Mario Damen, Kim Overlaet

Varia Historica Brabantica Iv:

The Low Countries History Yearbook 1978 I. Schoffer, 2012-12-06 Constructing and Representing Territory in Late Medieval and Early Modern Europe Mario Damen, Kim Overlaet, 2025-10-01 In recent political and legal history scholars seldom specify how and why they use the concept of territory In research on state formation processes and nation building for instance the term mostly designates an enclosed geographical area ruled by a central government Inspired by ideas from political geographers this book explores the layered and constantly changing meanings of territory in late medieval and early modern Europe before cartography and state formation turned boundaries and territories into more fixed but still changeable geographical entities Its central thesis is that assessing the notion of territory in a pre modern setting involves analysing territorial practices practices that relate people and power to space s The essays in this book not only examine the construction and spatial structure of pre modern territories but also explore their perception and representation through the use of a broad range of sources from administrative texts to maps from stained glass windows to chronicles The Making of a Bourgeois State Marjolein C. 't Hart, 1993 A Companion to Reformed Orthodoxy Herman Selderhuis, 2013-03-15 This book reflects and comprises the latest in research on the history and theology of Reformed Orthodoxy 1550 1750 and is at the same time a work in progress which makes this volume in the Companion series unique The reason for this is not only the quality of the authors and the chapters they have produced but also the fact that the study of Reformed Orthodoxy has in recent years taken an entirely new approach and has received renewed and spirited attention whose results have so far not been brought together in one book The renewed interest and reappraisal of this period in intellectual history is reflected in this work in which an international team of renowned scholars give an oversight of this fascinating period in intellectual history Contributors include Willem van Asselt Aza Goudriaan Irena Backus Mark Beach Christian Moser Anton Vos Tobias Sarx Andreas M hling Carl Trueman Graeme Murdock Joel Beeke Sebastian Rehnman Scott Clark John Fesko Luca Baschera Maarten Wisse Hugo Meijer Pieter Rouwendal and John Witte A Cumulative Bibliography of Medieval Military History and Technology Kelly DeVries, 2001-11-01 There is perhaps no other more lively area for study in medieval history than medieval military history with its attendant and complementary field the history of medieval military technology In the past twenty years it seems that more major scholarly inroads have been made in this field than in any other historical genre of medieval studies or chronological period of military history What this has meant is that it is now more difficult to keep up with all of the trends and sources in the field than ever before Hence the need for a reference work which covers what has previously been written and which in turn can assist the scholar both the more experienced academic and the beginner to improve his or her work in medieval military history or the history of medieval military technology Utilizing library catalogues bibliographies and footnotes this bibliography has compiled the most complete list of secondary references to works in medieval military history and the history of military technology It keeps fairly strictly to a geography which centers on conventional medieval boundaries Europe Byzantium and the Middle East However the chronology does differ from the conventional medieval dates Because of its influence on the early Middle Ages references to Late Antiquity especially to the military history and technology of the third and fourth century Roman Empire have been included For the opposite reason the influence of the Middle Ages on the sixteenth and early seventeenth centuries references to military history and technology up to 1648 have been included as well This is especially important in the study of the Ottoman Turkish Wars and Arms and Armor where the end of the fifteenth century as a chronological terminus makes little sense

Coming to Terms with Superdiversity Peter Scholten, Maurice Crul, Paul van de Laar, 2018-11-26 This open access book discusses Rotterdam as clear example of a superdiverse city that is only reluctantly coming to terms with this new reality Rotterdam as is true for many post industrial cities has seen a considerable backlash against migration and diversity the populist party Leefbaar Rotterdam of the late Pim Fortuyn is already for many years the largest party in the city At the same time Rotterdam has become a majority minority city where the people of Dutch descent have become a numerical minority themselves The book explores how Rotterdam is coming to terms with superdiversity by an analysis of its migration history of the city the composition of the migrant population and the Dutch working class population local politics and by a comparison with Amsterdam and other cities As such it contributes to a better understanding not just of how and why super diverse cities emerge but also how and why the reaction to a super diverse reality can be so different By focusing on different aspects of superdiversity coming from different angles and various disciplinary backgrounds this book will be of interest to students and scholars in migration policy sciences urban studies and urban sociology as well as policymakers and the broader public

Merchants and Trading in the Sixteenth Century Jeroen Puttevils, 2015-10-06 Sixteenth century Europe was powered by commerce Whilst mercantile groups from many areas prospered those from the Low Countries were particularly successful This study based on extensive archival research charts the ascent of the merchants established around Antwerp David Joris and Dutch Anabaptism, 1524-1543 Gary K. Waite, 2006-01-01 No detailed description available for David Joris and Dutch Anabaptism 1524 1543

The Search for a Patron in the Middle Ages and the Renaissance David G. Wilkins, Rebecca L. Wilkins, 1996

Nostalgia in the Early Modern World Harriet Lyon, Alexandra Walsham, 2023 How can the concept of nostalgia illuminate the culturally specific ways in which societies understand the contested relationship between the past present and future The word nostalgia was invented in the late seventeenth century to describe the debilitating effects of homesickness Now widely defined as a sense of longing for a lost past initially it was more closely linked with dislocation in space By exploring some of its many textual visual and musical manifestations in the tumultuous period between c 1350 and 1800 this volume resists the assumption that nostalgia is a distinctive by product of modernity It also forges a fruitful link between three lively areas of current scholarly enquiry memory temporality and emotion The contributors deploy nostalgia as a tool for investigating perceptions of the passage of time and historical change unsettling experiences of migration and geographical displacement and the connections between remembering and forgetting affect and imagination Ranging across Europe and the Atlantic world they examine the moments sites and communities in which it arose alongside how it was used to express both criticism and regret about the religious political social and cultural upheavals that shaped the early modern world They approach it as a complex mixed feeling that opens a new window into individual subjectivities and collective mentalities
