Treatise On Basic Philosophy Ontology I The Furniture Of The World Volume 3:

Ontology: The furniture of the world Mario Bunge, 1979 The New Evolutionary Paradigm Ervin Laszlo, 2019-07-18
Originally published in 1991 The New Evolutionary Paradigm provides an innovative and cross disciplinary look at evolution While Darwin s theory of evolution was originally restricted to the life sciences in recent years the same principles have been applied successfully to historical social and natural sciences The papers included in The New Evolutionary Paradigm analyse the facts observations and accumulated data from the significance of a general evolution theory cannot be overemphasised a new understanding of the cosmos and man s relationship to it could lead to the systemization of the irreversible change that takes place in society and nature This book will appeal to scientists sociologists and those interested in transdisciplinary evolution theories Business Systems Analysis with Ontologies Green, Peter F., Rosemann, Michael, 2005-03-31 This book shows systems analysts and business analysts how ontological thinking can help them clarify requirements analysis tasks in business systems Provided by publisher Systems Analysis and Design: People, Processes, and Projects Keng Siau, Roger Chiang, Bill C. Hardgrave, 2015-03-26 For the last two decades IS researchers have conducted empirical studies leading to a better understanding of the impact of Systems Analysis and Design methods in business managerial and cultural contexts SA D research has established a balanced focus not only on technical issues but also on organizational and social issues in the information society This volume presents the very latest state of the art research by well known figures in the field The chapters are grouped into three categories techniques methodologies and approaches Business Modeling and Software Design Boris Shishkov, 2021-07-01 This book constitutes the refereed proceedings of the 11th International Symposium on Business Modeling and Software Design BMSD 2021 which took place in Sofia Bulgaria in July 2021 The 14 full and 13 short papers included in this book were carefully reviewed and selected from a total of 61 submissions BMSD is a leading international forum that brings together researchers and practitioners interested in business modeling and its relation to software design Particular areas of interest are Business Processes and Enterprise Engineering Business Models and Requirements Business Models and Services Business Models and Software Information Systems Architectures and Paradigms Data Aspects in Business Modeling and Software Development Blockchain Based Business Models and Information Systems IoT and Implications for Enterprise Information Systems The BMSD 2021 theme was Towards Enterprises and Software that are Resilient against Disruptive Events eWork and eBusiness in Architecture, Engineering and Construction Z. Turk, R. Scherer, 2002-01-01 This is a comprehensive review of research related to construction informatics with a particular focus on the related 5th framework EU projects on product and process technology and the implementation of the new economy technologies and business models in the construction industry Critical Debates on Quantitative Psychology and Measurement: Revived and Novel Perspectives on Fundamental Problems Jana Uher, Jan Ketil Arnulf, Barbara Hanfstingl, 2025-11-14 Psychology s continued crises in replicability validity generalisability and thus confidence in its findings are currently attributed primarily to questionable research practices QRPs e g p hacking HARKing cherry picking Popular pertinent debates therefore centre on proposals for remedying inappropriate method applications e g larger samples robust statistics pre registration replication Replicable non random effects of psychological interventions and differentiations between individuals are essential for applied purposes But current approaches to replicability validity and psychometric modelling are merely pragmatic providing evidence of just utility to discriminate well and consistently between cases and in ways considered important e g social relevance relations to future outcomes Yet without understanding the study phenomena in themselves e g individuals experience beliefs thought processes and without elaborating how relevant features of them can be made amenable to quantitative investigation and if at all the quantity objection the actual causes of replicable quantitative findings cannot be explored These causes however may be completely unrelated to the actual study phenomena e g methodomorphism This concerns in particular the attributes and latent constructs studied in psychology given that these are theoretical and statistical concepts that are attributed and construed as means of investigation and that only refer to but do not constitute the actual study phenomena in themselves We believe the currently debated deficiencies of quantitative practices in psychology are just surface symptoms whereas fundamental problems e g the inappropriateness of statistical assumptions for psychical phenomena and the actual root causes underlying psychology s crises and disputes around its scientific status are still hardly addressed With this Research Topic we want to give new impetus to critical debates on the epistemological and methodological foundations of quantitative methods and measurement in psychology including problems long known but still hardly considered Examples are The behavioural and psychical phenomena s non ergodicity rendering sample level statistics uninformative about individual level phenomena Psychometricians alignment of results to statistical theories rather than to features of the study phenomena biasing inferences on the latter Ideas that laypeople s intuitive judgements could reveal quantitative structures in complex largely unobservable phenomena The still unsupported claim that psychical phenomena could have quantitative properties at all and could thus be measured The fact that psychometric structures shown for verbal item judgements can also be produced by semantic and Artificial Intelligence AI algorithms e g ChatGPT without collecting any empirical data Still most quantitative psychologists seem fairly unconcerned about the strong reliance on everyday language e g in ratings scales and the imprecise concepts of psychological measurement perhaps because their consequences do not become as straightforwardly apparent as in other disciplines such as in physics chemistry and medicine where imprecise measurement can entail the collapse of buildings chemical explosions or drug overdoses But where does the loose jargon around measurement variables and psychometrics go seriously wrong in psychology These and further contradictions problems and challenges underlying established quantitative practices in psychology must be addressed to tackle the discipline s continued crises and to develop new approaches that are needed to advance psychology as a science We invite from all fields contributions that critically explore and open up new perspectives on the foundations of quantification and measurement in psychology including perspectives still hardly considered e g qualitative mathematics complex dynamic systems fuzzy systems modelling machine learning We are also interested in methods for generating quantitative data either executed by persons e g time based observations computer based coding or by automated technology e g ecological momentary monitoring life logging reality mining However other than commonly done we are explicitly not seeking proposals for improving specific techniques of data analysis e g statistical or latent variable models Instead our focus is on making explicit and scrutinising the implicitly underlying rationales and fundamental principles thus the theory philosophy and methodology on which quantitative research in psychology currently is or should be built in the future This also includes critical views on whether or not quantitative investigations are meaningful at all for a science exploring behaviour mind and society and thus also contributions to the psychology sociology and philosophy of science in this field Poznan Studies in the Philosophy of the Sciences and Humanities ,1990 The
