Elbridge Durbrow's War in Vietnam Ronald Bruce Frankum, Jr., 2019-08-23 Elbridge Durbrow served as the third United States ambassador to the Republic of Vietnam from 1957 to 1961 His relationships with Vietnamese president Ngo Dinh Diem and members of the Military Assistance Advisory Group in Saigon helped to shape his tenure in office which ultimately concluded with his decision to end his support for the Vietnamese leader as well as turn away from the American military representatives who had earned Ngo Dinh Diem's trust This triangular relationship was mired in clashes of ego and personality that often interfered with the American decision making process Durbrow and his embassy staff rather than work with the Vietnamese leadership chose to focus on the negative and reported to Washington only those items that reinforced this perspective They created an atmosphere of distrust and anxiety that neither the Americans nor Vietnamese could overcome in the 1960s and helped to create the conditions for greater United States involvement in Southeast Asia

Beyond the Borders Deborah L. Madsen, 2003-08-20 This book challenges the boundaries of postcolonial theory. Focusing on American literature, it examines how America's own imperial history has shaped the literature that has emerged from America from Native American, Latino, Black, and Asian American writers. They contrast this with postcolonial literature from countries whose history has been shaped by American colonialism from Canada, Central America, and the Caribbean to Hawaii, Indonesia, and Vietnam. It explores questions about national identity and multiculturalism: why, for instance, is a Native writer categorised within American literature if writing on one side of the border but as Canadian and postcolonial if writing on the other? This is a challenging collection that raises questions not only about the boundaries of postcolonial theory but also about ethnicity and multiculturalism and the impact of immigration and assimilation.

Vietnam's Year of the Rat Ronald Bruce Frankum, Jr., 2014-04-04 Vietnam's Year of the Rat explores the lunar New Year 1960 and the dynamic relationship between two competing groups vying for control in the Republic of Vietnam. One group, led by United States Ambassador Elbridge Durbrow, worked toward directing Vietnam towards an American-style democracy that focused on forcing reforms within the Saigon government. The other group, headed by Republic of Vietnam President Ngo Dinh Diem, attempted to navigate the demands of Durbrow and the State Department and to confront internal opposition and an emerging external threat while trying to further the goals of the Republic. The result was a series of failed opportunities by both sides to resolve the differences of the two complementary if conflicting strategies. Vietnam's Year of the Rat offers an alternative to the now standard historiography for this period of the study in the Vietnam War by providing a Vietnamese viewpoint into the story of that long and tragic war.
