Vietnamerica A Familys Journey By Gb Tran:

Vietnamerica GB Tran, 2011-01-25 A superb new graphic memoir in which an inspired artist storyteller reveals the road that brought his family to where they are today Vietnamerica GB Tran is a young Vietnamese American artist who grew up distant from and largely indifferent to his family's history Born and raised in South Carolina as a son of immigrants he knew that his parents had fled Vietnam during the fall of Saigon But even as they struggled to adapt to life in America they preferred to forget the past and to focus on their children's future It was only in his late twenties that GB began to learn their extraordinary story When his last surviving grandparents die within months of each other GB visits Vietnam for the first time and begins to learn the tragic history of his family and of the homeland they left behind In this family saga played out in the shadow of history GB uncovers the root of his father's remoteness and why his mother had remained in an often fractious marriage why his grandfather had abandoned his own family to fight for the Viet Cong why his grandmother had had an affair with a French soldier GB learns that his parents had taken harrowing flight from Saigon during the final hours of the war not because they thought America was better but because they were afraid of what would happen if they stayed They entered America a foreign land they couldn't even imagine where family connections dissolved and shared history was lost within a span of a single generation In telling his family's story GB finds his own place in this saga of hardship and heroism Vietnamerica is a visually stunning portrait of survival escape and reinvention and of the gift of the American immigrants dream passed on to their children Vietnamerica is an unforgettable story of family revelation and reconnection and a new graphic memoir classic

American Migrant Fictions Sonia Weiner, 2018-07-17 In American Migrant Fictions Space Narrative Identity Sonia Weiner focuses on novels of five American migrant writers of the late twentieth and early twenty-first centuries who construct spatial paradigms within their narratives to explore questions of linguistic diversity identities and belongings By weaving visual techniques within their narratives photography comics cartography authors Aleksandar Hemon G B Tran Junot Diaz Boris Fishman and Vikram Chandra convey a surplus of perspectives and gesture towards alternative spaces spatial in between ness and transnational space

Redrawing the Historical Past Martha J. Cutter, Cathy J. Schlund-Vials, 2018 Redrawing the Historical Past examines how multiethnic graphic novels portray and revise U S history This is the first collection to focus exclusively on the interplay of history and memory in multiethnic graphic novels Such interplay enables a new understanding of the past The twelve essays explore Mat Johnson and Warren Pleece's Incognegro Gene Luen Yang's Boxers and Saints GB Tran's Vietnamerica Scott McCloud's The New Adventures of Abraham Lincoln Art Spiegelman's post Maus work and G Neri and Randy DuBurke's Yummy The Last Days of a Southside Shorty among many others The collection represents an original body of criticism about recently published works that have received scant scholarly attention The chapters confront issues of history and memory in contemporary multiethnic graphic novels employing diverse methodologies and approaches while adhering to three main guidelines First using a global lens contributors reconsider the concept of history and how it is manifest in their chosen texts Second contributors consider the ways in which graphic novels as a distinct genre can formally renovate or intervene in notions of the historical past Third contributors take seriously the possibilities and limitations of these historical revisions with regard to envisioning new different or even more positive versions of both the present and future As a whole the volume demonstrates that graphic novelists use the open and flexible space of the graphic narrative page in which readers can move not only forward but also backward upward downward and in several other directions to present history as an open realm of struggle that is continually being revised Contributors Frederick Luis Aldama Julie Buckner Armstrong Katharine Capshaw Monica Chiu Jennifer Glaser Taylor Hagood Caroline Kyungah Hong Angela Lafien Catherine H Nguyen Jeffrey Santa Ana and Jorge Santos

La escritura de la memoria Jaume Aurell i Cardona, 2017 Un pormenorizado recorrido por la historiografía del siglo XX que combina el desarrollo de la teoría y la exposición de los autores y de las obras concretas El libro repasa las corrientes que han dominado la disciplina histórica a lo largo del siglo XX Una obra indispensable para los profesionales de la historia y para los estudiosos de todas las ciencias sociales en general

The Writers Directory, 2013

Vietnamica GB. BROTHERS IN ARMS DIANE CALDWELL. CALDWELL, 2025

Strangers on the Water (Vietnamese) Steven E. Justice, John Doan, 2021-10-23 As communists take over Vietnam Catholic farmers find themselves threatened By the thousands they become refugees and attempt to flee persecution This is one family's four decade long story as they make attempts to live free

Journey Home Lawrence McKay, Jr., 1998 Illustrated by Dom and Keunhee Lee This enormously touching book tells the story of Mai and her mother's journey to Vietnam in search of her mother's birth family The Lee's soft artwork is especially expressive in the depiction of faces There won't be a dry eye among readers and listeners Kirkus Review Illustrated throughout in full colour Ages 6 years and upwards

Uprooted David Lucas, 2015 The ancient Vietnamese life in which Tung was raised is being torn apart It is not enough to work hard and grow rice any more Now every farmer in Mai Dong has to pick a side The French or the Communists They are going to murder your father Intelligence humility and graft made Que an honorable figure in Mai Dong His values ensured the family's survival through famine and flood They will not protect him against the Communists who need class enemy victims for their land reform campaign Tung becomes protector and provider for the family who struggle to stay together as World War Two the French Indochinese War and the American War tear his country apart over forty years Based on a true story Uprooted is an uplifting saga that spans three generations of a Vietnamese family's life or death struggle to survive in a changing landscape See uprootedthenovel.com for more details The Storm of Our Lives Tai Van Nguyen, 2009-06-25 This memoir vividly describes the struggle of one Vietnamese family and their seven day ordeal to escape persecution from Communist Vietnam One of more than 840 000 boat people to have fled the war ravaged country the author describes his family's epic journey and the historical cultural social economic and political problems that led to his father's decision to take his family away from their homeland Drawing on his Catholic faith Nguyen attests to the hardship and dangers that confronted the family in their journey and that did not end after his father died and the five children were forced to continue alone

Journey Home Lawrence M'Kay, 2001 Mai returns to Vietnam the land of her mother's birth to discover both a new country and something about herself Vietnamerica Thomas A. Bass, 1996 Any child who could demonstrate American parentage if only by the simple evidence of Western features would be welcome Relatives too By then the children's average age was 19 Journey Home Lawrence McKay, 2001 Mai returns to Vietnam the land of her mother's birth to discover both a new country and something about herself I Did Not Miss the Boat Lea Tran, 2020-09 Lea Tran begins her memoir with vivid details of the historically significant Vietnam War era as she and her family experienced the upheaval when the communists brought down Saigon and their world was forever changed With extraordinary courage and determination Tran's resourceful father managed to get his family out of the country albeit as boat people Lea Tran tells her family's refugee story giving a poignant and moving voice to the many refugees who risked their lives fleeing Vietnam said Pastor Tim Rauk one of the many Americans who sponsored refugees during that crisis In this compelling story the plot thickens for the refugees as they endure the dangers of the open seas attacks by pirates and abrupt rejection just when they finally reach a port they thought would be their salvation In I Did Not Miss the Boat Tran writes There is a misconception that once refugees settle in a new country problems are solved but this is false I learned that fitting into the American mainstream does not guarantee happiness unless I deal with my past make peace with my identity and accept who I really am The intent of the book is not only to recount a perilous yet amazing adventure but to inspire people to look deeper into their roots understand their early influences and discover connections between past adversity and profound opportunity No matter how difficult your challenges or how dire your situation seems you have the power to navigate your own way through You can build your own boat so you never have to miss one writes Tran who also delivers her motivational message to audiences as a TEDx guest and keynote speaker More information is available on the author's web site <https://www.leantran.com> Soldier on Tran B. Quan, 2021 The story of a South Vietnamese officer who smuggles his family out of the country toward the end of the Vietnam War as told by his daughter Forty years after the departure the officer reconnects with a respected general Tran Ba Di during a family road trip to Key West Florida Trip to Freedom Andrea Quynhgioa Nguyen, 1997-03-01 Traveling in a

Dream and Other Stories Kim Lan Tran, 2017 In an attempt to draw a picture of her life the author made different strokes Each one is in itself a story Her protagonists are prominent characters in her family and people of different races and social classes She saw part of herself in each of them and realized that like her characters she mainly desired the same things safety freedom and self actualization In the end she did have what she had strived for but she also had to pay a high price losing family ties estrangement from her native country and failing health The Journey from Vietnam to America Nhon N. Trang, 2002 This book will describe the change of a Vietnamese s life from the time he was born in a small town in Vietnam until he resettles in the United States of America It will discuss the interesting diversities in the cultures and the ways of life in Vietnam and America But also recognize that Vietnamese and Americans do have a common ground in pursuing happiness for the family It will give the reader insight into what ordinary Viatnamese thought about the Vietnam War Vietnamese farmers about eighty per cent of the population who lived in the rural areas had to struggle between life and death every single day during the war They did not care much about ideology Communism or Capitalism What they really cared about was the welfare of their families and above all peace I Am Both Kerisa Greene, 2024-04-09 A picture book inspired by the author s family s journey on the last flight out of Saigon I Am Both is a compelling exploration of identity immigration and family We zip through the city listening to the music of the street I hear the swish swoosh of the baskets and the clink clank of the passing bikes For H ng life in Saigon Vietnam is mostly normal at least as normal as it can be while a war is going on But when her family decides to take the last flight out of the country to build a new life in America H ng s worries about missing her home Through new friends and old traditions H ng learns that no matter where we go the smell of home and the taste of love can happen anywhere as long as we have our family In this timely and hopeful story of immigration author illustrator Kerisa Greene captures the vibrancy of life in both Vietnam and America with wonderfully textured illustrations and descriptions of the sights and sounds of each country Fun and educational backmatter includes the true story behind H ng s journey and a glossary of Vietnamese terms
