Water Services in Small Towns Klaas Schwartz,Mireia Tutusaus,2019-05-15 The importance of small towns is gaining increased recognition as a result of two developments The first development concerns the possible role of small towns in migration flows and urbanization Development of small towns in the form of improved basic services and other amenities has been promoted in order to abate the impact of urbanization on large urban centres and to alleviate service provision pressures in major urban centers whilst stimulating rural economies and eventually prompting social transformations The second development concerns the targets set by the SDGs in 2015 SDG6 requires countries to ensure universal and equitable water services by 2030 This inclusive target requires that the water services needs of small towns are considered in the expansion of sustainable and equitable water services This book aims to contribute to the study of water services in small towns by critically examining different approaches and experiences of water supply in small towns It brings together empirical testimonies of how the implementation of reductionist models and the perseverance of certain principles underlying these models in the water sector have yielded suboptimal results Much remains to be done before achieving universal service coverage in small towns is likely In order to do that we should start speaking of small towns as a category on their own and continue the work in elaborating further what these are and how they work In Focus a book series that showcases the latest accomplishments in water research Each book focuses on a specialist area with papers from top experts in the field It aims to be a vehicle for in depth understanding and inspire further conversations in the sector Meeting Development Goals in Small Urban Centres Un-Habitat, 2012-05-04 Half of the world's people live in urban areas and roughly a third of these live in desperate poverty without access to basic amenities Taking on the themes of UN HABITAT's Water and Sanitation in the World's Cities 2003 this new volume focuses on the deficiencies in the provision of water and sanitation where most of the populations of the developing world live in towns and small cities Drawing on extensive unpublished research and 15 commissioned papers from experts involved in designing and implementing innovative projects around the world this is the first major study of the problems facing the smaller urban centres that are recognized to be of enormous importance by governments international agencies NGOs and service providers Tackling these problems is a crucial part of development and of good governance and critical to meeting the Millennium Development Goals The volume will be essential reading for all professionals and researchers in the relevant fields and a valuable resource for teachers and students of urban development
