Committee on Resources of American Libraries. National Union Catalog Subcommittee, 1968 Flag Wars and Stone Saints Nancy Meriwether Wingfield, 2007 In a new perspective on the formation of national identity in Central Europe Nancy Wingfield analyzes what many historians have treated separately the construction of the Czech and German nations as a larger single phenomenon Czech and German nationalism worked off each other in dynamic ways As external conditions changed Czech and German nationalists found new uses for their pasts and new ways to stage them in public spaces for their ongoing national projects These grassroots confrontations transformed public culture by reinforcing the centrality of nationality to everyday life and by tying nationalism to the exercise of power The battles in the public sphere produced a cultural geography of national conflict associated with the unveiling of Joseph II statues that began in 1881 the Badeni Language Ordinances of 1897 the 1905 debate over a Czech language university in Moravia and the celebration of the emperor's sixtieth jubilee in 1908 The pattern of impassioned national conflict would be repeated for the duration of the monarchy and persist with even more violence into the First Czechoslovak Republic Numerous illustrations show how people absorbed on many levels visual clues that shaped how they identified themselves and their groups This nuanced analysis is a valuable contribution to our understanding of Central European history nationalism and the uses of collective memory Vermessen, gezeichnet, verlacht Julia Schäfer, 2005 Westermann's Jahrbuch der illustrierten deutschen Monatshefte, 1916 Capital Cities at War Jay Winter, Jean-Louis Robert, 1999-07-08 This ambitious volume marks a huge step in our understanding of the social history of the Great War Jay Winter and Jean Louis Robert have gathered a group of scholars of London Paris and Berlin who collectively have drawn a coherent and original study of cities at war The contributors explore notions of well being in
