Reconfiguring the Museum Ana-Maria Herman, 2023-02-10 Digital media technologies have provided an occasion not only for novel ways to display and exhibit collections but also for new politics to arise as museums and urban settings change While some believe these changes are driven by humans others see digital media technologies at the heart of these changes Reconfiguring the Museum offers a third explanation that considers both the social and technical together and thereby captures the experimental nature of introducing novel digital media technologies to museums and the uncertainty messiness contingency and complexity involved In this sociotechnical case study of a novel augmented reality app first designed to exhibit collections from the Museum of London across the sprawling capital city and later remade for the McCord Museum to display collections throughout Montreal Ana Maria Herman reveals how the app introduced unexpected new relations between the museums their collections advertising agencies sponsors technology companies corporations urban spaces and end users She shows how museum practices related to curating designing building visiting and modifying exhibitions were transformed and how in such unsettled arrangements what we think of as old cultural politics can unexpectedly re emerge while new digital politics related to big data surveillance and automated processes may not necessarily materialize A detailed account of emerging actors and practices involved in making digital exhibitions Reconfiguring the Museum offers practical considerations for museum culture and heritage practitioners charged with creating digital displays and accounting for their success or failure The Tourist Gaze 3.0, 2011 Tourism and Gender, 2007-01-01 While contemporary popular discourses dismiss gender and feminism as passe patriarchy and sexism continue to limit human possibilities around the globe This collection of studies seeks to advance feminist and gender tourism studies with its focus on embodiment

Routledge Handbook of the Tourist Experience Richard Sharpley, 2021-11-17 Routledge Handbook of the Tourist Experience offers a comprehensive synthesis of contemporary research on the tourist experience It draws together multidisciplinary perspectives from leading tourism scholars to explore emergent tourist behaviours and motivations This handbook provides up to date critical discussions of established and emergent themes and issues related to the tourist experience from a primarily socio cultural perspective It opens with a detailed introduction which lays down the framework used to examine the dynamic parameters of the tourist experience Organised into five thematic sections chapters seek to build and enhance knowledge and understanding of the significance and meaning of diverse elements of the tourist experience Section 1 conceptualises and understands the tourist experience through an exploration of conventional themes such as tourism as authentic and spiritual experience as well as emerging themes such as tourism as an embodied experience Section 2 investigates the new developing tourist demands and motivations and a growing interest in the travel career Section 3 considers the significance motives practices and experiences of different types of tourists and their roles such as the tourist as photographer Section 4 discusses the relevance of place to the tourist experience by exploring the relationship between tourism and place The last section Section 5 scrutinises the role of the tourist in creating their experiences through themes such as transformations in the tourist role from passive receiver of experiences to co creator of experiences and external mediators in creating tourist experiences This handbook is the first to fill a notable gap in the tourism literature and collate within a single volume critical insights into the diverse elements of the tourist experience today It will be of key interest to academics and students across the fields of tourism hospitality management geography marketing and consumer behaviour

The Tourist Gaze John Urry, 2002-03-29 This is a fully revised edition of the groundbreaking study on tourism which was originally published in 1990 The original chapters have been empirically updated and many new research findings incorporated and evaluated This Second Edition deepens our understanding of how the tourist gaze orders and regulates the relationship with the tourist environment demarcating the other and identifying the out of the ordinary It elucidates the relationship between tourism and embodiment and elaborates on the connections between mobility as a mark of modern and postmodern experience and the attraction of tourism as a lifestyle choice The result is a book that builds on the proven strengths of the first edition and revitalizes the argument to address the needs of researchers and students in the new century Praise for the First Edition There is much to be applauded here this is an engaging and thought provoking book which should be read by those interested in advertising and the changing nature of contemporary culture Contemporary Sociology The book is written in a very accessible style that would serve as a good point of entry for anyone interested in leisure tourism and cultural change in contemporary societies The scope of Urry s book is breathtaking one is left with a feeling of coming to terms with the complex set of social relations that are tourism both in their production and consumption Planning Practice and Research

The Power of New Urban Tourism Claudia Ba, Sybille Frank, Claus Müller, Anna Laura Raschke, Kristin Wellner, Annika Zecher, 2021-07-21 The Power of New Urban Tourism explores new forms of tourism in urban areas with their social political cultural architectural and economic implications By investigating various showcases of New Urban Tourism within its social and spatial frames the book offers insights into power relations and connections between tourism and cityscapes in various socio spatial settings around the world Contributors to the volume show how urban space has become a battleground between local residents and visitors with changing perceptions of tourists as co users of public and private urban spaces and as influencers of the local economies This includes different roles of digital platforms as resources for access to the city and touristic opportunities as well as ways to organise and express protest or shifting representations of urban space With contemporary cases from a wide disciplinary spectrum the contributors investigate the power of New Urban Tourism in Africa Asia the Americas Europe and Oceania This focus allows a cross cultural evaluation of New Urban Tourism and its dynamic and changing conception transforming and subverting cities and tourism alike The Power of New Urban Tourism will be of great interest to academics researchers and students in the fields of cultural studies sociology the political sciences economics history human geography urban design and planning architecture ethnology and anthropology Tourism and Nationalism in Nepal Kalyan Bhandari, 2018-11-19 This book explores the role of tourism in the expression of nationalism in Nepal It investigates assemblage of images emblems and symbols of Nepali nationhood in various touristic representations and narratives from Nepali travellers and diasporic visitors to showcase how they express nationhood and stimulate a strong sentiment of national feeling and belonging The book suggests that touristic settings in Nepal provide a venue for articulation of nation first through internal ascription that is the construction of identity by citizens with the nation and second through the promotion of distinctive touristic identity through the assertion of national uniqueness and distinguishing the nation within the larger international community Given the recent great political changes post conflict nation rebuilding and development Nepal offers a fascinating case study on the role of tourism and nationalism This book will be of great interest to students scholars and professionals working in tourism and heritage studies sociology anthropology geography political science and area studies as well as those interested in the study of developing societies

Le Mois de la Photo À Montréal ,2003 The Host Gaze in Global Tourism Omar Moufakkir, Yvette Reisinger, 2013 Most tourism theories have been developed from the tourists perspective and focus on the Anglo American experience This unique book for researchers and students of tourism is the first to look at the host gaze how it is constructed how it has developed how it varies between countries and how the tourism industry can affect it By looking at the gazes of both Western and non Western hosts this book analyses the consequences such a gaze can have upon the tourist The Tourist as a Metaphor of the Social World Graham Dann, 2002-01-01 This book includes 15 papers selected from the presentations that were delivered at the 15th World Congress of the International Sociological Association. These papers were prepared for that organization's research committee on international tourism which took as its overall theme the tourist as a metaphor of the social world. Following the introductory chapter, two contributions, chapters 2 and 3, raise serious fundamental questions about how academics should research and hence theorize about tourists. The next two contributions, chapters 4 and 5, provide a critique of conventional tourism wisdom. Chapter 6 suggests that tourism is an intricate and evolving social network with varying degrees of trust that are based on the correlative processes of self presentation and interpretation. Chapter 7 conceptualizes the tourist and the social world within a paradigm of social facts so that the former becomes a sign of the latter. Chapter 8 sees the tourist as never entirely alone on an uncharted journey because there are always those who have undertaken it before. Chapter 9 asks the question as to whether or not tourists experience reality. Chapter 10 provides an analogy between tourism and love in all its many phases. Chapter 11 emphasizes that it is necessary to go beyond traditional analyses that focus solely on the tourist gaze. The next two essays, chapters 12 and 13, highlight the fact that not all tourists are identical and hence by implication that the tourist as a metaphor of the social world must be understood as a multiple persona figurative of complex reality. The final three contributions, chapters 14-16, present postmodern and futuristic perspectives on tourists. The book has a subject index.
