WAYWARD WOMEN: SEXUALITY AND AGENCY IN A NEW GUINEA SOCIETY. HOLLY. WARDLOW,2021 Wives and Wanderers in a New Guinea Highlands Society Marie Olive Reay,2022-01-18 Wives and Wanderers in a New Guinea Highlands Society brings to the reader anthropologist Marie Reay s field research from the 1950s and 1960s on women s lives in the Wahgi Valley Central Highlands of Papua New Guinea Dramatically written each chapter adds to the main story that Reay wanted to tell contrasting young girls freedom to court and choose partners with the constraints and violence they were to experience as married women This volume provides readable ethnographic material for undergraduate courses in whole or in part It will be of interest to students and scholars of gender relations anthropology and feminism Melanesia and the Pacific The material in this book which Reay had written by 1965 but never published remains startlingly contemporary and relevant Marie Olive Reay was a social anthropologist who did research in Australian Indigenous communities and in the Wahgi Valley in the Central Highlands of Papua New Guinea Employed at The Australian National University from 1959 to 1988 when she retired Reay passed away in 2004 In 2011 this manuscript was found in her personal papers reconstructed and edited by Francesca Merlan augmented here by an additional introduction by eminent anthropologist of the Highlands and of gender Marilyn Strathern Had this manuscript appeared when Reay apparently completed it in its present form around 1965 it would have been the first published ethnography of women s lives in the Central Highlands of Papua New Guinea Its retrieval from Reay s papers and availability now adds a new dimension to works on gender relations in Melanesian societies and to the history of Australian and Pacific anthropology Wives and Wanderers in a New Guinea Highlands Society Marie Olive Reay,Marie Reay,2014 Wives and Wanderers in a New Guinea Highlands Society brings to the reader anthropologist Marie Reay s field research from the 1950s and 1960s on women s lives in the Wahgi Valley Central Highlands of Papua New Guinea Dramatically written each chapter adds to the main story that Reay wanted to tell contrasting young girls freedom to court and choose partners with the constraints and violence they were to experience as married women This volume provides readable ethnographic material for undergraduate courses in whole or in part It will be of interest to students and scholars of gender relations anthropology and feminism Melanesia and the Pacific The material in this book which Reay had written by 1965 but never published remains startlingly contemporary and relevant Marie Olive Reay was a social anthropologist who did research in Australian indigenous communities and in the Wahgi Valley in the Central Highlands of Papua New Guinea Employed at The Australian National University from 1959 to 1988 when she retired Reay passed away in 2004 In 2011 this manuscript was found in her personal papers reconstructed and edited by Francesca Merlan augmented here by an additional introduction by eminent anthropologist of the Highlands and of gender Marilyn Strathern Had this manuscript appeared when Reay apparently completed it in its present form around 1965 it would have been the first published ethnography of women s lives in the Central Highlands of Papua New Guinea Its retrieval from Reay

s papers and availability now adds a new dimension to works on gender relations in Melanesian societies and to the history of Australian and Pacific anthropology Foodways and Empathy Anita von Poser, 2013-07-01 Through the sharing of food people feel entitled to inquire into one another's lives and ponder one another's states in relation to their foodways This in depth study focuses on the Bosmun of Daiden a Ramu River people in an under represented area in the ethnography of Papua New Guinea uncovering the conceptual convergence of local notions of relatedness foodways and empathy In weaving together discussions about paramount values as passed on through myth the expression of feelings in daily life and the bodily experience of social and physical environs a life world unfolds in which moral emotional and embodied foodways contribute notably to the creation of relationships Concerned with unique processes of making kin the book adds a distinct case to recent debates about relatedness and empathy and sheds new light onto the conventional anthropological themes of food production sharing and exchange Shifting States Alison Dundon, Richard Vokes, 2020-12-29

Shifting States draws on a rich history of anthropological theorising on all kinds of states from the pre to the post industrial and explores topics as diverse as bureaucracy infrastructure surveillance securitization and public health As we enter the third decade of the twentieth century there is a growing sense that the state is in crisis everywhere Although the nature of this perceived crisis varies from place to place everywhere it is seen to have been caused by some combination of the inter related forces of globalisation of successive economic shocks and of the rise of social media fuelled populist movements Yet conversely there is also a creeping perception that state power is becoming more pervasive in its reach and in its effects in ways which make it ever more imminent to the material worlds in which we live more fundamental to the ways in which we conceive of the future and more foundational to our very sense of self How might we try to make sense of and to mediate these apparently contradictory impressions Based on ethnographic case studies from all over the world this timely volume forges new ways of thinking about how state power manifests and is imagined and about the effects it has on ordinary people's lives In so doing the volume provides tools not only for understanding states responses to the COVID 19 pandemic but also for judging what effects these responses are likely to have Women and Sex Work in Cambodia Larissa Sandy, 2014-08-27 Prostitution is strongly embedded in local cultural practices in Cambodia Based on extensive original research this book explores the nature of prostitution in Cambodia providing explanations of why the phenomenon is so widely tolerated It outlines the background of the French colonial period with its filles malades considers the contemporary legal framework and analyses the motivations for sex work examining in particular how women become locked into debt bondage Overall the book provides significant contributions to wider debates about sex work sex trafficking and the constrained nature of women's choices

Critical Sexual Literacy Gilbert Herdt, Michelle Marzullo, Nicole Polen Petit, 2021-08-03 This book is a new and exciting resource for teachers students and activists who aim to critically examine contemporary sexuality through the lens of sexual literacy and situated social analysis This original anthology provides shorter cutting edge essays on theory method and activism including the nature of globalization and local sexuality discovered in glocal topics processes and contexts Within the anthology students educators practitioners and policy makers will find critical conversations regarding a wide array of sexual topics that impact our world currently These cutting edge essays inform readers of key moments in sexual history including areas relating to research practice and social policy and provide a platform from which to engage in rich discussion and forecast the development of sexual literacy in our world within multiple contexts Between Rights and Rightfulness Nicole George, Associate Professor of Peace and Conflict Studies Nicole George, 2025 This book introduces the study providing background on the challenge of effectively regulating gender violence in Pacific Island Countries and the objectives that frame the analysis undertaken in Fiji Bougainville and New Caledonia It discusses the analytical dividends that accrue from the theoretical frame that draw from feminist institutionalism and feminist theories of scale and introduces the photo elicitation research methods that have been deployed to examine everyday perspectives of rule making and rule taking on gender and gender violence Provided by publisher Civic Insecurity Vicki Luker, Sinclair Dinnen, 2010-12-01 Papua New Guinea has a complex law and order problem and an entrenched epidemic of HIV This book explores their interaction It also probes their joint challenges and opportunities most fundamentally for civic security a condition that could offer some immunity to both Language and Social Justice Kathleen C. Riley, Bernard C. Perley, Inmaculada M.

García-Sánchez, 2024-02-22 Language whether spoken written or signed is a powerful resource that is used to facilitate social justice or undermine it The first reference resource to use an explicitly global lens to explore the interface between language and social justice this volume expands our understanding of how language symbolizes frames and expresses political economic and psychic problems in society thus contributing to visions for social justice Investigating specific case studies in which language is used to instantiate and or challenge social injustices each chapter provides a unique perspective on how language carries value and enacts power by presenting the historical contexts and ethnographic background for understanding how language engenders and or negotiates specific social justice issues Case studies are drawn from Africa Asia Europe North and South America and the Pacific Islands with leading experts tackling a broad range of themes such as equality sovereignty communal well being and the recognition of complex intersectional identities and relationships within and beyond the human world Putting issues of language and social justice on a global stage and casting light on these processes in communities increasingly impacted by ongoing colonial neoliberal and neofascist forms of globalization Language and Social Justice is an essential resource for anyone interested in this area of research
