War And Conflict In Africa:

War and Conflict in Africa Paul D. Williams, 2013-04-16 After the Cold War Africa earned the dubious distinction of being the world's most bloody continent. But how can we explain this proliferation of armed conflicts? What caused them and what were their main characteristics? And what did the world's governments do to stop them? In this fully revised and updated second edition of his popular text, Paul Williams offers an in-depth and wide-ranging assessment of more than six hundred armed conflicts which took place in Africa from 1990 to the present day, from the continental catastrophe in the Great Lakes region to the sprawling conflicts across the Sahel and the web of wars in the Horn of Africa. Taking a broad comparative approach to examine the political contexts in which these wars occurred, he explores the major patterns of organized violence, the key ingredients that provoked them, and the major international responses undertaken to deliver lasting peace. Part I: Contexts provides an overview of the most important attempts to measure the number, scale, and location of Africa's armed conflicts and provides a conceptual and political sketch of the terrain of struggle upon which these wars were waged. Part II: Ingredients analyses the role of five widely debated features of Africa's wars: the dynamics of neopatrimonial systems of governance, the construction and manipulation of ethnic identities, questions of sovereignty and self-determination, as well as the impact of natural resources and religion. Part III: Responses discusses four major international reactions to Africa's wars: attempts to build a new institutional architecture to help promote peace and security on the continent; this architecture's two main policy instruments, peacemaking initiatives and peace operations; and efforts to develop the continent. War and Conflict in Africa will be essential reading for all students of international peace and security studies, as well as Africa's international relations.

Africa: War and Conflict in the Twentieth Century Timothy Stapleton, 2018-05-11 This book examines the causes, course, and consequences of warfare in twentieth-century Africa, a period which spanned colonial rebellions, both World Wars, and the decolonization process. Timothy Stapleton contextualizes the essential debates and controversies surrounding African conflict in the twentieth century while providing insightful introductions to such conflicts as African rebellions against colonial regimes in the early twentieth century, including the rebellion and infamous genocide of the Herero and Nama people in present-day Namibia; the African fronts of World War I and World War II and the involvement of colonized African peoples in these global conflicts; conflict surrounding the widespread decolonization of Africa in the 1950s and 1960s; rebellion and civil war in Africa during the Cold War when American and Soviet elements often intervened in efforts to turn African battlegrounds into Cold War proxy conflicts; the Second Congo Civil War, which is arguably the bloodiest conflict in any region since World War II. Supported by a glossary, a who's who of key figures, a timeline of major events, a rich bibliography, and a set of documents which highlight the themes of the book, Africa: War and Conflict in the Twentieth Century is the best available resource for students and scholars seeking an introduction to violent conflict in recent African history Narrating War and Peace in Africa Solimar Otero, 2010 Narrating War and Peace in Africa interrogates conventional representations of Africa and African culture mainly in the twentieth and early twenty first centuries with an emphasis on portrayals of conflict and peace While Africa has experienced political and social turbulence throughout its history more recent conflicts seem to reinforce the myth of barbarism across the continent in Nigeria Rwanda Somalia Sierra Leone Uganda Kenya Mozambique Chad South Africa Zimbabwe and Sudan The essays in this volume address reductive and stereotypical assumptions of postcolonial violence as tribal in nature and offer instead various perspectives across disciplinary boundaries that foster a less fetishized more contextualized understanding of African war peace and memory Through their geographical historical and cultural scope and diversity the chapters in Narrating War and Peace in Africa aim to challenge negative stereotypes that abound in relation to Africa in general and to its wars and conflicts in particular encouraging a shift to more balanced and nuanced representations of the continent and its political and social climates Contributors Ann Albuyeh Zermarie Deacon Alicia C Decker Am na Mo nfar Kayode Omoniyi Ogunfolabi Sabrina Parent Susan Rasmussen Michael Sharp Cheryl Sterling Hetty ter Haar Melissa Tully Pamela Wadende Metasebia Woldemariam Jonathan Zilberg Toyin Falola is the Jacob and Frances Sanger Mossiker Chair in the Humanities and University Distinguished Teaching Professor at the University of Texas at Austin Hetty ter Haar is an independent researcher in England Post-Cold War Conflicts in Africa Augustine C Ohanwe, 2009-07-31 During the Cold War ideological and politico military rivalries mostly dictated the actions of the competing blocs including their involvement in foreign conflicts In Africa for instance the East West rivalry of the time not only fuelled conflicts but also appeared to undermine the use of diplomacy as a tool for peacemaking and conflict resolution With the fall of the Berlin Wall in 1989 and the demise of the Soviet Union however there was a transformation of the conflict arena in the continent which presented new opportunities and threats This therefore raises a fundamental question of how the end of the Cold War has affected the character of conflicts and their successful management in Africa Using Liberia and Somalia as case studies Post Cold War Conflicts in Africa analyses how the post Cold War conflicts in these two countries and their management differed from what they would have been during the Cold War era It shows for instance that while in Liberia the major powers appeared content to cede the management of the conflict to the sub regional group ECOMOG in Somalia the conflict appeared to be turned into an arena for simple military experiment without any of the old Cold War ideological rivalries playing any role in its trajectory or management The book argues that the end of the Cold War offers an opportunity for the successful use of a new approach to conflict management in the continent which would be anchored on traditional African diplomacy This new approach would involve a triumvirate of eminent men and women from the continent regional peacekeeping forces and the warring factions themselves working in concert to replace the rifle with talking till every one agrees The Elgar Companion to War, Conflict and Peacebuilding in Africa Geoff Harris, 2024-02-12 This dynamic Companion brings together esteemed academics from across the globe to provide ten distinct approaches to peacebuilding in Africa With a timely and forward thinking approach to war and conflict the book focuses on the utilisation of traditional African dialogue in contemporary peacebuilding developing infrastructures and education for peace with a transformative agenda Contemporary Wars and Conflicts over Land and Water in Africa Carlson Anyangwe, 2022-08-08 Contemporary Wars and Conflicts over Land and Water in Africa highlights Africa s tragedy of endless conflicts Rich in case studies it examines violent conflicts and Africa s approaches to conflict resolution The case studies show that Africa continues to be a chronically unstable space tormented especially by frequent and devastating civil wars of which ethnicity religion and bad governance are some of the root causes These conflicts have occasioned massive human rights abuses arrested development reversed or slowed economic growth created a vicious circle of instability and hunger and exacerbated levels of poverty and disease in the continent In the final part of this book Carlson Anyangwe considers indigenous mechanisms for settling disputes post conflict transitional justice systems and the African Union conflict resolution mechanism that relies as it does on the United Nations peace and security framework and the peace and security functions of the African regional economic organizations Peace and Conflict in Africa David Francis, 2008-09 Provides an introduction to key themes of conflict resolution peacebuilding security and development This book presents an overview of conflict and peace across Africa which ranges from state collapse and anarchy in Somalia to protracted wars and rampant corruption in the Congo What Women Do in Wartime Meredith Turshen, Clotilde Twagiramariya, 1998-04-01 This is the first book to describe and analyze the experience of women in African civil wars A mixture of reportage testimony and scholarship the book includes contributions from women in Chad Liberia Mozambique Namibia Rwanda South Africa and Sudan The political context of these conflicts is outlined in an introduction to each chapter The book profiles women s responses to war as combatants as well as victims and describes the groups women organize in the aftermath Examining rape and other forms of gendered political violence in African civil wars this extraordinary volume is also about women taking action for change It is set to become required reading for students and academics of women s peace and African studies
