A Matter of the Heart T. D. Burns, 2004 While recovering from a heart transplant a strange dream kept returning Bob Hunter found himself once again on a small lobster boat bobbing up and down in the ocean in front of a beautiful lighthouse he had never seen before A number of colorful lobster floats and a stack of lobster traps were on the boat in front of him Waves crashing and exploding against a rocky shore in front of the lighthouse sending giant sprays of white foam into the air A girl in a white dress was standing on a rocky ledge to the left of the lighthouse and waving He knew that somehow she was waving at him As the sequence of dreams returned he would find himself walking up to her as she opened her arms to greet him She was one of the most beautiful girls he had ever seen Her long auburn hair and white dress were gently flowing in the breeze off of the ocean He would always wake up just as he approached Over a period of time he developed an unexplainable and obsessive love for her even though he knew she could not possibly be real Bob Hunter was an artist and a naturalist and painted a picture of both the lighthouse and the girl in his dreams A new acquaintance saw the painting of the lighthouse and told him it was real as she had visited and photographed the same lighthouse She encouraged him to travel to the area to see if he could find a reason for his dreams The dreams had no rhyme or reason Bob had never seen a lobster boat and could not believe that the lighthouse in his dreams actually existed The only way he could rid himself of these dreams was to follow his friend's suggestion and travel to the lighthouse and begin a search for the lady of his dreams A Culturally Proficient Society Begins in School Carmella S. Franco, Maria G. Ott, Darline P. Robles, 2011-09-16 This is a book I didn't know I needed until I read it But now that I have read it I will read it again and again with my leadership team The authors have provided some powerful lessons about transformative leadership through personal stories that are moving, compelling, and captivating Sarah Jerome Superintendent Arlington Heights School District 25 IL The authors serve as wonderful role models for young women of color who will enjoy reading about where the authors come from and how far they have gone Their insightful stories will contribute to the development of more female leaders in our country Daniel Domenech Executive Director American Association of School Administrators Franco Ott and Robles share three compelling stories that answer both the why and how questions concerning the urgent need for culturally proficient learning experiences for every American student Robert Hill Director of Education Initiatives The Ball Foundation Three successful superintendents share how to educate all students Extending democracy into schools so that every child has the opportunity to achieve is the topic of many books and conversations The three Latina superintendents who coauthored this book do more than discuss the issue of equity in education they live it They grew up affected by it taught students who needed it and changed the minds of those who resisted it These trailblazing women chronicle their childhoods, careers, and challenges and share their vision to transform schools into places of equity and excellence They use the lens of cultural proficiency to enhance readers' understanding of barriers to educational opportunity and equity Conditions that help promote success for underserved students Ways to leverage culture as an asset Links between high quality education for some and excellence for all learners A Culturally Proficient Society Begins in School is filled with reflective prompts, self-check protocols, and other tools for deep and meaningful professional learning Not only do these remarkable women serve as role models for students from all cultures their success stories are a source of inspiration to all educators who aspire to extend the promises of democracy to every North American student

Evaluating the Impact of Prevention and Early Intervention Activities on the Mental Health of California's Population Katherine E. Watkins, M. Audrey Burnam, Edward N. Okeke, Claude Messan Setodji, 2012 In 2004 California voters passed the Mental Health Services Act which was intended to transform California's community mental health system from a crisis-driven system to one that included a focus on prevention and wellness The vision was that prevention and early intervention (PEI) services comprised the first step in a continuum of services designed to identify early symptoms and prevent mental illness from becoming severe and disabling Twenty percent of the act's funding was dedicated to PEI services The act identified seven negative outcomes that PEI programs were intended to reduce: suicide, mental health-related incarcerations, school failure, unemployment, prolonged suffering, homelessness, and removal of children from the home The Mental Health

Services Oversight and Accountability Commission MHSOAC coordinated with the California Mental Health Services Authority CalMHSA an independent administrative and fiscal intergovernmental agency to seek development of a statewide framework for evaluating and monitoring the short and long term impact of PEI funding on the population CalMHSA selected the RAND Corporation to develop a framework for the statewide evaluation This report describes the approach the data sources and the frameworks developed an overall approach framework and outcome specific frameworks

The Road to the Manor Martin Andrew,2024-09-09 A career in the entertainment industry is often colorful but seldom as fulfilling as we are led to believe by the media moguls who glorify the highs and lows of celebrities as they live out their lives in the public eye Only a tiny percentage of those entering this industry attain the dizzy heights they dream of and many fall by the wayside without causing a ripple in this vast ocean we call showbiz Martin Andrew s story tells a tale of one man s journey from a small town in rural England to the bright lights of Las Vegas and beyond It is not a story of success or failure but rather one of passion determination and survival as he embarks on The Road to the Manor
