Basic Elements of Plane Space

Art contains its own language, and the composition of the plastic art language is mainly composed of morphological elements: point, line, face, body, color and texture.

KNOW THE POINTS

At the same time, the interpretation of "GI Hail" is small traces. In geometry, a point only has a position, while in morphology, a point also has modeling elements such as size, shape, and texture. In nature, the sand and stones on the seashore are points, the raindrops falling on the glass windows are points, the stars in the night sky are points, and the dust in the air is also points.
