Ways Of Looking How To Experience Contemporary Art:

Ways of Looking Ossian Ward, 2014-09-16 Art has changed Today's works of art may have no obvious focal point Traditional artistic media no longer do what we expect of them The styles and movements that characterized art production prior to the twenty first century no longer exist This book provides a straightforward guide to understanding contemporary art based on the concept of the tabula rasa a clean slate and a fresh mind Ossian Ward presents a six step program that gives readers new ways of looking at some of the most challenging art being produced today Since artists increasingly work across traditional media and genres Ward has developed an alternative classification system for contemporary practice such as Art as Entertainment Art as Confrontation Art as Joke categories that help to make sense of otherwise obscure seeming works There are also 20 Spotlight features which guide readers through encounters with key works Ultimately the message is that any encounter with a challenging work of contemporary art need not be intimidating or alienating but rather a dramatic sensually rewarding and thought provoking experience Historical Dictionary of Contemporary Art Ann Lee

Creative Engagements with Ecologies of Place Mary

Modeen, Iain Biggs, 2020-12-28 This book explores an exciting range of creative engagements with ecologies of place using geopoetics deep mapping and slow residency to propose broadly based collaborations in a form of disciplinary agnosticism Providing a radical alternative to current notions of interdisciplinarity this book demonstrates the breadth of new creative approaches and attitudes that now challenge assumptions of the solitary genius and a culture of possessive individualism Drawing upon a multiplicity of perspectives the book builds on a variety of differing creative approaches contrasting ways in which both visual art and the concept of the artist are shifting through engagement with ecologies of place Through examples of specific established practices in the UK Australia and the USA and other emergent practices from across the world it provides the reader with a rich illustration of the ways in which ensemble creative undertakings are reactivating art's relationship with place and transforming the role of the artist This book will be of interest to artists art educators environmental activists cultural geographers place based philosophers and postgraduate students and to all those concerned with the revival of place through creative work in the twenty first century

Mapping Multimodal Performance Studies Maria Grazia Sindoni, Janina Wildfeuer, Kay O'Halloran, 2016-12-01 This book is a first attempt to map the broad context of performance studies from a multimodal perspective It collects original research on traditional performing arts theatre dance opera live durational performance and mediated recorded performances films television shows as well as performative discursive practices on social media by adopting several theories and methodologies all dealing with the notion of multimodality As a mostly dynamic and also interactive environment for various text types and genres the context of performance studies provides many opportunities to produce meaning verbally and non verbally All chapters in this book develop frameworks for the analysis of performance related events and activities and explore empirical case studies in a range of different ages and cultures A further focus lies on the communicative strategies deployed by different communities of practice taking into account processes of production distribution and consumption of such texts in diverse spatial and temporal contexts Buddha Mind in Contemporary Art Jacquelynn Baas, Mary Jane Jacob, 2004 Eminently readable and extremely meaningful The contributors tackle essential questions about the relationship of art and life The book is also very timely offering a way to approach Buddhism through unexpected channels Lynn Gumpert Director Grey Art Gallery New York University Red Enlightenment Graham Jones, 2023-05-09 Why we need a materialist spirituality for the secular left and how to build one The left commonly rejects religion and spirituality as counter revolutionary forces citing Marx's famous dictum that religion is the opium of the people Yet forms of spirituality have motivated struggles throughout history ranging from medieval peasant uprisings and colonial slave revolts to South American liberation theology and the US civil rights movement And in a world where religion is growing and political movements are ridden with conflict burnout and failure what can the left learn from religion Red Enlightenment argues not only for a deepened understanding of religious matters but calls for the secular left to develop its own spiritual perspectives It proposes a materialist spirituality built from socialist and scientific sources finding points of contact with the global history of philosophy and religion From cybernetics to liberation theology from ancient Indian and Chinese philosophy to Marxist dialectical materialism from traditional religious practices to contemporary art music and film Red Enlightenment sets out a plausible secular spirituality a new socialist praxis and a utopian vision
