Xu Chinese City In Space And Time:

The Chinese City in Space and Time Yinong Xu, 2000-01-01 Drawing on a wealth of primary materials detailing the city's history, customs, and urban construction as well as on recent work in Chinese history, culture, and religion, Yinong Xu examines characteristics of building and transformation in pre-modern Suzhou, characteristics that while particular to the city's own historical development, reflect or were determined by factors representative of China's urban history in general. The End of Tradition?

Nezar AlSayyad, 2004 Rooted in real-world observations, this book questions the concept of tradition. In his introduction, Nezar AlSayyad discusses the meanings of the word tradition and the current debates about the end of tradition. Thereafter, the book is divided into three parts. Chinese Walls in Time and Space Roger Des Forges, Minglu Gao, Chiao-mei Liu, Haun Saussy, 2010-03-31 Are walls remnants of ancient and medieval societies destined to become anachronistic in modern and post-modern times? Or will they persist, shaping as well as adjusting to new conditions? Do walls necessarily constrain and even isolate those who live within them, or can they act as a medium of support and communication for people on both sides? This volume addresses these questions. Authors from six disciplines—history, art, law, medicine, communication, and film—provide multiple perspectives on various kinds of walls: material ones around and within states, cities, and towns, as well as virtual ones regulating the administration of justice, the flow of pathogens, and the transmission of information.

New Narratives of Urban Space in Republican Chinese Cities, 2013-03-27 The nine empirical studies in New Narratives of Urban Space in Republican Chinese Cities, organized under the general framework of urban space, examine three critical dimensions of the great urban transformation in Republican China: social, legal, and governance orders. Together, these narratives suggest a new perception of this historical urbanism. While modern economic development was a major drive for Chinese urban transformation, this volume highlights the dimension of the multilayered forces that shape urban space by looking into that less quantifiable but equally important cultural realm and by exposing the ways in which these forces created new urban narratives which became themselves shapers of urban space and of our perception of the Republican urbanity. Unlocking the Chinese Gate Galia Dor, 2024-05-01 Unlocking the Chinese Gate offers an innovative analysis of gates in early Chinese thought and material culture. Observing gates from various perspectives, including philosophy, architecture, and psychology, and through the conceptual lens of Chinese correlative thinking, Galia Dor conceptualizes the Chinese gate as a membrane-like apparatus that from the space in between efficaciously manifests the Way (dao) into the ten thousand forms of actualized life. This methodology exposes an open-to-closed gradation between pairs of inside/outside, wai nei, that resonates throughout the Chinese model of psychocosmic concentric circles. The consequential strategies of continuity, break, chaos, order, demonstrate how early Chinese cosmological, philosophical, and political idealities, as well as afterlife religious beliefs, were applied, including the various approaches to and practices of self-cultivation. The book sheds new light on ancient Chinese thought and material culture and offers points of comparison to Western thought and modern
