Yadullah Shahibzadeh:

Islamism and Post-Islamism in Iran Yadullah Shahibzadeh, 2016-06-01 This book is a study of overlooked themes in Iran's contemporary political and intellectual history. It investigates the way Iranian Muslim intellectuals have discussed politics and democracy. As a history of Iranian Islamism and its transformation to post-Islamism, this work demonstrates that Muslim intellectuals have enriched the Iranian society epistemologically, aesthetically, ethically, and politically. This book examines the internal conflicts of the Islamist ideology as the intellectual underpinnings of the 1979 Revolution, its contribution to the formation of the post-revolutionary state, and the post-Islamist response to the democratic deficits of the post-revolutionary state. Seeking to overcome the shortcomings of historiographical approaches, this book demonstrates the intellectual and political agency of Muslim intellectuals from the 1960s to the present.

The Iranian Political Language Yadullah Shahibzadeh, 2015-10-14 In this detailed study of modern Iran, Yadullah Shahibzadeh examines changes in people's understanding of politics and democracy. The book aims to overcome the shortcomings of traditional historiography by challenging the monopoly of intellectuals' perspectives and demonstrating the intellectual and political agency of the ordinary people.

Public Intellectuals and Their Discontents Yadullah Shahibzadeh, 2020-09-30 This book addresses the ways in which the figure of the intellectuals and their relationship to the public has been theorized through the conceptualizations of bureaucracy, democracy, and communism as universal processes from the 19th century to the present. Starting with Hegel and Marx, the author looks at the rise of the figure of the universal intellectual in various forms before turning to what is presented as a transformation of the figure of the intellectual into the public intellectual advanced by the New Philosophies and the critical response offered by Edward Said. The study presents two comparative case studies: the Iranian Revolution and the public intellectuals in Europe, specifically in Norway, before concluding with a focus on the decay of the figure of the intellectuals and highlighting Rancière's critique of the intellectual masses distinction.

Marxism and Left-Wing Politics in Europe and Iran Yadullah Shahibzadeh, 2018-09-28 This book reveals aspects of the rise and fall of the European and Iranian Left, their conceptualization of Marxism, and ideological formations. Questions regarding the Left and Marxism within two seemingly different economic, political, and intellectual and cultural contexts require comprehensive comparative histories of the two settings. This project investigates the intellectual transformations which the European and Iranian Left have experienced after the Russian Revolution to the present. It examines the impacts of these transformations on their conceptualizations of history and revolution, domination and ideology, emancipation and universality, democracy and equality. The monograph will appeal to researchers, scholars, and graduate students in the fields of political science, Middle Eastern and European studies, political history, and comparative politics.

The Persian Gulf in Modern Times L. Potter, 2014-12-16 This book explores the historiography, ports, and peoples of the Persian Gulf over the past two centuries, offering a more inclusive history of the region than previously available. Restoring the history of minority communities which until now have been silenced the book provides a corrective to the official story put forward by modern states The Eternal Revolution Hamad Albloshi, 2016-04-27 More than three decades have passed since the establishment of the Islamic Republic of Iran in 1979 In that time theories of modern revolution would suggest a retreat from ideological goals heralding a phase of institutional development However Hamad Albloshi argues that Iran is unique the current rhetoric of conservative Iranian leaders implies the regime has not left its revolutionary stage Through an examination of the hardline conservative ideology in Iran personified by the former president Mahmoud Ahmadinejad this book explores how the usual development seen in revolutions from radical discourse to pragmatic rhetoric has not been the case in Iran Albloshi explores the evolution of the hardline conservatives and their main ideas about the nature of the Iranian regime their position toward other groups within the system and their approach to the international community By doing so he sheds new light on the group's position in the country and the ideological roots of major shifts that occurred in Iran's internal and external policies in the period between 2005 and 2013 Contemporary Approaches to the Qur'an and its Interpretation in Iran Ali Akbar, Abdullah Saeed, 2019-10-24 This book sets out how contemporary Iranian scholars have approached the Qur'an during recent decades It particularly aims to explore the contributions of scholars that have emerged in the post 1979 revolution era outlining their primary interpretive methods and foundational theories regarding the reading of the Qur'an Examining issues such as the status of women democracy freedom of religion and human rights this book analyses the theoretical contributions of several Iranian scholars some of which are new to the English speaking academy The hermeneutical approaches of figures such as Abdolkarim Soroush Muhammad Mojtahed Shabestari Mohsen Kadivar Hasan Yousefi Eshkevari Abolqasem Fanaie and Mostafa Malekian are presented and then analysed to demonstrate how a contextualist approach to the Qur'an has been formed in response to the influence of Western Orientalism The effect of this approach to the Qur'an is then shown to have wide ranging effects on Iranian society This study reveals Qur'anic thought that has been largely overlooked by the West It will therefore be of great use to academics in Religious Islamic and Qur'anic studies as well as those studying the culture of Iran and the Middle East more generally Islamists and the Politics of the Arab Uprisings Hendrik Kraetzschmar, 2018-06-30 Demonstrates how the textual output of settler emigration shapes the nineteenth century literary and artistic imagination The Moral Economy of the Madrasa Keiko Sakurai, Fariba Adelkhah, 2011-03-07 The revival of madrasas in the 1980s coincided with the rise of political Islam and soon became associated with the clash of civilizations between Islam and the West This volume examines the rapid expansion of madrasas across Asia and the Middle East and analyses their role in society within their local national and global context Based on anthropological investigations in Afghanistan Bangladesh China Iran and Pakistan the chapters take a new approach to the issue examining the recent phenomenon of women in madrasas Hui Muslims in China relations between the Iran's Shia seminary after the 1979 Islamic revolution and Shia in Pakistan and Afghanistan and South Asian madrasas Emphasis is placed on the increased presence of women in these institutions and the reciprocal interactions between secular and religious schools in those countries Taking into account social political and demographic changes within the region the authors show how madrasas have been successful in responding to the educational demand of the people and how they have been modernized their style to cope with a changing environment A timely contribution to a subject with great international appeal this book will be of great interest to students and scholars of international politics political Islam Middle East and Asian studies and anthropology

Public Freedoms in the Islamic State Rached Ghannouchi, 2022-09-27 Available now for the first time in English the most important work of one of the great moderate political leaders of the Muslim world Rached Ghannouchi has long been known as a reformist or moderate Islamist thinker In Public Freedoms in the Islamic State his most influential book he argues that the Universal Declaration of Human Rights in its broad outlines should be widely accepted by Muslims under the correct interpretation of Islamic law and theology Under his theory of the purposes of Shari'a justice and human welfare are not exclusive to Islamic governance and the objectives of Islamic law can be advanced in multiple ways Appearing in English translation here for the first time this book is a major statement by one of the most important political theorists in the modern Middle East

Patterns Legitimizing Political Violence in Transcultural Perspectives Bettina Koch, 2015-05-19 This volume explores theoretical discourses in which religion is used to legitimize political violence It examines the ways in which Christianity and Islam are utilized for political ends in particular how violence is used or abused as an expedient to justify political action This research focuses on premodern as well as contemporary discourses in the Middle East and Latin America identifying patterns frequently used to justify the deployment of violence in both hegemonic and anti hegemonic discourses In addition it explores how premodern arguments and authorities are utilized and transformed in order to legitimize contemporary violence as well as the ways in which the use of religion as a means to justify violence alters the nature of conflicts that are not otherwise explicitly religious It argues that most past and present conflicts even if the discourses about them are conducted in religious terms have origins other than religion and or blend religion with other causes namely socio economic and political injustice and inequality Understanding the use and abuse of religion to justify violence is a prerequisite to discerning the nature of a conflict and might thus contribute to conflict resolution

Political Participation in Iran from Khatami to the Green Movement Paola Rivetti, 2019-12-26 This book examines the unintended consequences of top down reforms in Iran analysing how the Iranian reformist governments 1997 2005 sought to utilise gradual reforms to control independent activism and how citizens responded to such a disciplinary action While the governments successfully set the field of permitted political participation part of the civil society that took shape was unexpectedly independent Despite being a minority independent activists were not marginal without them in fact the Green Movement of 2009 would not have taken shape Building on in depth empirical analysis the author explains how autonomous activism forms and survives in a semi authoritarian country The book contributes to the debate about the implications of elite led reforms for social reproduction offering an innovative interpretation and an original analysis of social movements from a political science perspective

Making Space for the Gulf Arang Keshavarzian, 2024-04-16 The Persian Gulf has long been a contested space an object of imperial ambitions national antagonisms and migratory dreams The roots of these contestations lie in the different ways the Gulf has been defined as a region both by those who live there and those beyond its shore Making Space for the Gulf reveals how capitalism empire building geopolitics and urbanism have each shaped understandings of the region over the last two centuries Here the Gulf comes into view as a created space encompassing dynamic social relations and competing interests Arang Keshavarzian writes a new history of the region that places Iran Iraq and the Arabian Peninsula together within global processes He connects moments more often treated as ruptures the discovery of oil the Iranian Revolution the rise and decline of British empire the emergence of American power and crafts a narrative populated by a diverse range of people migrants and ruling families pearl divers and star architects striking taxi drivers and dethroned rulers protectors of British India and stewards of globalized American universities Tacking across geographic scales Keshavarzian reveals how the Gulf has been globalized through transnational relations regionalized as a geopolitical category and cleaved along national divisions and social inequalities When understood as a process not an object the Persian Gulf reveals much about how regions and the world have been made in modern times Making Space for the Gulf offers a fresh understanding of this globally consequential place

The Routledge International Handbook of Contemporary

Muslim Socio-Political Thought Lutfi Sunar, 2021-08-30 This volume unfolds the ebbs and flows of Muslim thought in different regions of the world as well as the struggles between the different intellectual discourses that have surfaced against this backdrop With a focus on Turkey Egypt Iran and the Indian subcontinent regions that in spite of their particular histories and forms of thought are uniquely placed as a mosaic that illustrates the intertwined nature of the development of Muslim socio political thought it sheds light on the swing between right and left in different regions the debates surrounding nationalism the influence of socialism and liberalism the rise of Islamism and the conflict between state bureaucracy and social movements Exploring themes of civil society and democracy it also considers current trends in Muslim thought and possible future directions As such it will appeal to scholars across the fields of sociology anthropology political science history and political economy as well as those with interests in the study of religion the development of Muslim thought and the transformation of Muslim societies in recent decades

Dictators and Autocrats Klaus Larres, 2021-10-31 In order to truly understand the emergence endurance and legacy of autocracy this volume of engaging essays explores how autocratic power is acquired exercised and transferred or abruptly ended through the careers and politics of influential figures in more than 20 countries and six regions The book looks at both traditional hard dictators such as Hitler Stalin and Mao and more modern soft or populist autocrats who are in the process of transforming once fully democratic countries into autocratic states including Recep Tayyip Erdo an in Turkey Brazilian leader Jair Bolsonaro Rodrigo Duterte in the Philippines Narendra

Modi in India and Viktor Orbán in Hungary The authors touch on a wide range of autocratic and dictatorial figures in the past and present including present day autocrats such as Vladimir Putin and Xi Jinping military leaders and democratic leaders with authoritarian aspirations They analyze the transition of selected autocrats from democratic or benign semi democratic systems to harsher forms of autocracy with either quite disastrous or more successful outcomes An ideal reader for students and scholars as well as the general public interested in international affairs leadership studies contemporary history and politics global studies security studies economics psychology and behavioral studies

Stability and Change in the Modern Middle East Kjetil Selvik, Stig Stenslie, 2011-01-30 In this ground breaking book aimed at new generation of students Stig Stenslie and Kjetil Selvik provide a new introduction to the contemporary Middle East using topical questions about stability and change as a way of interrogating the politics economics and history of the region How have regimes from North Africa to the Gulf perpetuated themselves in spite of the weakness of the Western style state the Islamist trend and the destabilising effects of war and terrorism What strategies have states used to control their societies and how have both states and societies adapted over time Both an accessible reference resource and a thought provoking analysis Stability and Change in the Modern Middle East introduces the key theoretical concepts for understanding the region and the freshest thinking on debates surrounding them and brings the empirical material in to sharp focus through its unique thematic approach

Bordering on War Shaherzad Ahmadi, 2024-12-03 A study of transnational identity migration and state loyalties told through the social and political history of Iran's Khuzestan province In 1980 Saddam Hussein's Ba'athist forces invaded Khuzestan one of the oldest and richest provinces in Iran triggering the Iran Iraq War Shaherzad Ahmadi's Bordering on War examines the social history of Khuzestan and sheds light on how border dwellers provincial leaders and migrants in the region shaped Iran and Iraq's history before during and after the war Drawing from a rich collection of Persian and Arabic language archival sources rarely used by western scholars due to restrictions in Iran Ahmadi's research focuses on Arab Iranians and argues that Iranian border dwellers and migrants formed local non national loyalties thereby eschewing bureaucratic pressures to confine loyalties to a single nation state The transnational character and ethnically diverse composition of Khuzestan especially in the oil rich towns on the southwestern border led many including Iraq's Ba'ath Party to question the national belonging of Arab Iranians Bordering on War contributes to a wider discussion about the ability of individuals and communities to exert agency through migration trade education and other activities

Comparative Grand Strategy Thierry Balzacq, Peter Dombrowski, Simon Reich, 2019-05-28 This book develops a new approach in explaining how a nation's Grand Strategy is constituted how to assess its merits and how grand strategies may be comparatively evaluated within a broader framework The volume responds to three key problems common to both academia and policymaking First the literature on the concept of grand strategy generally focuses on the United States offering no framework for comparative analysis Indeed many proponents of US grand strategy suggest that the concept can only be applied at most to a very few great powers such as China and Russia Second characteristically it remains prescriptive rather than explanatory ignoring the central conundrum of why differing countries respond in contrasting ways to similar pressures Third it often understates the significance of domestic politics and policymaking in the formulation of grand strategies emphasizing mainly systemic pressures This book addresses these problems It seeks to analyze and explain grand strategies through the intersection of domestic and international politics in ten countries grouped distinctively as great powers The G5 regional powers Brazil and India and pivotal powers hostile to each other who are able to destabilize the global system Iran Israel and Saudi Arabia The book thus employs a comparative framework that describes and explains why and how domestic actors and mechanisms coupled with external pressures create specific national strategies Overall the book aims to fashion a valid cross contextual framework for an emerging research program on grand strategic analysis
