We Dream Of Water A Novel:

The World Dream Book Sarvananda Bluestone, 2002-12 A unique self help guide to dream interpretation using techniques and icons from cultures around the world Challenges the assumption that all symbols universally signify the same thing to all dreamers Includes numerous stories games and exercises for inducing recalling interpreting and utilizing dreams Extends beyond Jung and Freud to include dream theory from numerous world cultures including the Temiar of Malaya the African Ibans the Lepchka of the Himalayas and the Ute of North America Dreaming can be used as a tool for understanding our own consciousness enhancing creativity receiving visions conquering fears interpreting recent events healing the body and evolving the soul Tapping into the vast dreaming experiences and lore of the world's cultures from the Siwa people of the Libyan desert to the Naskapi Indians of Labrador Sarvananda Bluestone challenges the assumption that all symbols universally signify the same thing to all dreamers The World Dream Book encourages readers to develop their own personalized symbols for understanding their consciousness and provides a series of stories multicultural techniques and games to help them do so Playful explorations such as the aboriginal Sipping the Water of the Moon teach how to induce recall interpret and utilize the power of dreams Readers will discover how a stone under a pillow can help us remember a dream and will explore their own dormant artist and writer as they reclaim the power of their sleeping consciousness Sarvananda Bluestone applies his uniquely engaging style to demonstrate that with a few simple tools everybody has the capacity to unleash their full dreaming potential

I Saw Water Ithell Colquhoun, 2014-10-27 Ithell Colquhoun 1906 1988 is remembered today as a surrealist artist writer and occultist Although her paintings hang in a number of public collections and her gothic novel Goose of Hermogenes 1961 remains in print critical responses to her work have been severely constrained by the limited availability of her art and writings The publication of her second novel I Saw Water presented here for the first time together with a selection of her other writings and images many also previously unpublished marks a significant step in expanding our knowledge of Colquhoun's work Composed almost entirely of material assembled from the author's dreams I Saw Water challenges such fundamental distinctions as those between sleeping and waking the two separated genders and life and death It is set in a convent on the Island of the Dead but its spiritual context derives from sources as varied as Roman Catholicism the teachings of the Theosophical Society Goddess spirituality Druidism the mystical Qabalah and Neoplatonism The editors have provided both an introduction and explanatory notes The introductory essay places the novel in the context of Colquhoun's other works and the cultural and spiritual environment in which she lived The extensive notes will help the reader with any concepts that may be unfamiliar

Anyan's Story Virginia Drew Watson, 2012-12-18 Anyan was born in the mid 1920s into the pre metal culture of the Tairora of what is now called Papua New Guinea Her early life was rooted in the traditions of her remote village where she worked the land and took part in the rituals connected with raising food but she lived at the time of first contact between her people and those from outside and she saw the traditional ways begin to change At her marriage she moved to the government station at Kainantu where she was exposed to more Western influences even as she tried to hold on to her past and her ties to her village Before she died in the mid 1970s this woman of indomitable spirit rode in an airplane and voted in a Western style election When Virginia Watson began her anthropological fieldwork in the eastern highlands of New Guinea in 1954 she needed an interpreter for the unwritten language of the Tairora Fortune sent her Anyan In their work together as Watson researched the role of Tairora women Anyan gradually painted a picture of her society using events from her own life Over many years of collaboration and deepening friendship a remarkable life history was told one that bridged the periods before and after contact with Western culture When Watson suggested the book to Anyan she was elated She was anxious that everyone know about Tairora Her pride in her upbringing in her culture in her beautiful corner of the world was apparent Individuals experience the shock of cultural transplantation in many ways As Watson writes some of those forced to make the move from one culture to another were consumed by it and some were consigned to straddling the dark void that the cultural disparities created Others like Anyan were able to maintain equilibrium in both cultures Anyan s Story will be of interest to anthropologists and other social scientists It is a valuable study of gender roles women s experience in cross cultural societies and culture shock

Like Water is for Fish Garth Japhet, 2021-01-18

The Soul City and Soul Buddyz series are memorable for the way in which they integrated health topics into compelling storylines on TV radio and in print creating stories so popular that they entertained and informed millions of people And the Heartlines What s Your Story programme and films such as Beyond the River continue to provide witness to the transformative power of story As a young boy Garth Japhet found his life radically shaped by the Jungle Doctor series of books The stories so enthralled him that against all advice he set his heart on medicine He could see his future with a backdrop of savannas golden sunsets adventure and accolades as a romantic figure a healer a hero This fantasy sustained Garth through the challenges of medical training but finally he arrived He was Dr Japhet living the dream Except the dream was a nightmare The reality of medicine was not the life he had hoped for There were times when he cursed the power of the story that had so completely messed up his life Having struggled with anxiety most of his life he was catapulted into a deep depression And then it happened Garth stumbled upon the healing power of story fictional factual and his own What magic was at work here If stories had changed him could he use story to change others This question set him on the journey described in Like Water is for Fish a journey that led to Garth co founding Soul City and Heartlines and to an understanding that story in its multiple forms is as essential for our lives as water is for fish When you share your story with others and they share theirs with you barriers break down hardened attitudes shift and healing begins Free Spirit Tessa Sutherland, 2016-06-28 How many of us are aware of that inner calling that tells us that there is much greater meaning potential and beauty in this world than what society has taught us to believe We continually ask ourselves those age old questions Who am I What is my purpose What is the meaning of life And most importantly what is the secret to eternal happiness The journey to find these answers became a personal quest to find meaning purpose and happiness within my own life and I share my knowledge within the pages of this book

To My Annie Book 3 Wade Powers, 2018-08-29 To My Annie Book 3 is a follow up to the two previous works Each is a compilation of one hundred poems written for and dedicated to Annie the authors love and inspiration A few of the poems are generalized but the preponderance is composed in a romantic theme and seeks to express the wonder and astonishment that two people can hope to discover Some of the poetry alludes to the struggles and darkness that is simply a part of human existence but the effort of the author is to regale always on the strength and enduring power of love devotion and commitment Much of the poetry refers to the Bible and spiritual strivings because by seeking to understand how God loves us we can glimpse into the eternal through that lens of love that He created

Water from the Moon Jean-Francois Vernay, 2007 Author of six novels Christopher John Koch born in 1932 is one of Australia s leading novelists who enjoys worldwide recognition Koch s writing has its finger on the pulse of today s changing society Not only does his work fall within a universal stream but it also stands out as a production of its own built like a puzzle with distinct pieces Through fiction Koch explores other genres the fairy tale drama poetry to the point of producing multi faceted works which challenge classification In spite of the constant renewal of his settings for action one notices the presence of a main thread which runs through Koch s fiction the antipodean and ambiguous relationship between illusion and reality This theoretically informed monograph provides a book by book analysis of the novelist s ouvre and gives a full picture of his Weltanschauung It is valuable reference for scholars in Australian Studies as well as those researching postcolonial psychoanalytic and literary theories
