Pittz, Joseph

Postell, 2022-01-13 Questions at the very heart of the American experiment about what the nation is and who its people are have lately assumed a new even violent urgency As the most fundamental aspects of American citizenship and constitutionalism come under ever more powerful pressure and as the nation's politics increasingly give way to divisive partisan extremes this book responds to the critical political challenge of our time the need to return to some conception of shared principles as a basis for citizenship and a foundation for orderly governance In various ways and from various perspectives this volume's authors locate these principles in the American practice of citizenship and constitutionalism Chapters in the book's first part address critical questions about the nature of U S citizenship subsequent essays propose a rethinking of traditional notions of citizenship in light of the new challenges facing the country With historical and theoretical insights drawn from a variety of sources ranging from Montesquieu John Adams and Henry Clay to the transcendentalists Cherokee freedmen and modern identitarians American Citizenship and Constitutionalism in Principle and Practice makes the case that American constitutionalism as shaped by several centuries of experience can ground a shared notion of American citizenship To achieve widespread agreement in our fractured polity this notion may have to be based on thin political principles the authors concede yet this does not rule out the possibility of political community By articulating notions of citizenship and constitutionalism that are both achievable and capable of fostering solidarity and a common sense of purpose this timely volume drafts a blueprint for the building of a genuinely shared political future John Marshall Jean Edward Smith, 1996-11-15 Confidant of presidents friend to the founding fathers statesman envoy and legislator who was this man who gave up a flourishing legal practice to take on the thankless task of shaping the Court and went on to make it into the institution we see today The Founders and the Classics Carl J. Richard, 1995-08-11 The influence of Greek and Roman authors on our American forefathers finally becomes clear in this fascinating book the first comprehensive study of the founders classical reading African American Autobiographers Emmanuel S. Nelson, 2002-03-30 There is growing popular and scholarly interest in autobiography along with increasing regard for the achievements of African American writers The first reference of its kind this volume chronicles the autobiographical tradition in African American literature Included are alphabetically arranged entries for 66 African American authors who present autobiographical material in their works The volume profiles major figures such as Frederick Douglass Zora Neale Hurston Richard Wright Maya Angelou James Baldwin and Malcolm X along with many lesser known autobiographers who deserve greater attention While some are known primarily for their literary accomplishments others have gained acclaim for their diverse contributions to society The entries are written by expert contributors and provide authoritative information about their subjects Each begins with a concise biography which summarizes the life and achievements of the autobiographer This is followed by a discussion of major autobiographical works and themes along with an overview of the autobiographer's critical reception The entries close with primary and secondary bibliographies and a selected general bibliography concludes the volume Together the entries
