THE TRUE SPIRIT AND ORIGINAL INTENT OF TREATY 7

TREATY 7 ELDERS AND TRIBAL COUNCIL

WITH WALTER HILDEBRANDT, SARAH CARTER, AND DOROTHY FIRST RIDER

The True Spirit And Original Intent Of Treaty 7

Walter Hildebrandt, Dorothy First Rider, Sarah Carter

The True Spirit And Original Intent Of Treaty 7:

True Spirit and Original Intent of Treaty 7 Walter Hildebrandt, Dorothy First Rider, Sarah Carter, 1996 There are several historical accounts of the Treaty 7 agreement between the government and prairie First Nations but none from the perspective of the aboriginal people involved In spite of their perceived silence however the elders of each nation involved have maintained an oral history of events passing on from generation to generation many stories about the circumstances surrounding Treaty 7 and the subsequent administration of the agreement The True Spirit and Original Intent of Treaty 7 gathers the collective memory of the elders about Treaty 7 to provide unique insights into a crucial historical event and the complex ways of the aboriginal people From Treaties to Reserves D.J. Hall, 2015-11-01 How divergent understandings of treaties contributed to a heritage of distrust The Colonial Problem Lisa Monchalin, 2016-03-08 Indigenous peoples are vastly overrepresented in the Canadian criminal justice system The Canadian government has framed this disproportionate victimization and criminalization as being an Indian problem In The Colonial Problem Lisa Monchalin challenges the myth of the Indian problem and encourages readers to view the crimes and injustices affecting Indigenous peoples from a more culturally aware position She analyzes the consequences of assimilation policies dishonoured treaty agreements manipulative legislation and systematic racism arguing that the overrepresentation of Indigenous peoples in the Canadian criminal justice system is not an Indian problem but a colonial one White Man's Law Sidney L. Harring, 1998-01-01 In this sweeping re investigation of Canadian legal history Harring shows that Canada has historically dispossessed Aboriginal peoples of even the most basic civil rights Challenging Borders Sheila McManus, 2025-04-15 Borders are known for their paradoxical qualities Sometimes they are shifting and porous lines in the sand constituted more by subjective experience than by legal definition at other times they harden into walls are heavily securitized and their primary function becomes keeping the unwanted out Challenging Borders Contingencies and Consequences sets out to explore the concrete complex effects of borders on human aspirations and lives while at the same time underscoring the diversity of individual encounters with these deceptively invisible lines Drawing on insights from history geography Indigenous studies political science refugee and migration studies the visual arts and even physics contributors to the collection examine the role of borders in the ongoing negotiation of national identities in contested claims of sovereignty and belonging in the tensions between freedom of movement and restrictions on entry and in the use of violence in the name of security As the essays illustrate in the context of migration borders are inherently a site of struggle at once a source of hope for those seeking sanctuary and an excuse for others to deny it Indigenous nations migrants and refugees have long known how destructive colonial boundaries can be and this volume offers compelling new angles from which to map the geographies of oppression and resistance North American Genocides Laurelyn Whitt, Alan W. Clarke, 2019-08 Argues that North American settler colonialism included episodes of genocide of Indigenous peoples as defined by the United Nations Genocide Convention The River Returns

Christopher Armstrong, Matthew Evenden, H.V. Nelles, 2011-05-01 Alberta's iconic river has been dammed and plumbed made to spin hydro electric turbines and used to cleanse Calgary Artificial lakes in the mountains rearrange its flow downstream weirs and ditches divert it to irrigate the parched prairie Far from being wild the Bow is now very much a human product its fish are as manufactured as its altered flow changed water quality and newly stabilized and forested banks The River Returns brings the story of the Bow River's transformation full circle through an exploration of the recent revolution in environmental thinking and regulation that has led to new limits on what might be done with and to the river Rivers have been studied from many perspectives but too often the relationship between nature and people between rivers and the cultures that have grown up beside them have been separated The River Returns illuminates the ways in which humans both inadvertently and consciously have interacted with nature to make the Bow

Aboriginal Rights and Self-Government Curtis Cook, Juan David Lindau, 2000 The essays address problems of constructing new political arrangements practical questions about the viability of multiple governments within one political system and epistemological questions about recognizing and understanding the other

BOOK JACKET

Bounty and Benevolence Arthur J. Ray, James Rodger Miller, Frank Tough, 2000 Bounty and Benevolence draws on a wide range of documentary sources to provide a rich and complex interpretation of the process that led to these historic agreements The authors explain the changing economic and political realities of western Canada during the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries and show how the Saskatchewan treaties were shaped by long standing diplomatic and economic understandings between First Nations and the Hudson's Bay Company Bounty and Benevolence also illustrates how these same forces created some of the misunderstandings and disputes that arose between the First Nations and government officials regarding the interpretation and implementation of the accords

Sport and Recreation in Canadian History Carly Adams, 2021 Sport and Recreation in Canadian History is a comprehensive textbook which provides an examination of events documents and pivotal moments that contributed to the development of sport in Canada Content ranges from indigenous recreation and the integration of British culture It moves to the emergence of organized sport and national sport organizations and their impact on how sport is viewed across the country Amateur and professional sport is covered in detail and finally the globalization of Canadian sport and its expansion and position on the international stage

Resurgence and Reconciliation Michael Asch, John Borrows, James Tully, 2018-11-05 The two major schools of thought in Indigenous Settler relations on the ground in the courts in public policy and in research are resurgence and reconciliation Resurgence refers to practices of Indigenous self determination and cultural renewal whereas reconciliation refers to practices of reconciliation between Indigenous and Settler nations such as nation with nation treaty negotiations Reconciliation also refers to the sustainable reconciliation of both Indigenous and Settler peoples with the living earth as the grounds for both resurgence and Indigenous Settler reconciliation Critically and constructively analyzing these two schools from a wide variety of perspectives and lived experiences this volume connects both discourses to the ecosystem dynamics that animate the living earth Resurgence and Reconciliation is multi disciplinary blending law political science political economy women s studies ecology history anthropology sustainability and climate change Its dialogic approach strives to put these fields in conversation and draw out the connections and tensions between them By using earth teachings to inform social practices the editors and contributors offer a rich innovative and holistic way forward in response to the world s most profound natural and social challenges This timely volume shows how the complexities and interconnections of resurgence and reconciliation and the living earth are often overlooked in contemporary discourse and debate

Law's Documents Katherine Biber, Trish Luker, Priya Vaughan, 2021-12-29 Illuminating their breadth and diversity this book presents a comprehensive and multidisciplinary view of legal documents and their manifold forms uses materialities and meanings In 1951 Suzanne Briet a librarian at the Bibliotheque Nationale in Paris famously said that an antelope in a zoo could be a document thereby radically changing the way documents were analysed and understood In the fifty years since this pronouncement the digital age has introduced a potentially limitless range of digital and technological forms for the capture and storage of information In their multiplicity and their ubiquity documents pervade our everyday life However the material intellectual aesthetic and political dimensions and effects of documents remain difficult to pin down Taking a multidisciplinary and international approach this collection tackles the question what is a legal document in order to explore the material aesthetic and intellectual attributes of legal documentation the political and colonial orders reflected and embedded in documents and the legal archival and social systems which order and utilise information As well as scholars in law documentary theory history Indigenous studies art history and design theory and practice this book will also appeal to those working in libraries archives galleries and museums for whom the ongoing challenges of documentation in the digital age are urgent and timely questions

The Right Relationship John Borrows, Michael Coyle, 2017-03-17 The relationship between Canada s Indigenous peoples and the Canadian government is one that has increasingly come to the fore Numerous tragic incidents and a legacy of historical negligence combined with more vehement calls for action is forcing a reconsideration of the relationship between the federal government and Indigenous nations In The Right Relationship John Borrows and Michael Coyle bring together a group of renowned scholars both indigenous and non indigenous to cast light on the magnitude of the challenges Canadians face in seeking a consensus on the nature of treaty partnership in the twenty first century The diverse perspectives offered in this volume examine how Indigenous people s own legal and policy frameworks can be used to develop healthier attitudes between First Peoples and settler governments in Canada While considering the existing law of Aboriginal and treaty rights the contributors imagine what these relationships might look like if those involved pursued our highest aspirations as Canadians and Indigenous peoples This timely and authoritative volume provides answers that will help pave the way toward good governance for all

Indian Treaties in the United States Donald L. Fixico, 2018-05-03 This book examines the treaties that promised self government financial assistance cultural protections and land to the more than 565 tribes of North America including Alaska Hawaii and Canada Prior to contact with Europeans and later Americans American Indian treaties assumed unique dimensions often involving lengthy ceremonial meetings during which gifts were exchanged Europeans and Americans would irrevocably alter the ways in which treaties were negotiated for example treaties no longer constituted oral agreements but rather written documents though both parties generally lacked understanding of the other s culture The political consequences of treaty negotiations continue to define the legal status of the more than 565 federally recognized tribes today These and other aspects of treaty making will be explored in this single volume work which serves to fill a gap in the study of both American history and Native American history The history of treaty making covers a wide historical swath dating from the earliest treaty in 1788 to latest one negotiated in 1917 Despite the end of formal treaties largely by the end of the 19th century Native relations with the federal government continued on with the move to reservations and later formal land allotment under the Dawes Act of 1887

Searching for Mary Schäffer Colleen Skidmore, 2017-10-13 Mary Schäffer was a photographer writer botanical painter and mapmaker from Philadelphia well known for her travels in the Canadian Rockies and Japan at the turn of the twentieth century In Searching for Mary Schäffer Colleen Skidmore takes up Schäffer s own resonant themes women and wilderness travel and science to ask new questions tell new stories and reassess the persona of Mary Schäffer imagined in more recent times Public and private archival collections in the United States and Canada set the stage for this engrossing exploration of Schäffer s creative collaborative and competitive enterprise amid the cultural complexities of Philadelphia s science and photography communities and the scientific tourist and Indigenous societies of the Rocky Mountains of Canada In this impressive book Colleen Skidmore uses her considerable skills as a social historian of photography to shed new light on the remarkable life of Mary Schäffer She knows the stories the characters and presents a social history that is fresh and convincing Skidmore s conclusion is brilliant and will certainly serve as a catalyst for further research and study of Mary Schäffer Donna Livingstone President and CEO Glenbow Museum

Where Am I in the Picture? Claudia Mitchell, Katarina Giritli-Nygren, Relebohile Molestone, 2023-12-18 Positionality and researcher reflexivity how to account for one s subject position remain as challenges for new researchers But they also remain as challenges for experienced researchers who are often involved in multiple research projects simultaneously Where Am I in the Picture sheds light on the idea of researcher positionality through visual methodologies particularly in the context of studying rurality in Canada Sweden and South Africa The book is intended for new and experienced researchers seeking to decolonize their own perspectives in research in the social sciences and humanities It incorporates photographs drawings and memory work to highlight the social constructedness of what counts as rural Drawing together compelling narratives from researchers about their positionality in studying rurality the book highlights a need for greater attention to where we are in the picture more broadly It suggests that when it comes to the rural researchers need to rethink the interplay of dominant images insider and outsider perspectives and what this interplay means in relation to interpretation Where Am I in the Picture presents a new vision of how to take into consideration positionality in research

Colonialism on the Prairies Blanca Tovias,2012-07-23 This book spans a century in the history of the Blackfoot First Nations of present day Montana and Alberta It maps out specific ways in which Blackfoot culture persisted amid the drastic transformations of colonisation with its concomitant forced assimilation in both Canada and the United States It portrays the strategies and tactics adopted by the Blackfoot in order to navigate political cultural and social change during the hard transition from traditional life ways to life on reserves and reservations Cultural continuity is the thread that binds the four case studies presented encompassing Blackfoot sacred beliefs and ritual dress practices the transmission of knowledge and the relationship between oral stories and contemporary fiction Blackfoot voices emerge forcefully from the extensive array of primary and secondary sources consulted resulting in an inclusive history wherein Blackfoot and non Blackfoot scholarship enter into dialogue Blanca Tovias combines historical research with literary criticism a strategy that is justified by the interrelationship between Blackfoot history and the stories from their oral tradition Chapters devoted to examining cultural continuity discuss the ways in which oral stories continue to inspire contemporary Native American fiction This interdisciplinary study is a celebration of Blackfoot culture and knowledge that seeks to revalourise the past by documenting Blackfoot resistance and persistence across a wide spectrum of cultural practice The volume is essential reading for all scholars working in the fields of Native American studies colonial and postcolonial history ethnology and literature

Liberalism, Surveillance, and Resistance Keith Douglas Smith,2009 Canada is regularly presented as a country where liberalism has ensured freedom and equality for all Yet as Canada expanded westward and colonized First Nations territories liberalism did not operate to advance freedom or equality for Indigenous people or protect their property In reality it had a markedly debilitating effect on virtually every aspect of their lives This book explores the operation of exclusionary liberalism between 1877 and 1927 in southern Alberta and the southern interior of British Columbia In order to facilitate and justify liberal colonial expansion Canada relied extensively on surveillance which operated to exclude and reform Indigenous people By persisting in Anglo Canadian liberal capitalist values structures and interests as normal natural and beyond reproach it worked to exclude or restructure the economic political social and spiritual tenets of Indigenous cultures Further surveillance identified which previously reserved lands established on fragments of First Nations territory could be further reduced by a variety of dubious means While none of this preceded unchallenged surveillance served as well to mitigate against even if it could never completely neutralize opposition

Keeping Promises Terry Fenge,Jim Aldridge,2015-11-03 How historic and modern Aboriginal treaties continue to shape the Canadian landscape
