Posthumanism and Phenomenology Calley A. Hornbuckle, Jadwiga S. Smith, William S. Smith, 2022-11-24 This volume investigates the intersection of phenomenology and posthumanism by rethinking the human and nonhuman specifically with regard to boredom isolation loneliness and solitude By closely examining these concepts from phenomenological philosophical and literary perspectives this diverse collection of essays offers insights into the human and nonhuman in the absence of the Other and within the postapocalyptic Topics of interest include modalities of presence and absence with regard to body time beast and things the phenomenology of corporeity onto-poiesis and the sublime alienation absurdity and phenomenology of existence memory posthistoricity posthuman nihilism and posthumanity speculative cosmology cosmic holism and consciousness ecophenomenology and the philosophy of the aesthetic These essays parse and probe distinct aspects of the posthuman condition and what it means to exist in a posthuman world thereby furthering the vast rich scope of phenomenological research and study This text appeals to students and researchers working in these topics and fields

#MeToo and Literary Studies Mary K. Holland, Heather Hewett, 2021-09-23 Literature has always recorded a history of patriarchy sexual violence and resistance Academics have been using literature to expose and critique this violence and domination for half a century But the continued potency of MeToo after its 2017 explosion adds new urgency and wider awareness about these issues while revealing new ways in which rape culture shapes our everyday lives This intersectional guide helps readers students teachers and scholars face and challenge our culture of sexual violence by confronting it through the study of literature MeToo and Literary Studies gathers essays on literature from Ovid to Carmen Maria Machado by academics working across the United States and around the world who offer clear ways of using our reading teaching and critical practices to address rape culture and sexual violence It also examines the promise and limitations of the MeToo movement itself speaking to the productive use of social media as well as to the voices that the movement has so far muted In uniting diverse voices to enable the MeToo movement to reshape literary studies this book is also committed to the idea that the way we read and write about literature can make real change in the world

Understanding Things Fall Apart Solomon Ogbede Iyasere, 1998 Critical essays on Chinua Achebe's novel Things Fall Apart

Chinua Achebe's "Things Fall Apart". Read in Modernistic Terms, 2021-11-17 Essay from the year 2021 in the subject Literature Modern Literature grade 2 0 University of Tübingen language English abstract Chinua Achebe's novel Things Fall Apart is a work that in a certain way depicts contemporary developments Published in 1958 Achebe describes events in the period of the early transition phase of British colonization of Nigeria roughly around 1900 referring to Okonkwo the protagonist and the Igbo a native ethnic group Both are subject to fundamental changes but to what extent can these changes be expressed in literary terms Are there certain markers that can be used to identify tendencies for example modernism This investigation will be the subject of the following essay Political Independence with Linguistic Servitude

Samuel Gyasi Obeng, Beverly Hartford, 2002 This book addresses important issues to the democratisation and development initiatives of developing countries In many former colonies the government remains centralised and many in the population are unable to fully participate in its functioning A critical difference between being a subject and a citizen is the ability to partake in governance Such involvement requires knowledge literacy and the availability of literature in local and national languages This book challenges policy makers and scholars to find creative ways of fostering political empowerment through developing language programmes Things Fall Apart Chinua Achebe, 2009 The contemporary African writer's classic novel depicting the destruction of traditional tribal life by the white man Chinua Achebe Nahem Yousaf, 2003 This literary study is an exploration and a celebration of a writer who for the last half century has been at the forefront of modern African writing Since the publication of Things Fall Apart in 1958 Chinua Achebe has been credited with being the key progenitor of an African literary tradition and his five novels read as tracing the national narrative of Nigeria Achebe depicts precolonial societies disturbed by British colonization in the 1890s and the 1930s the dog days of colonization in the 1950s Independence in 1960 and the onset of neo colonial problems of corruption and civil war and in his final novel Anthills of the Savannah 1987 the pervasive sense of postcolonial disenchantment This study casts back over Achebe's writing career to assess his considerable contribution to postcolonial writing and criticism including his Editorship of Heinemann's acclaimed African Writers Series which has shaped African literature for international audiences since 1962 Yousaf's examination of Achebe's fiction is carefully counterpointed with detailed discussion of the Nigerian national situation and of Achebe's essays and criticism including his most recent and most autobiographical collection Home and Exile 2000 published in the year the writer celebrated his seventieth birthday An Analysis of Chinua Achebe's An Image of Africa Clare Clarke, 2017-07-05 Few works of scholarship have so comprehensively recast an existing debate as Chinua Achebe's essay on Joseph Conrad's Heart of Darkness Achebe a highly distinguished Nigerian novelist and university teacher looked with fresh eyes at a novel that was set in Africa but in which Africans appear only as onlookers or as indistinguishable savages Dismissing the prevailing portrayal of Joseph Conrad as a liberal hero whose anti imperialist views insulated him from significant criticism

Achebe recast the Polish author as a bloody racist in an analysis so cogent it changed the way in which his discipline looked not only at Conrad but also at all works with settings indicative of racial conflict. The creative contribution of Achebe's essay lies in delving far beneath the surface of Conrad's novel; he not only generated new and highly influential hypotheses about the author's modes of thought and motivations but also redefined the entire debate over Heart of Darkness. Just because the novel had been accepted into the canon and now falls into the class of permanent literature, Achebe says, does not mean we should not question it closely or criticize its author.

Postcolonial Poetics Elleke Boehmer, 2018-06-27 Postcolonial Poetics is about how we read postcolonial and world literatures today and about how the structures of that writing shape our reading. The book's eight chapters explore the ways in which postcolonial writing in English from various 21st century contexts including southern and West Africa and Black and Asian Britain interacts with our imaginative understanding of the world. Throughout the focus is on reading practices where reading is taken as an inventive border traversing activity, one that postcolonial writing with its interests in margins, intersections, subversions, and crossings specifically encourages. This close sustained focus on reading reception and literariness is an outstanding feature of the study as is its wide generic range embracing poetry, essays, and life writing as well as fiction. The field-defining scholar Elleke Boehmer holds that literature has the capacity to keep reimagining and refreshing how we understand ourselves in relation to the world and to some of the most pressing questions of our time including resistance, reconciliation, survival after terror, and migration.

Achebe the Orator Chinwe Okechukwu, 2001-03-30 Taken together Chinua Achebe's five novels encompass the entire social, historical, and political experiences of Nigeria from precolonial times to the close of the 20th century. Central to these experiences is the clash of Igbo culture with the ways of the West. The novels show a society that has been fragmented and a people who are striving to reconstruct a world that they lost during their encounter with colonialism. Achebe has stated that his main purpose for writing is to reveal the truth about his people and their culture. This book examines his use of rhetoric to accomplish that objective.

From product description Utopian Generations Nicholas Brown, 2009-01-10 Utopian Generations develops a powerful interpretive matrix for understanding world literature, one that renders modernism and postcolonial African literature comprehensible in a single framework within which neither will ever look the same African literature has commonly been seen as representationally naïve vis vis modernism and canonical modernism as reactionary vis vis postcolonial literature What brings these two bodies of work together argues Nicholas Brown is their disposition toward Utopia or the horizon of a radical reconfiguration of social relations Grounded in a profound rethinking of the Hegelian Marxist tradition this fluently written book takes as its point of departure the partial displacement during the twentieth century of capitalism's internal limit classically conceived as the conflict between labor and capital onto a geographic division of labor and wealth Dispensing with whole genres of commonplace contemporary pieties Brown examines works from both sides of this division to create a dialectical mapping of different modes of Utopian aesthetic practice The theory of world literature developed in the introduction grounds the subtle and powerful readings at the heart of the book focusing on works by James Joyce Cheikh Hamidou Kane Ford Madox Ford Chinua Achebe Wyndham Lewis Ngũgĩ wa Thiong'o and Pepetela A final chapter arguing that this literary dialectic has reached a point of exhaustion suggests that a radically reconceived notion of musical practice may be required to discern the Utopian desire immanent in the products of contemporary culture
