Twilight Says 1970 Another life 1973 Dream on Monkey Mountain 1967 and Michelle Cliff s Abeng 1995 from the British Caribbean islands Section four is an in depth analysis of their plight in novels written by contemporary mulatto writers from Europe such as Marie N Diaye s Among Family 1997 Zadie Smith s White Teeth 2000 and Bernardine Evaristo s Lara 1997 Finally the last section of the book is a study of novels from West African and South African writers The analysis of Monique Ilboudo s Le Mal de Peau 2001 Bessie Head s A Woman Alone Autobiographical Writings 1990 and Abdoulaye Sadj i s Nini Mul tresse du S n gal 1947 concludes this literary journey that takes the readers through several continents at different points in time Overall this comprehensive study of mixed race characters in the literature of the African diaspora reveals not only the old but also the new ways they decline contest and refuse racial clich s Likewise the book unveils how these characters resist create reappropriate and revise fixed forms of identity in the African diaspora of the 20th and 21st century Most importantly it is also an examination of how the authors themselves deal with the complex reality of a multiracial identity

African Women Narrating Identity Rose A. Sackeyfio,2023-08-08 This book examines the complexities of women s lives in Africa and the transnational spaces of Europe and North America through the literary works of key African women writers Using a postcolonial analytical framework the book highlights the commonalities of African women s identities and experiences across national ethnic linguistic and religious boundaries in Africa and in western settings It collates the multi regional narratives of key African women writers who convey how women's lives are shaped by social economic and political factors at home and abroad. It also illustrates the intersection of ethnicity class and gender that flows through all the texts examined. Unlike existing works that explore African women's fiction, this book uncovers the transformation from postcolonial themes of nationhood to global modalities of post independence writing through the lens of gender. The book engages with feminist expression through broad themes including religion war and ethnic conflict, women's status in society, tradition and modernity and local and global tensions. A unique approach to literary criticism of Anglophone African women's writing, this book will be of interest to scholars and students in the field of African Literature, African Studies, Women's Literature, Postcolonial Literature, Cultural and Ethnic Studies and Migration and Diaspora Studies. South African Literary Studies Christopher J. Lee, Andrew Offenburger, 2025-09-22. The collection delves into crucial themes and debates in South African literature, addressing the innovative aesthetics of Black poetry, the political complexities of white writing, non-fiction's significance and the role of geography in South Africa's regional fiction. It particularly examines how literary works have engaged with the country's evolving post-apartheid identity and its place in global contexts. South African Literary Studies: A Safundi Reader on Genre, Method and Ideas 1999-2024 marks the culminating volume in a series celebrating Safundi's twenty-fifth anniversary. This comprehensive collection showcases the journal's evolution from its initial focus on US South African comparative histories to its embrace of a wider range of interdisciplinary and literary studies. Divided into seven sections, this volume explores a diverse set of literary approaches, including transnational comparisons featuring influential figures like Maya Angelou, Alan Paton, Zora Neale Hurston and Bessie Head. It further addresses the works of poets and novelists who have shaped South African literature, including Lesego Rampolokeng, Keorapetse Kgositsile and J. M. Coetzee, while also offering illuminating interviews with writers such as Chris Abani, C. A. Davids and Mark Behr. Through its exploration of various genres, methods and ideas, this volume retains Safundi's founding spirit of examining comparative and transnational connections while also demonstrating how literary criticism has become indispensable in defining South African culture and identity after apartheid. In Conversation with Bessie Head Mary S.

Lederer, 2020-12-24. In Conversation with Bessie Head shows how reading the novels and letters of Botswana's most influential writer, Bessie Head, fosters an ongoing conversation between reader and writer and is in fact a very personal undertaking. Each chapter tackles two parallel threads: the first regarding Mary S. Lederer's own history of reading Head, from her first purchase of Maru through completing a Ph.D. on Head's trilogy through living in Botswana and connecting with various aspects of Head's life to examining how reading Head has affected her own development as a human being. This history then ties each chapter into discussion of how Head develops her own vision of the brotherhood of man. Alongside critically informed discussion, Head's vision is examined through the prism of specific questions: Why is madness not a useful concept for understanding Head's ideas? Why did Head say she was not a feminist and what is the significance of male and female in her novels What is the relationship between individual race and community How can the nature of God be a clear expression of love but also an indistinct force for both good and evil Head s novels present opportunities for personal growth and through these conversations with her we become different readers

The Columbia Guide to South African Literature in English Since 1945 Gareth Cornwell,Dirk Klopper,Craig Mackenzie,2010-04-13 From the outset South Africa s history has been marked by division and conflict along racial and ethnic lines From 1948 until 1994 this division was formalized in the National Party s policy of apartheid Because apartheid intruded on every aspect of private and public life South African literature was preoccupied with the politics of race and social engineering Since the release from prison of Nelson Mandela in 1990 South Africa has been a new nation in the making inspired by a nonracial idealism yet beset by poverty and violence South African writers have responded in various ways to Njabulo Ndebele s call to rediscover the ordinary The result has been a kaleidoscope of texts in which evolving cultural forms and modes of identity are rearticulated and explored An invaluable guide for general readers as well as scholars of African literary history this comprehensive text celebrates the multiple traditions and exciting future of the South African voice Although the South African Constitution of 1994 recognizes no fewer than eleven official languages English has remained the country s literary lingua franca This book offers a narrative overview of South African literary production in English from 1945 to the postapartheid present An introduction identifies the most interesting and noteworthy writing from the period Alphabetical entries provide accurate and objective information on genres and writers An appendix lists essential authors published before 1945

Legacies of Departed African Women Writers Helen O. Chukwuma,Chioma Carol Opara,2022-08-29 Legacies of Departed African Women Writers Matrix of Creativity and Power proffers varied perspectives of the invaluable contributions of ten deceased African writers from all across Africa who have cleared the path to a vibrant African feminist arena The dynamics of change gleaned from both their textual and contextual concerns unarguably set the pace for contemporary African women writers who have striven to follow in the footsteps of their literary mothers as well as their oral foremothers This book edited by Helen Chukwuma and Chioma Carol Opara shows the collective testament of ample creativity and power generated by these departed heroes Flora Nwapa Mariama Ba Grace Ogot Zulu Sofola Bessie Head Buchi Emecheta Nawal El Saadawi Assia Djebar Yvonne Vera and Nadine Gordimer These chapters revolve around the positive impact of the celebrated writers on creative writing theoretical formulations and socio cultural change The contributors argue that these corpuses of works have illuminated creativity rooted in power vision and freedom
