Grace's Ground War Hallee Bridgeman, 2015-01-19 RUTH AUBERTIN's father a highly decorated veteran of the Great War moves his family from British Palestine to the wilds of Great Britain after the Hebron massacre in 1929. He has always known the Germans would return to France and trained his children from the time they could walk, turning them into finely tuned weapons with multiple skills ranging in weapons training to hand-to-hand combat. When the Germans roll into France, Ruth and her brothers volunteer with the British Special Services and Ruth joins the Virtues team under the code name of GRACE. Never knowing the bond of sisterhood before, Ruth grows close to the six other women on the team and learns to rely on them and their varied skills as she goes undercover in Occupied France. Working directly for the notorious Praetorian, she and her team plan the largest prisoner escape in the war to date. The arrest of TEMPERANCE raises the stakes. Now they have to move their timetable up, increasing the overall risk of the mission. Can Ruth and her team pull off the mission or will too many variables crash together at the wrong time? GRACE'S GROUND WAR is part five of eight serialized novellas entitled the Virtues and Valor series. Seven valorous women, different nationalities, ethnicities, and social backgrounds come together as a team called the Virtues. In 1941, Great Britain's special war department assembles an experimental and exclusively female cohort of combat operatives. Four willing spies, a wireless radio operator, an ingenious code breaker, and a fearless pilot are each hand-picked, recruited, and trained to initiate a daring mission in Occupied France. As plans are laid to engineer the largest prison break of Allied POWs in history, the Nazis capture the Virtues radio operator. It will take the cohesive teamwork of the rest of the women to save her life before Berlin breaks her and brings the force of the Third Reich to bear. Some find love, some find vengeance, and some discover the kind of strength that lives in the human heart when all they can do is rely on each other and their shared belief. Courage, faith, and valor intersect, but in the end, one pays the ultimate price.
