Darina Lepadatu, Thomas Janoski, 2020-02-18 This book examines the dominance and significance of lean organizing in the international economy Scholars from each discipline see lean production as positive or negative the book blends theory with practice by sorting out these different academic views and revealing how lean is implemented in different ways The first part synthesizes academic research from a range of disciplines including engineering sociology and management to present the reader with an integrated understanding of the benefits and drawbacks of lean management The second part links this theory to practice with a set of case studies from companies like Apple Google Nike Toyota and Walmart that demonstrate how lean is implemented in a variety of settings The book concludes with three models explaining how Toyotism Nikefication with offshoring and Waltonism provide full or less complete models of lean production It clearly presents the positive and negative aspects of lean and insights into the culture of lean organizations With its rich interdisciplinary approach Framing and Managing Lean Organizations in the New Economy will benefit researchers and students across a range of classes from management sociology and public policy to engineering Competing Chinese and Foreign Firms in Swelling Chinese Economy

Tetsuo Abo, 2010 In the rapid growth of the Chinese economy as the world's factory and market while this process has been supported by foreign companies local Chinese companies have also emerged in the brief span of about 10 years to become major players This is an extremely rare case in the world history and recently even among the BRICs and the NIEs One cannot help but wonder what strategic positions foreign firms have adopted to cope with the extraordinary fierce challenges they have had to face from local Chinese firms A workshop discussed and illuminated the corporate activities and competitive and cooperative strategies of both Chinese and foreign firms from the perspective of Japanese European US and Asian firms
