Voluptuous Philosophy Literary Materialism In The French Enlightenment:

Voluptuous Philosophy Natania Meeker, 2022 Eighteenth century France witnessed the rise of matter itself in forms ranging from atoms to anatomies as a privileged object of study Voluptuous Philosophy redefines what is at stake in the emergence of an enlightened secular materialism by showing how questions of figure how should a body be represented What should the effects of this representation be on readers are tellingly and consistently located at the very heart of 18th century debates about the nature of material substance French materialisms of the Enlightenment are crucially invested not only in the development of a sophisticated theoretical apparatus around the notion of matter but in the production of specific relationships between readers and the matter of the texts that they consume How the book asks did the period s fascination with a markedly immaterial and ephemeral event the reading of works of fiction come to coincide with what appears to be a gradual materialization of human subjects men and women who increasingly manage to envision themselves transfigured as the century wears on into machines animals and even in the work of the Marquis de Sade tables and chairs In what way did the spread of new philosophies of matter depend upon the ability of readers to perceive certain figures of speech as literally and immediately true to imagine themselves as fully material bodies even as they found themselves most deeply compelled by disembodied literary forms More broadly in what sense does the act of reading literature alter and transfigure our perceptions of what is and can be real Voluptuous Philosophy articulates the gradual coming into being of literature as a distinct arena of textual production with the rise of an enlightened reader who remains abstracted from the bodily symptoms that any given piece of writing may induce in him The very definition of the literary as an autonomous field this book suggests may ironically be dependent upon the simultaneous construction of a material world that remains fully immune to its effects

Voluptuous Philosophy Natania Meeker, 2006 In 18th century France matter itself in forms ranging from atoms to anatomies became a privileged object of study This book defines what is at stake in the emergence of an enlightened secular materialism by showing how questions of figure are consistently located at the very heart of 18th century debates on the nature of material substance

The Cambridge Companion to the French Enlightenment Daniel Brewer, 2014-10-30 Containing essays by leading scholars representing a wide range of disciplines this Companion offers new perspectives on the French Enlightenment Clearly organized and easy to use the volume provides a comprehensive overview of a period that marks the beginning of modern intellectual culture and political life

Sade's Philosophical System in its Enlightenment Context Henry Martyn Lloyd, 2018-09-05 This book connects the philosophy of the Marquis de Sade one of the most notorious iconic and yet poorly understood figures within the history of European thought with the broader themes of the Enlightenment Rather than seeing himself as a mere pornographer Sade understood himself as continuing the progressive tradition of French Enlightenment philosophy Sade aspired to be a philosophe This book uses intellectual history and the history of philosophy to reconstruct Sade s philosophical system and its historical context Within the period s discourse of sensibility Sade draws on the philosophical and the literary to form a relatively sophisticated system which he deploys to critically engage with the two major strands of eighteenth century ethical theory the moral sense and natural law traditions This work is of interest to Continental Philosophy Critical Theory French Studies the History of Eighteenth Century Philosophy Literary Studies the History of Moral Philosophy and Enlightenment Studies

Anticipatory Materialisms in Literature and Philosophy, 1790-1930 Jo Carruthers, Nour Dakkak, Rebecca Spence, 2020-01-25 Anticipatory Materialisms explores nineteenth and early twentieth century literature that anticipates and pre-empted the recent philosophical turn to materiality and affect Critical volumes that approach literature via the prism of New Materialism are in the ascendance This collection stakes a different claim by engaging with neglected theories of materiality in literary and philosophical works that antedate the twenty first century turn to New Materialism and theories of affect the project aims to establish a dialogue between recent theoretical considerations of people world relations in literature and that which has gone before This project seeks to demonstrate the particular and meaningful ways in which interactions between people and the physical world were being considered in literature between the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries The project does not propose an air of finality indeed it is our hope that offering provocative and challenging chapters which approach the subject from various critical and thematic perspectives the collection will establish a broader dialogue regarding the ways in which philosophy and literature have intersected and informed each other over the course of the long nineteenth century

The Erotics of Materialism Jessie Hock, 2021-01-15 In The Erotics of Materialism Jessie Hock maps the intersection of poetry and natural philosophy in the early modern reception of Lucretius and his De rerum natura Subtly revising an ancient atomist tradition that condemned poetry as frivolous Lucretius asserted a central role for verse in the practice of natural philosophy and gave the figurative realm a powerful claim on the real by maintaining that mental and poetic images have material substance and a presence beyond the mind or page Attending to Lucretius's own emphasis on poetry Hock shows that early modern readers and writers were alert to the fact that Lucretian materialism entails a theory of the imagination and ultimately a poetics which they were quick to absorb and adapt to their own uses Focusing on the work of Pierre de Ronsard Remy Belleau John Donne Lucy Hutchinson and Margaret Cavendish The Erotics of Materialism demonstrates how these poets drew on Lucretius to explore poetry's power to act in the world Hock argues that even as classical atomist ideas contributed to the rise of empirical scientific methodologies that downgraded the capacity of the human imagination to explain material phenomena Lucretian poetics came to stand for a poetry that gives the imagination a purchase on the real from the practice of natural philosophy to that of politics In her reading of Lucretian influence Hock reveals how early modern poets were invested in what Lucretius posits as the materiality of fantasy and his expression of it in a language of desire sex and love For early modern poets Lucretian eroticism was poetic method and De rerum natura a treatise on the poetic imagination initiating an atomist genealogy at the heart of the lyric tradition

The Progressive Poetics of Confusion in the French

Enlightenment John C. O'Neal, 2011-03-14 In The Progressive Poetics of Confusion in the French Enlightenment John C O'Neal draws largely on the etymological meaning of the word confusion as the action of mixing or blending in order to trace the development of this project which he claims aimed to reject dogmatic thinking in all of its forms and recognized the need to embrace complexity Eighteenth century thinkers used the notion of confusion in a progressive way to reorganize social classes literary forms metaphysical substances scientific methods and cultural categories such as taste and gender In this new work O'Neal explores some of the paradoxes of the Enlightenment's theories of knowledge Each of the chapters in this book attempts to address the questions raised by the eighteenth century's particular approach to confusion as a paradoxical reorganizing principle for the period's progressive agenda Perhaps the most paradoxical thinker of his times Diderot occupies a central place in this study of confusion Other authors include Marivaux Crillon Voltaire and Pinel among others Rousseau and Sade serve as counterexamples to this kind of enlightenment but ultimately do not so much oppose the period's poetics of confusion as they complement it The final chapter on Sade combines contemporary discussions of politics society culture philosophy and science in an encyclopedic way that at once reflects the entire period's tendencies and establishes important differences between Sade's thinking and that of the mainstream philosophies Ultimately confusion serves O'Neal argues as an overarching positive notion for the Enlightenment and its progressive ideals

Women's Perspectives on Ancient and Medieval Philosophy Isabelle Chouinard, Zoe McConaughy, Aline Medeiros Ramos, Roxane Noël, 2021-08-31 This book promotes the research of present day women working in ancient and medieval philosophy with more than 60 women having contributed in some way to the volume in a fruitful collaboration It contains 22 papers organized into ten distinct parts spanning the sixth century BCE to the fifteenth century CE Each part has the same structure it features first a paper which sets up the discussion and then one or two responses that open new perspectives and engage in further reflections Our authors contributions address pivotal moments and players in the history of philosophy women philosophers in antiquity Cleobulina of Rhodes Plato Lucretius Bardaisan of Edessa Alexander of Aphrodisias Plotinus Porphyry Peter Abelard Robert Kilwardby William Ockham John Buridan and Isotta Nogarola The result is a thought provoking collection of papers that will be of interest to historians of philosophy from all horizons Far from being an isolated effort this book is a contribution to the ever growing number of initiatives which endeavour to showcase the work of women in philosophy

Mind, Body, Motion, Matter Mary Helen McMurrin, Alison Conway, 2016-01-01 Mind Body Motion Matter investigates the relationship between the eighteenth century's two predominant approaches to the natural world mechanistic materialism and vitalism in the works of leading British and French writers such as Daniel Defoe William Hogarth Laurence Sterne the third Earl of Shaftesbury and Denis Diderot Focusing on embodied experience and the materialization of thought in poetry novels art and religion the literary scholars in this collection offer new and intriguing readings of these canonical authors Informed by contemporary currents such as new materialism cognitive studies media theory and post secularism their essays demonstrate the volatility of the core ideas opened up by materialism and the possibilities of an aesthetic vitalism of form Animal Rhetoric and Natural Science in Eighteenth-Century Liberal Political Writing Andrew Billing, 2023-12-07 Our tendency to read French Enlightenment political writing from a narrow disciplinary perspective has obscured the hybrid character of political philosophy rhetoric and natural science in the period As Mich le Duchet and others have shown French Enlightenment thinkers developed a philosophical anthropology to support new political norms and models This book explores how five important eighteenth century French political authors Rousseau Diderot La Mettrie Quesnay and R tif de La Bretonne also constructed a political zoology in their philosophical and literary writings informed by animal references drawn from Enlightenment natural history science and physiology Drawing on theoretical work by Derrida Latour de Fontenay and others it shows how these five authors signed on to the old rhetorical tradition of animal comparisons in political philosophy which they renewed via the findings and speculations of contemporary science Engaging with recent scholarship on Enlightenment political thought it also explores the links between their political zoologies and their family resemblance as liberal political thinkers
