Thomas Sankara Speaks Thomas Sankara, 1988 The leader of the Burkina Faso revolution recounts how peasants and workers in this West African country began confronting hunger illiteracy and economic backwardness prior to the 1987 coup in which Sankara was murdered TRIUMPH OF RACISM: The History of White Supremacy in Africa and How Shithole Entered the U.S Presidential Lexicon Emmanuel Neba-Fuh, 2021-04-05

Emmanuel Neba Fuh in this comprehensive chronological compilation and thorough narrative of the history of white supremacy in Africa provide an unflinching fresh case that African poverty a central tenet of the shithole demonization is not a natural feature of geography or a consequence of culture but a direct product of imperial extraction from the continent a practice that continues into the present A brutal and nefarious tale of slave trade genocides massacres dictators supported progressive leaders murdered weapon smuggling cloak and dagger secret services corruption international conspiracy and spectacular military operations he raised the most basic and fundamental question how was Africa the world's richest continent raped and reduced to what Donald J Trump called shithole V Mbanwie

Thomas Sankara Ernest Harsch, 2014-11-01 Thomas Sankara often called the African Che Guevara was president of Burkina Faso one of the poorest countries in Africa until his assassination during the military coup that brought down his government Although his tenure in office was relatively short Sankara left an indelible mark on his country's history and development An avowed Marxist he outspokenly asserted his country's independence from France and other Western powers while at the same time seeking to build a genuine pan African unity Ernest Harsch traces Sankara's life from his student days to his recruitment into the military early political awakening and increasing dismay with his country's extreme poverty and political corruption As he rose to higher leadership positions he used those offices to mobilize people for change and to counter the influence of the old corrupt elites Sankara and his colleagues initiated economic and social policies that shifted away from dependence on foreign aid and toward a greater use of the country's own resources to build schools health clinics and public works Although Sankara's sweeping vision and practical reforms won him admirers both in Burkina Faso and across Africa a combination of domestic opposition groups and factions within his own government and the army finally led to his assassination in 1987 This is the first English language book to tell the story of Sankara's life and struggles drawing on the author's extensive firsthand research and reporting on Burkina Faso including interviews with the late leader Decades after his death Sankara remains an inspiration to young people throughout Africa for his integrity idealism and dedication to independence and self determination

Historical Dictionary of Burkina Faso Lawrence Rupley, Lamissa Bangali, Boureima Diamitani, 2013-02-07 Burkina Faso known as Upper Volta until its independence from France in 1960 and locally called the land of the upright people is a medium sized land locked country with no less than six neighbors some of which periodically get into trouble which makes it reasonably strategic in some ways While it has not done as poorly as some other African states its economic has certainly not prospered and many Burkinabe go abroad to earn a living As for politics it is another case of stability without democracy even if there are periodic elections Still this is better than not even having stability This third edition of Historical Dictionary of Burkina Faso covers its history through a chronology an introductory essay maps appendixes and an extensive bibliography The dictionary section has over 1000 cross referenced entries on important personalities politics economy foreign relations religion and culture This book is an excellent access point for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about Burkina Faso

African Political Thought Guy Martin, 2012-12-05 For most of its history the African continent has witnessed momentous political change remarkable philosophical innovation and the complex cross fertilization of ideologies and belief systems This definitive study surveys the concepts values and historical upheavals that have shaped African political systems from the ancient period to the postcolonial era and beyond Beginning with the emergence of indigenous political institutions it traces the most important developments in African history including the Africanization of Islam liberal democratic movements socialism Pan Africanism and Africanist Populist resistance to the neoliberal world order The result is an invaluable resource on a region too often ignored in the history of political thought

Who Paid the Pipers of Western Marxism? Gabriel Rockhill, 2025-12-01 Who Paid the Pipers of Western Marxism offers a crash course in the history of imperialist propaganda as well as in the Marxist method for analyzing culture and ideology Author Gabriel Rockhill demonstrates the explanatory and transformative superiority of a dialectical and historical materialist approach while elucidating how the world of ideas is a crucial site of class struggle He then engages in a meticulous counter history of the Frankfurt School which made a foundational contribution to Western Marxism by situating it within the global relations of class struggle and the imperialist war on actually existing socialism With the explicit and direct backing of powerful elements in the capitalist ruling class and the world's leading imperialist state the Frankfurt School developed a widely promoted form of compatible critical theory as an ersatz for dialectical and historical materialism. The volume concludes by bringing to the fore the positive project that serves as the guiding methodological framework for the work as a whole: a thoroughly anticolonial and anti-imperialist Marxism dedicated to building socialism in the real world. Drawing on extensive archival research to pull back the curtain on ruling class machinations, Rockhill's book elucidates how the intellectual world war on the socialist alternative has sought to shore up and promote a compatible left intelligentsia while misrepresenting, maligning, and trying to destroy the revolutionary left.

African Cinema and Human Rights Mette Hjort, Eva Jørholt, 2019-03-01. Essays and case studies exploring how filmmaking can play a role in promoting social and economic justice. Bringing theory and practice together, African Cinema and Human Rights argues that moving images have a significant role to play in advancing the causes of justice and fairness. The contributors to this volume identify three key ways in which film can achieve these goals: Documenting human rights abuses and thereby supporting the claims of victims and goals of truth and reconciliation within larger communities; Legitimizing and consequently solidifying an expanded scope for human rights; Promoting the realization of social and economic rights. Including the voices of African scholars, scholars, filmmakers, African directors, Jean Marie Teno and Gaston Kabor, and researchers whose work focuses on transnational cinema, this volume explores overall perspectives and differences of perspective pertaining to Africa, human rights, and human rights filmmaking, alongside specific case studies of individual films and areas of human rights violations. With its interdisciplinary scope, attention to practitioners' self-understandings, broad perspectives, and particular case studies, African Cinema and Human Rights is a foundational text that offers questions, reflections, and evidence that help us to consider film's ideal role within the context of our ever-continuing struggle towards a more just global society.

Thomas Sankara Brian J. Peterson, 2021-03-02. Thomas Sankara: A Revolutionary in Cold War Africa offers the first complete biography in English of the dynamic revolutionary leader from Burkina Faso. Coming to power in 1983, Sankara set his sights on combating social injustice, poverty, and corruption in his country, fighting for women's rights, direct forms of democracy, economic sovereignty, and environmental justice. Drawing on government archival sources and over a hundred interviews with Sankara's family members, friends, and closest revolutionary colleagues, Brian J. Peterson details Sankara's political career and rise to power, as well as his assassination at age 37 in 1987 in a plot led by his close friend Blaise Compaoré. Thomas Sankara: A Revolutionary in Cold War Africa offers a unique critical appraisal of Sankara and explores why he generated such enthusiasm and hope in Burkina Faso and beyond, why he was such a polarizing figure, how his rivals seized power from him, and why T-shirts sporting his image still appear on the streets today.

McNeal, 2017-12-11 From nonviolent protests in Cairo and Manama to the ousting of Libya s Gaddafi and the beginning of the Syrian Civil War the series of uprisings which swept through the Middle East and North Africa from late 2010 have been burdened with the collective hopes and expectations of the world Western supporters quickly identified these uprisings as a collective awakening a move towards democracy but the continued unrest in these regions defies many of these more optimistic contemporary predictions As the region remains unstable the US and their Western allies are faced with the challenging task of modifying their strategic foreign policy goals to suit the currently mercurial Arab World The Arab Spring and its failure exposed a new set of questions What motivates American democracy promotion Does the US really want self determination in the Middle East and North Africa Where did the expectations of the protestors fit into this narrative U S Approaches to the Arab Uprisings provides a comprehensive assessment of Western foreign policy towards the Arab World today With analysis on subjects as diverse as social media and Islamic centrism and drawing from examples throughout the MENA region the book deals with the perception of Arabs and Arab culture in the American psyche and its effect on East West relations By analyzing both Western responses to uprisings and the reactions of the protestors themselves the contributors expose theoretical and practical inconsistencies that suggest a rising tension between those that promote democracy and those who practice it A Certain Amount of Madness Amber Murrey, 2018-03-20 Thomas Sankara was one of Africa's most important anti-imperialist leaders of the late 20th Century. His declaration that fundamental socio-political change would require a certain amount of madness drove the Burkinabe Revolution and resurfaced in the country's popular uprising in 2014. This book looks at Sankara's political philosophies and legacies and their relevance today. Analyses of his synthesis of Pan-Africanism and humanist Marxist politics as well as his approach to gender, development, ecology and decolonisation offer new insights to Sankarist political philosophies. Critical evaluations of the limitations of the revolution examine his relationship with labour unions and other aspects of his leadership style. His legacy is revealed by looking at contemporary activists, artists and politicians who draw inspiration from Sankarist thought in social movement struggles today from South Africa to Burkina Faso. In the 30th anniversary of his assassination, this book illustrates how Sankara's political praxis continues to provide lessons and hope for decolonisation struggles today.

The Verso Book of Dissent Andrew Hsiao, Audrea Lim, 2020-06-16 Throughout the ages and across every continent, people have struggled against those in power and raised their voices in protest, rallying others around them and inspiring uprisings in eras yet to come. Their echoes reverberate from Ancient Greece, China and Egypt via the dissident poets and philosophers of Islam and Judaism through to the Arab slave revolts and anti-Ottoman rebellions of the Middle Ages. These sources were tapped during the Dutch and English revolutions at the outset of the Modern world and in turn flowed into the French, Haitian, American, Russian and Chinese revolutions. More recently, resistance to war and economic oppression has flared up on battlefields and in public spaces from Beijing and Baghdad to Caracas and Los Angeles. This anthology, global in scope, presents voices of dissent from every era of human history: speeches and pamphlets, poems and songs, plays and manifestos. Every age has its iconoclasts, and yet the greatest among them build on the words and actions of their forerunners. The Verso Book of Dissent will become an invaluable resource, reminding today's citizens that these traditions will never die.

Contesting Africa's New Green Revolution Jacqueline Ignatova, 2021-05-20 In this insightful critique of arguments for and against GMOs as a remedy for poverty, inequality and hunger in Africa, Ignatova illuminates the way the new Green Revolution serves as a vehicle for philanthrocapital, generating markets and wealth for global agribusiness in the name of pro-poor development. Sara Berry, Professor Emerita, Johns Hopkins University, USA. Ignatova's important book illuminates profound problems with public-private partnerships that skirt democratic accountability and empower wealthy interests at the expense of local communities. But it's not a despairing account: she centres Ghanaian activists and policy makers who are pioneering a new type of philanthropy, one emphasizing interdependency and social justice over anti-democratic efforts to privatize seed commons. A revelatory and insightful study. Linsey McGoey, Professor of Sociology, University of Essex, UK. Like a combine through a field of genetically modified maize, Jacqueline Ignatova cuts through the rhetoric surrounding the Green Revolution for Africa to reveal the underlying power politics and inequities that shape agricultural development in contemporary Ghana Full of rich empirics and analytical insights this book is essential reading for those seeking a comprehensive understanding of how public private partnerships and philanthropy driven initiatives are reshaping smallholder agriculture across the African continent Marcus Taylor Associate Professor and Head of Department Global Development Studies Queen s University Canada

Urban Climate Justice Jennifer L. Rice, Joshua Long, Anthony Levenda, 2023-05 Arguing that climate injustice is one of our most pressing urban problems this volume explores the possibilities and challenges for more just urban futures under climate change Whether the situation be displacement within cities through carbon gentrification or the increasing securitization of elite spaces for climate protection climate justice and urban justice are intimately connected Contributors to the volume build theoretical tools for interrogating the root causes of climate change as well as policy failures They also highlight knowledge produced within communities already seeking transformative change and demonstrate meaningful learning from activist groups working to address the socionatural injustices caused by the impact of climate change The editors introduction situates our current climate emergency within historical processes of colonization racial capitalism and heteropatriarchy while the editors conclusion offers pathways forward through abolition care and reparations Where other books focus on the project of critique this collection advances real world politics to help academics practitioners and social justice groups imagine create and enact more just urban futures under climate change

Contesting Africa's New Green Revolution Jacqueline A. Ignatova, 2021-05-20 Genetically modified crops have become a key element of development strategies across the Global South despite remaining deeply controversial Proponents hail them as an example of pro poor innovation while critics regard them as a threat to food sovereignty and the environment The promotion of biotechnology is an integral part of new Green Revolution for Africa interventions and is also intimately linked to the rise of philanthrocapitalism which advances business solutions to address the problem of poverty Through interviews with farmers policymakers and agricultural scientists Jacqueline Ignatova shows how efforts to transform the seed sector in northern Ghana one of the key laboratories of this new Green Revolution may serve to exacerbate the inequality it was notionally intended to address But she also argues that its effects in Ghana have been far more complex than either side of the debate has acknowledged with local farmers proving adept at blending traditional and modern agricultural methods that subvert the interests of global agribusiness
