The Turkey Girl Penny Pollock, Ed Young, 1996 To a young girl who tends turkeys for a living an opportunity to go to The Dance of the Scared Bird seems but a distant dream Turkey Girl Penny Pollock, 1996-01-01 Good Books Matter

Larry Swartz, Debbie Nyman, 2008 Based on extensive research on the features that make children's books appealing and appropriate this valuable teacher resource offers guidance on selecting books strategies for specific grade levels suggestions for extension and tips for assessment This teacher friendly book is organized around the major genres traditional literature picture books nonfiction poetry and multicultural texts that will inspire young readers Throughout the book teachers will find suggestions for using literature to implement shared reading reading aloud and response strategies with emergent developing and independent readers This comprehensive book is rooted in the belief that educators must consider and offer a wide range of choice to ensure that students read good books It argues that the choices children make about what they read should be governed by their interests and desire to learn not by a grade or reading level A Broken Flute Doris Seale, Beverly Slapin, 2006-12-21 The Winona dilemma Lois Beardslee No word for goodbye Mary TallMountain About the contributors Sharing the Journey David Yellin, 2017-05-12 This wonderful resource from two authors with an infectious enthusiasm for children's literature will help readers select and share quality books for and with young children Specifically focused on infants through the third grade Sharing the Journey contains descriptive book annotations instructive commentary and creative teaching activities tailored for those important years Extensive book lists throughout will help readers build a library of quality children's literature Books representing other cultures are included to help celebrate diversity as well as cultural connection Genre chapters include poetry fantasy and realistic and historical fiction A chapter on informational books demonstrates how young children can be introduced to and learn to enjoy nonfiction No More "Us" and "Them" Lesley Roessing, 2012-06-07 It is imperative that teachers build community in their classrooms and across their academic teams and grades in order to make school a safe and supportive place for adolescents Teachers must help their students acknowledge that they belong to a group together that they are part of a we or us and that any differences divergent talents backgrounds experiences cultures and skills only make us stronger and better No More Us and Them delineates what steps educators can take to create an atmosphere where adolescent students feel accepted included and valuable to themselves and to their peers The goal of this book is to change adolescent attitudes to lead to not just acceptance and tolerance but toward an expansion of us and respect for their classmates that will serve to spread an even wider net of respect This book provides ideas for lessons and activities that can be integrated into existing curricula and that meet a variety of content area standards in language arts social studies science mathematics foreign languages physical education art and music while also proposing ideas for advisory or homeroom periods and class team and grade gatherings to build respect in our classrooms our schools and our communities Folktales Retold Amie A. Doughty, 2015-03-14 Folktales and fairy tales are living stories as part of the oral tradition they change and evolve as they are retold from generation to generation In the last thirty years however revision has become an art form of its own with tales intentionally revised to achieve humorous effect send political messages add different cultural or regional elements try out new narrative voices and more These revisions take all forms from short stories to novel length narratives to poems plays musicals films and advertisements The resulting tales paint the tales from myriad perspectives using the broad palette of human creativity This study examines folktale revisions from many angles drawing on examples primarily from revisions of Western European traditional tales such as those of the Grimm Brothers and Charles Perrault Also discussed are new folktales that combine traditional storylines with commentary on modern life The conclusion considers how revisionists poke fun at and struggle to understand stories that sometimes made little sense to start with Book of the Fourth World Gordon

Brotherston,1995-11-24 The Book of the Fourth World offers detailed analyses of texts that range far back into the centuries of civilised life from what is now Latin and Anglo America At the time of its discovery the American continent was identified as the Fourth World of our planet In the course of just a few centuries its original inhabitants though settled there for millennia and countable in many millions have come to be perceived as a marginal if not entirely dispensable factor in the continent s destiny Today the term has been taken up again by its native peoples to describe their own world both its threatened present condition and its political history which stretches back thousands of years before Columbus In order to explore the literature of this world Brotherston uses primary sources that have traditionally been ignored because they have not conformed to Western definitions of oral and written literature such as the scrolls of the Algonkin the knotted strings Quipus of the Inca Navajo dry paintings and the encyclopedic pages of Meso America s screenfold books The Routledge
