Encyclopaedia of the History of Science, Technology, and Medicine in Non-Western Cultures Helaine Selin, 2013-11-11 The Encyclopaedia fills a gap in both the history of science and in cultural studies Reference works on other cultures tend either to omit science completely or pay little attention to it and those on the history of science almost always start with the Greeks with perhaps a mention of the Islamic world as a translator of Greek scientific works The purpose of the Encyclopaedia is to bring together knowledge of many disparate fields in one place and to legitimize the study of other cultures science Our aim is not to claim the superiority of other cultures but to engage in a mutual exchange of ideas The Western academic divisions of science technology and medicine have been united in the Encyclopaedia because in ancient cultures these disciplines were connected This work contributes to redressing the balance in the number of reference works devoted to the study of Western science and encourages awareness of cultural diversity The Encyclopaedia is the first compilation of this sort and it is testimony both to the earlier Eurocentric view of academia as well as to the widened vision of today There is nothing that crosses disciplinary and geographic boundaries dealing with both scientific and philosophical issues to the extent that this work does xi

PERSONAL NOTE FROM THE EDITOR Many years ago I taught African history at a secondary school in Central Africa

God-Greed Bless America? Joseph Alan Redman, 2012-05 Lulled into comfort by the luxuries and freedoms enjoyed in the United States many Christians come to the conclusion that this country must be the recipient of a special blessing from God Using his keen insight and extensive experience Joseph Redman dismantles this common belief Instead he argues convincingly that our modern culture is structured to reward greed and selfishness not true godliness What effect does this have on the strength of the Church as a whole Through the use of Scripture and commentary based on many years of study Joseph shows how excessive greed and the abuse of what he calls ego power are pulling Christians away from the Church He then challenges us to examine our own lives and to find a better way to actively express true Christ like love to the least of these in our world Only when we focus on Christ can we view our nation in proper perspective Joseph Redman does community service as a hospital clown but there is nothing funny in the arguments he sets out in this book With passion and insight he has identified the fixation on wealth as America's Golden Calf he has called into question the easy identification of God and country and he has reminded Christian believers of which first things should come first This is a serious book that deserves to be read seriously Mark Noll Francis A McAnaney Professor University of Notre Dame The Search for Christian America The Sabbath Recorder ,1929 The Chautauquan ,1885 American Poultry Journal ,1922
