biological mechanisms of acupuncture are still under debate In Traditional Chinese Medicine TCM the mechanism of acupuncture therapy is explained by a meridian model According to this model acupuncture is believed to treat the diseased organs by modulating two conditions known as Yin and Yang which represent all the opposite principles that people find in the universe both inside and outside the human body Yin and Yang complement each other and are subjected to changes between each other The balance of Yin and Yang is thought to be maintained by Qi an energy substance flowing constantly through the meridian a network connecting all the organs of the body The illness according to this theory is the temporary dominance of one principle over the other owing to the blockade of the Qi from flowing through the meridian under certain circumstance The axiom of No stagnation No pain in TCM summarizes this concept Thus the goal of acupuncture treatment is to restore the balance of Yin and Yang conditions in the diseased organ s This theory has been considered to be useful to guide this ancient therapy such as carrying out diagnosis deciding on the principle and selecting the acupoints The Treatment of Disease Reynold Webb Wilcox,1907 The Treatment of Pain with Chinese Herbs and Acupuncture E-Book Peilin Sun,2010-09-08 This new edition of The Treatment of Pain with Chinese Herbs and Acupuncture gives a thorough and analytical review of the diagnosis and treatment options for pain using acupuncture with Chinese herbal medicine Based on the clinical experience of the author and supported by that of acupuncturists in Chinese universities it offers a comprehensive and detailed set of treatments for a wide variety of pain symptoms and conditions and includes detailed modifications of the treatments to aid clinical practice Although pain syndromes are often complicated involving both psychological and physical difficulties resulting in sometimes hesitation in deciding a correct treatment there are still some short cut ways to achieve a successful result Therefore the essential intentions of the authors are very clear To demonstrate the practitioners how to differentiate the clinical situations and how to establish the corresponding treatments To illustrate how to apply Chinese herbs logically and how to consist an acupuncture prescription reasonably and effectively Features Thorough exploration of the aetiologies and pathologies for pain in the context of Traditional Chinese Medicine Clear discussion of the principles of treatment acupuncture point selection and combination Detailed explanation of herbal and acupuncture treatments for common and complex pain conditions Deals comprehensively with the commonest clinical presenting symptoms Provides treatment plans and modifications to these plans offering more options for the practitioner Includes detailed and useful case histories New to this edition New chapter on treatment of pain in children Separate sections for the gynecologic conditions Includes Western named conditions Red Flags for practitioners to indicate situations which are potentially life threatening or dangerous Suggested treatments now include acupuncture as well as herbal treatments Following on from each treatment a prognosis is now provided Thorough exploration of the aetiologies and pathologies for pain in the context of Traditional Chinese Medicine Clear discussion of the principles of treatment acupuncture point selection and combination Detailed explanation of herbal and acupuncture treatments for common and
