Marty Hiatt, 2025-11-01 Investigates permutations of the terror to examine the complex political and intellectual transformation of literary theorist and novelist Maurice Blanchot between 1933 and 1949 Between 1933 and 1949 Maurice Blanchot s writings underwent a rather infamous political and critical transformation Its overarching trope is the terror which features prominently in his work in 1936 1941 and 1947 The terror is a reflexive discourse about whether language is bound to reality and so forceful or merely a series of empty signs Marty Hiatt provides an in depth study of Blanchot s political and critical writings from this period elaborating his various reckonings with the terror so as to demonstrate the categorical nature of his intellectual shift Blanchot first calls for an insurrection that would violently expurgate the foreign and execute a Jewish prime minister in order to save France After the Fall of France he develops an account of how terror and rhetoric dialectically constitute literature as world construction and world destruction In his first postwar encounter with Hegel he links this conception back to history by arguing that it corresponds to revolution He also doubles the dialectical

account of revolutionary history through an account of poetic language that makes contact with an unknowable substrate of existence resulting in a kind of absolute ambiguity and seeks to explore and inhabit a form of negativity beyond revolution

Maurice Blanchot Carolyn Bailey Gill, 1996 This timely collection of essays is the first to be written on the work of Maurice Blanchot in English Blanchot demonstrates the radical philosophical import of literature and has renewed the debate over the ethics of art
