Kassim, Damià Barceló, 2009-03-24 and used in munitions Rather the requirements for the agent's military effects took precedence In addition the interaction among the political technical and legal challenges connected with the known or possible risks posed by CW agents is complex and sometimes not well understood This is usually because technical considerations when acted on are almost invariably informed by political ones such as various legal requirements The book contains nine chapters covering different aspects of the research on environmental consequences of war and its aftermath and covers in one additional chapter more general issues such as prevention of war and its environmental consequences the legal political and technical background to selected environmental and human health effects of CW agents and the atmospheric transport and deposition of persistent organic pollutants under warfare conditions to more specific ones related to two main tragic examples the war in the Balkans and the Gulf War Aspects of the war in the Balkans cover contamination by heavy metals in Serbian national parks the impact of NATO strikes on the Danube river basin and the problems associated with transuranium elements The Gulf War in Kuwait covers other problems related to the impact of oil contamination the impact on groundwater resources and the soil damage of ground fortifications among other environmental and health problems

Ethnomedicine Pamela I. Erickson, 2007-11-14 People throughout time and place no matter their belief system have sought to discover causes and cures for illness and disease Among Westerners is a groundswell to augment biomedicine with holistic practices inherent in ethnomedicines of non Western traditions Yet missing are awareness and knowledge of the foundations and outgrowth of these alternative concepts Erickson fills this gap by clearly explaining the basic organizing principles that underlie all medical systems the full range of theories of disease causation the geographical distribution of medical practices and the historical trends that led to biomedical dominance Her efficient balanced approach highlights commonalities among the world's vast and diverse medical systems making ethnomedicine easier to internalize and to apply in clinical settings Programmatic EIS for Stockpile Stewardship and Management ,1996 Violence and Abuse in Society Angela Brownemiller Ph.D.,2012-08-17 Suitable for professionals students and lay readers alike this book provides an immensely informative profoundly moving and remarkably comprehensive look at the range and nature of violence and abuse by and of humans today Angela Browne Miller PhD is editor of this comprehensive and unique set of four volumes containing over 110 chapters from over 130 international experts with backgrounds in behavioral science social science law and medicine as well as researchers practitioners and lay persons with varied specialties These volumes cover the following areas reflected by their titles Volume One Fundamentals Effects and Extremes Volume Two Setting Age Gender and Other Key Elements Volume Three Psychological Ritual Sexual and Trafficking Issues and Volume Four Faces on Intimate Partner Violence This collection looks at the range of violence and abuse we see today conducting a detailed examination against the backdrop of a history of violence and abuse around the globe The works within focus for the most part on violence and abuse taking place outside of war contexts discussing road rage child abuse elder abuse abuse of women and girls sex slavery violent rituals including female genital cutting abuse within cults domestic violence gun violence and modern problems fueled by technology including cyberbullying and cyberstalking Drug War Politics Eva Bertram,Morris Blachman,Kenneth Sharpe,Peter Andreas,1996-07-15 Why have our drug wars failed and how might we turn things around Ask the authors of this hardhitting expos of U S efforts to fight drug trafficking and abuse In a bold analysis of a century s worth of policy failure Drug War Politics turns on its head many familiar bromides about drug politics It demonstrates how instead of learning from our failures we duplicate and reinforce them in the same flawed policies The authors examine the politics of denial that has led to this catastrophic predicament and propose a basis for a realistic and desperately needed solution Domestic and foreign drug wars have consistently fallen short because they are based on a flawed model of force and punishment the authors show The failure of these misguided solutions has led to harsher get tough policies debilitating cycles of more force and punishment and a drug problem that continues to escalate On the foreign policy front billions of dollars have been wasted corruption has mushroomed and human rights undermined in Latin America and across the globe Yet cheap drugs still flow abundantly across our borders At home more money than ever is spent on law enforcement and an unprecedented number of people disproportionately minorities are incarcerated But drug abuse and addiction persist The authors outline the political struggles that help create and sustain the current punitive approach They probe the workings of Washington politics demonstrating how presidential and congressional out toughing tactics create a logic of escalation while the criticisms and alternatives of reformers are sidelined or silenced Critical of both the punitive model and the legalization approach Drug War Politics calls for a bold new public health approach one that frames the drug problem as a public health not a criminal concern The authors argue that only by situating drug issues in the context of our fundamental institutions the family neighborhoods and schools can we hope to provide viable treatment prevention and law enforcement In its comprehensive investigation of our long futile battle with drugs and its original argument for fundamental change this book is essential for every concerned citizen War on Hunger ,1974 Oxford Textbook of Global Public Health Roger Detels,Quarraisha Abdool Karim,Fran Baum,Liming Li,Alastair H.
