Revisionism and Diversification in New Religious Movements Eileen Barker, 2016-04-08 New Religious Movements tend to start their lives with a number of unequivocal statements not only of a theological nature but also about the world and appropriate behaviours for the believer Yet these apparently inalienable Truths and their interpretations frequently become revised adjusted or selectively adopted by different believers This book explores different ways in which as NRMs develop stagnate fade away or abruptly cease to exist certain orthodoxies and practices have for one reason or another been dropped or radically altered Sometimes such changes are adapted by only a section of the movement resulting in schism Of particular concern are processes that might lead to violent and or anti social behaviour As part of the Ashgate Inform series and in the spirit of the Inform Seminars this book approaches its topic from a wide range of perspectives Contributors include academics current and former members of NRMs and members of cult watching movements All the contributions are of a scholarly rather than a polemic nature and brought together by Eileen Barker the founder of Inform

Controversial New Religions James R. Lewis, Jesper Aagaard Petersen, 2014 Written by established scholars as well as younger experts in their field this updated and revised second edition of Controversial New Religions offers a scholarly dispassionate look at the new religious groups that have generated the most attention in the media and general public

Falun Gong Stories William Franklin McCoy, Lijuan Zhang, 2001 Religion and Mobility in a Globalising Asia Sin Wen Lau, Nanlai Cao, 2017-07-05 This volume examines the dynamic mutually constitutive relationship between religion and mobility in the contemporary era of Asian globalisation in which an increasing number of people have been displaced forcefully or voluntarily by an expanding global market economy and lasting regional political strife Seven case studies provide up to date ethnographic perspectives on the translocal transnational dimension of religion and the religious spiritual aspect of movement The chapters draw on research into Buddhism Islam Chinese qigong Christianity and communal ritual as these religious beliefs and practices move in and across Singapore Taiwan China Malaysia Hong Kong the upper Mekong region the Thai Burma border the Middle East and France With these diverse and rich ethnographic cases on translocal transnational Asian religious practices and subjectivities the book transcends the conventional nation state centered framework to look into how mobile religious agents are redefining boundaries of local regional national identities and recreating translocal transnational and interregional connectivity In so doing it illustrates the importance of promoting a dynamic understanding of Asia not just as a geopolitical entity but as an ongoing social and religious formation in late modernity This book was published as a special issue of the Asia Pacific Journal of Anthropology
