Whips And Whipmaking By D W Morgan:

Whips of the West David W. Morgan, 2007 This book is designed to bring together and record the development of whips in the United States It covers the production of buggy whips in Westfield MA a center for the growth of the Industrial Revolution in New England and carries on to the Diamond Whip Company in Chicago and the handcrafted whips of the far West The book is liberally illustrated and records essential historical documentation in the appendices Whips and Whipmaking David W. Morgan, 1972 Whipmaking as a craft the highest refinement of the art of braiding is the main emphasis of this work It refers primarily to the Australian and American practice although there is some reference to English and other usage The techniques used by whipmakers are described and maintenance and repair are presented in explicit detail Dictionary of Leather-working Tools, C. 1700-1950, and the Tools of Allied Trades R. A. Salaman, 1986

Introduction to Corrections Robert D. Morgan, 2002 Designed to help the beginning leather braider acquire basic skills in a straightforward manner this book shows readers how to braid simple projects fairly quickly With close attention to detail and a little practice using the methods described here novices can produce attractive and enduring items from either precut lace or from a skin or side of leather

Leather braiding was developed in Australia in whipmaking shops. The craft had been carried to Australia by thongmakers from England who were familiar with the thongs used on finely braided carriage whips. Kangaroo leather, one of the finest leathers available for braiding, provided the material for high quality work and a large and discriminating market in Australia led to improvements in techniques. Using these highly refined techniques and providing complete instructions and clear closeup photographs showing each step in the process, David Morgan has created an excellent book for those who want to learn to braid leather. A metallurgical engineer by training and occupation in the 1960s, Morgan became interested in Australian braided work made from kangaroo hide. With his wife, he set up a part time mail order business selling a variety of Australian imports. In the 1980s, he made the whips for the Indiana Jones movies and he has been making them ever since. By 1990, he had abandoned metallurgy to run the mail order business full time. He is now following an interest in the historical aspects of cattle working whips.
