pedagogies in schools that forward democratic citizenship in a time when we are losing sight of issues of equity and social justice in our communities and nations Youth Rising? Mayssoun Sukarieh, Stuart Tannock, 2014-08-27 Over the last decade youth has become increasingly central to policy development media and public debates and conflicts across the world whether as an ideological symbol social category or political actor Set against a backdrop of contemporary political economy Youth Rising seeks to understand exactly how and why youth has become such a popular and productive social category and concept The book provocatively argues that the rise and spread of global neoliberalism has not only led youth to become more politically and symbolically salient but also to expand to encompass a growing range of ages and individuals of different class race ethnic national and religious backgrounds Employing both theoretical and historical analysis authors Mayssoun Sukarieh and Stuart Tannock trace the development of youth within the context of capitalism where it has long functioned as a category for social control The book's chapters critically analyze the growing fears of mass youth unemployment and a lost generation that spread around the world in the wake of the global financial crisis They question as well the relentless focus on youth in the reporting and discussion of recent global protests and uprisings By helping develop a better understanding of such phenomena and critically and reflexively investigating the very category and identity of youth Youth Rising offers a fresh and sobering challenge to the field of youth studies and to widespread claims about the relationship between youth and social change Reppin' Keith L. Camacho, 2021-05-27 Explores the critical insights and creative energies of Pacific Islander youth From hip hop artists in the Marshall Islands to innovative multimedia producers in Vanuatu to racial justice writers in Utah Pacific Islander youth are using radical expression to transform their communities Exploring multiple perspectives about Pacific Islander youth cultures in such locations as Aotearoa New Zealand Australia Hawai i and Tonga this cross disciplinary volume foregrounds social justice methodologies and programs that confront the ongoing legacies of colonization incarceration and militarization The ten essays in this collection also highlight the ways in which youth throughout Oceania and the diaspora have embraced digital technologies to communicate across national boundaries mobilize sites of political resistance and remix popular media By centering Indigenous peoples creativity and self determination Reppin' vividly illuminates the dynamic power of Pacific Islander youth to reshape the present and future of settler cities and other urban spaces in Oceania and beyond Transforming Young Adult Services Anthony Bernier, 2019-05-20 Now showcasing an even more rigorous debate about the theory and practice of YA librarianship than its first edition this provocative presentation of diverse viewpoints by leaders in the field Catholic Library World has been updated and expanded to incorporate recent advances in critical youth studies Critical Thinking on Youth Participatory Action Research Thomas Albright, Gretchen Brion-Meisels, 2024-08-16 This book draws together insights on the past present and future of youth participatory action research YPAR through interviews with ten scholars whose work has been central to the field In this critical moment it allows readers to hear from scholars who have been foundational to the visioning and enacting of YPAR projects as they reflect on the fundamental tenets and boundaries of their work By engaging directly with leaders in the field the book allows readers to explore many of the nuances roots and tensions of youth participatory action research Throughout their conversations with scholars Albright and Brion Meisels pose three questions What is the purpose of YPAR and how does it get defined What makes for authentic participation both on the research team itself and in the process of the research And how if at all does YPAR investigate and seek to dismantle existing power structures within schools and communities In taking an intentionally dialectical approach this volume builds on the centrality of dialogue in PAR YPAR processes both in terms of pedagogy mode and in terms of content matter By sharing direct excerpts of conversations readers can participate in the co construction of knowledge and gain more nuanced understandings of how purpose participation and power have shaped the foundations of YPAR and how they might shape future collaborations Elucidating the knowledge and perspective of leading YPAR practitioners this timely book will be crucial reading on Research Methods and Education for Participatory Action Research programs and related courses

Transgressive Humor in Classrooms David E. Low, 2024-04-09 In this innovative book David E Low examines the multifaceted role of humor in critical literacy studies Talking about how teachers and students negotiate understandings of humor and social critique vis vis school based critical literacy curriculums the book co examines teachers and students understandings of humor and critique in schools Critical literacy centers discussions on power and social roles but often overlooks how students use transgressive humor as a means to interrogate power Through examples of classroom interactions and anecdotes Low analyzes the role of humor in classroom settings to uncover how humor interplays with critical inquiry sensemaking and nonsense making Articulated across the fields of literacy studies and humor studies the book uses ethnographic data from three Central California high schools to establish linkages and dissonances between critical literacy education and adolescents joking practices Adopting the dialectic of punching up and punching down as a conceptual framework the book argues that developing more nuanced understandings of transgressive humor presents educators with opportunities to cultivate deeper critical literacy pedagogies and that doing so is a matter of social justice Essential for scholars and students in literacy education this book adds to the scholarship on critical literacy by exploring the subversive power of humor in the classroom

The Methodological Dilemma Revisited Kathleen Gallagher, 2018-04-17 In The Methodological Dilemma Revisited authors examine what in their research processes has given pause thwarted the process of seamless productivity or stalled the easy research output but has instead insisted upon a deeper analysis This resistance of the expedient explanation has consequences both for the research topics under study and the ways in which qualitative research is conducted in a globalized era of deepening social inequality The book is pedagogical in its orientation and reflects upon the politics of knowledge construction Working with queer and minoritized youth communities and other precarious publics the authors convey their relationships to groups they are inside or outside of or allied with posing ethical questions about research designs and worldviews Themes such as representation refusal and resistance of hegemonies are nuanced by investigations into the ethical practical and scholarly dimensions of the turn toward collaboration in qualitative inquiry Other chapters examine the place value and concerns of aesthetic representation of qualitative research Finally the authors consider issues of criticality in research and the concepts of compassion and humility This book contains contributions from some of the most imaginative qualitative researchers making the most of their research dilemmas in order to reflect upon the challenges and resistances they encounter in the work of qualitative research

Youth Voices, Public Spaces, and Civic Engagement Stuart Greene, Kevin J. Burke, Maria K. McKenna, 2016-02-26 This collection of original research explores ways that educators can create participatory spaces that foster civic engagement critical thinking and authentic literacy practices for adolescent youth in urban contexts Casting youth as vital social actors contributors shed light on the ways in which urban youth develop a clearer sense of agency within the structural forces of racial segregation and economic development that would otherwise marginalize and silence their voices and begin to see familiar spaces with reimagined possibilities for socially just educational practices
