Understanding Gender Equality in Zimbabwe Zimbabwe National Statistics Agency, 2016 New Public Management in Africa Benon C. Basheka, Lukamba-Muhiya. Tshombe, 2017-08-25 The administrative sciences have been dominated by a turn to managerial perspectives in the late 20th and early 21st centuries and in the spirit of this turn New Public Management or NPM promises to produce efficient responsible and client oriented public services The reforms carried out in the pursuit of New Public Management are often accompanied by great optimism and rapid enthusiastic steps toward implementation Even in highly developed industrial countries however these fundamental reforms often overlook the political and cultural contexts of the implementing country New Public Management in Africa Emerging Issues and Lessons provides much needed theoretical foundations for NPM reforms in the African context and reflects on the success of existing reforms in the development of several African states The individual contributions in this timely volume provide important analyses of academic discourse practical policy achievements and desiderata The book as a whole however provides a valuable impetus for public administration research in and on African states sharing findings on the results of reforms to date and adjustments required for these reforms to succeed For public administration researchers outside of Africa this book offers a review of New Public Management case studies that are unavailable or difficult to find elsewhere contributing much to the exchange between African and Western administration science research and demonstrating that African administrative research is well prepared to help resolve global challenges Israel in Africa Yotam Gidron, 2020-04-15 Amidst the turmoil of the Middle East few have noticed the extent to which Israel has slowly but surely been building alliances on the African continent Facing a growing international backlash Israel has had to look beyond its traditional Western allies for support and many African governments in turn have been happy to receive Israeli political support security assistance investments and technology But what do these relationships mean for Africa and for wider geopolitics With an examination of Africa's authoritarian development politics the rise of Born Again Christianity and of Israel's thriving high tech and arms industries from the Israeli Palestinian conflict to the migration of Africans to Israel and back again Gidron provides a comprehensive analysis of the various forces and actors shaping Israel's controversial relationships with countries on the continent In particular the book demonstrates that Israel's interest in Africa forms part of a wider diplomatic effort aimed at blocking Palestine's pursuit of international recognition Though the scale of Israeli African engagements has been little appreciated until now the book reveals how contemporary African and Middle Eastern politics and societies interact and impact each other in profound ways

Chikurubi Maximum Prison (male Section) Visit Zimbabwe Human Rights Commission, 2015 Understanding Violence Against Women in Africa Francis Onditi, Josephine Odera, 2021-08-22 This textbook provides students across Social Sciences Humanities Politics and International Studies with an in depth understanding of the issues policies and strategies for addressing the symptoms and root causes of violence against women VAW in sub Saharan Africa This text uses the United Nations Security Council's Resolution 1325 UNSCR 1325 on Women Peace and Security in Eastern and Southern Africa as a framework to present the causes and impacts of VAW and to trace the journey of sub-Saharan African countries toward gender equality. It also provides an overview of the policy and legislative frameworks that underpin the progress, challenges, and achievements of addressing VAW based on four key pillars: prevention, protection, participation, and relief and recovery. Chapters provide a wealth of knowledge as the book draws on academic literature, national, regional, and international legislations, and data collected from field research, and makes use of end-of-chapter discussion questions and quick study guides. Students will come away equipped with the tools, resources, and knowledge necessary to address and fix VAW in sub-Saharan Africa and beyond.

SADC Gender Protocol 2017 Barometer Morna, Colleen Lowe, Makamure, Lucia, 2017-10-04. The SADC Protocol on Gender and Development is the only sub-regional instrument in the world that brings together global and continental commitments to gender equality in one instrument used to enhance accountability. The Southern African Gender Protocol Alliance is a network of country and regional NGOs that campaigned for the Protocol, its updating, implementation, and tracking. Originally aligned to the Millennium Development Goals that expired in 2015, SADC Gender Ministers updated the Protocol and aligned it to the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs), Beijing Plus Twenty, and the Africa Agenda 2063 in 2016. In July 2017, the Ministers adopted a Monitoring, Evaluation, and Reporting Framework (MERF) that will be the basis of future reporting. Now in its ninth edition, the 2017 Barometer is the first assessment of the Post 2015 SADC Gender Protocol. Moving with the times, the Alliance has expanded the two key main yardsticks in the Barometer: the SADC Gender and Development Index (SGDI) and the Citizen Score Card (CSC). The Barometer incorporates many MERF and SDG indicators as well as its own unique measures of voice, choice, and control. The Barometer also introduces the Gender Responsive Assessment of Constitutions and Laws conducted by Alliance experts and networks around the region. A wealth of data, insights, and analysis awaits all readers of the Barometer that will also be made available online and in multi-media formats. The SADC we want is one in which citizens engage, step it up for gender equality, and make sure we achieve Planet 50/50 by 2030.

Zimbabwe Medium Term Plan, 2011 - 2015, 2011. Arbitrary States Rebecca Tapscott, 2021-05-27. In recent years, scholars have noted the rise of a particular type of authoritarianism worldwide in which rulers manipulate institutions designed to implement the rule of law so that they instead facilitate the exercise of arbitrary power. Even as scholars puzzle over this seemingly new phenomenon, scholarship on African politics offers helpful answers. This book places literature on the post-colonial African state in conversation with literature on modern authoritarianism, using this to frame over ten months of qualitative field research on Uganda's informal security actors, including vigilante groups, local militias, and community police. Based on this research, the book presents an original framework called institutionalized arbitrariness to explain how modern authoritarian rulers project arbitrary power even in environments of relatively functional state institutions, checks and balances, and the rule of law. In regimes characterized by institutionalized arbitrariness, the state's stochastic assertions and withdrawals of power inject unpredictability into the political relationship between both local authorities and citizens. This arrangement makes it difficult for citizens to predict which authority if any will claim jurisdiction in a given scenario and what rules will apply. This environment of pervasive political unpredictability limits space for collective action and political claim making while keeping citizens marginally engaged in the democratic process. The book is grounded in empirical research and literature theorizing the African state while seeking to inform a broader debate about contemporary forms of authoritarianism, state building and state consolidation. Oxford Studies in African Politics and International Relations is a series for scholars and students working on African politics and International Relations and related disciplines. Volumes concentrate on contemporary developments in African political science, political economy and International Relations such as electoral politics, democratization, decentralization, gender and political representation, the political impact of natural resources, the dynamics and consequences of conflict, comparative political thought and the nature of the continent's engagement with the East and West. Comparative and mixed methods work is particularly encouraged as is interdisciplinary research and work that considers ethical issues relating to the study of Africa. Case studies are welcomed but should demonstrate the broader theoretical and empirical implications of the study and its wider relevance to contemporary debates. The focus of the series is on sub-Saharan Africa although proposals that explain how the region engages with North Africa and other parts of the world are of interest. Series Editors: Nic Cheeseman, Professor of Democracy and International Development, University of Birmingham; Peace Medie, Senior Lecturer in Gender and International Politics, University of Bristol; and Ricardo Soares de Oliveira, Professor of the International Politics of Africa, University of Oxford. This is an open access title available under the terms of a CC BY-NC-ND 4.0 International licence. It is free to read at Oxford Scholarship Online and offered as a free PDF download from OUP and selected open access locations.

The Politics of Custom. John L. Comaroff, Jean Comaroff, 2018-03-08. How are we to explain the resurgence of customary chiefs in contemporary Africa? Rather than disappearing with the tide of modernity as many expected, indigenous sovereigns are instead a rising force, often wielding substantial power and legitimacy despite major changes in the workings of the global political economy in the post-Cold War era, changes in which they are themselves deeply implicated. This pathbreaking volume, edited by anthropologists John L. Comaroff and Jean Comaroff, explores the reasons behind the increasingly assertive politics of custom in many corners of Africa. Chiefs come in countless guises, from university professors through cosmopolitan businessmen to subsistence farmers, but whatever else they do, they are a critical key to understanding the tenacious hold that traditional authority enjoys in the late modern world. Together, the contributors
