Violets Blooming in a Late Spring Snow Jacqueline Ramthun,1998-01-01 Independent Publisher ,1999

Forthcoming Books Rose Arny,1998-04 Dear Linda Anonymous,2001 Ten years ago I became the adoptive father of a beautiful baby girl The joy of nurturing my daughter to the brink of her teenage years has been the most fulfilling time of my life She also has given me the noblest title of all I am a father Often during the past decade my thoughts have returned to the memory of a meeting with a young pregnant girl A young girl whose ultimate loving decision changed the course of my life I wonder if her thoughts reach across the distance to reflect about her birth child and me Is she emotionally troubled Is she at ease with her decision Does she need to be comforted by the knowledge that her birth child is being raised in a loving and stimulated environment Dear Linda is an open letter to the birthmother of my child But it is more It is an open letter to all birthmothers from the perspective of an adoptive father Not only does it express profound thanks for a mature and heart wrenching decision it expresses love Dear Linda details the events of the past eleven years Many times emotional and oftentimes humorous the reader is taken from the tribulations of a couple s infertility to the rigors of the adoption process Later the life of a special girl is chronicled This revealing glimpse of my daughter s life will erase any lingering doubts that the birthmother may harbor about her decision One learns that a selfless loving act has positively impacted not only a child and a couple but also an extended family The birthmother will learn that she touched the lives of several people in ways that she initially couldn t have imagined Letters to My Birthmother Amy E. Dean,1991 Violet's Magical Journey Aiyana Sequana,2016-10 Violet is a fairy who lives in a magical land complete with both a wizard and wood nymphs In her travels she comes across human children She is so intrigued by them that she decides she wants to become one The wizard tells her that in order to become a human child she will need both birth parents and adoptive parents She then undertakes the journey to the land of humankind As a child when she is about six she suddenly remembers that she had once been a fairy Despite once being a fairy Violet is happy she made the choice to become human Adoptive parents will be drawn and enjoy this magical journey through the adoption process Adopted children will be delighted to have the story told from their own perspective Teachers and counselors for adoptive children may find this a refreshing way to approach the subject one that empowers the child
