Zanele Muholi Faces And Phases 2006 2014:

Zanele Muholi, 2014 In Faces and Phases Zanele Muholi embarks on a journey of visual activism to ensure black queer and transgender visibility Despite South Africa's progressive Constitution and 20 years of democracy black lesbians and transgender men remain the targets of brutal hate crimes and so called corrective rapes Taken over the past eight years the more than 250 portraits in this book accompanied by moving testimonies present a compelling statement about the lives and struggles of these individuals They also comprise an unprecedented and invaluable archive marking mapping and preserving an often invisible community for posterity Peabody Conservatory of Music, 1869 Lesbian Feminism Niharika

Banerjee, Kath Browne, Eduarda Ferreira, Marta Olasik, Julie Podmore, 2019-08-15 Drawing on the incredible wealth of diversity of languages cultures and movements in which lesbian feminisms have been articulated this book confronts the historic devaluation of lesbian feminist politics within Anglo American discourse and ignites a transnational and transgenerational discussion regarding the relevance of lesbian feminisms in today's world a discussion that challenges the view of lesbian feminism as static and essentialist Through careful consideration of contemporary debates these writers theorists academics and activists consider the wider place of lesbian feminisms within queer theory post colonial feminism and the movement for LGBT rights It considers how lesbian feminisms can contribute to discussions on intersectionality engage with trans activism and the need for trans inclusion to ultimately show how lesbian feminisms can offer a transformative approach to today's sexual and gender politics Gender Violence, Art, and the Viewer Ellen C. Caldwell, Cynthia S. Colburn, Ella J. Gonzalez, 2024-08-02 The works covered in college art history classes frequently depict violence against women Traditional survey textbooks highlight the impressive formal qualities of artworks depicting rape murder and other violence but often fail to address the violent content and context Gender Violence Art and the Viewer investigates the role that the art history field has played in the past and can play in the future in education around gender violence in the arts It asks art historians museum educators curators and students to consider how in the time of MeToo a public reckoning with gender violence in art can revitalize the field of art history Contributors to this timely volume amplify the voices and experiences of victims and survivors depicted throughout history critically engage with sexually violent images open meaningful and empowering discussions about visual assaults against women reevaluate how we have viewed and narrated such works and assess how we approach and teach famed works created by artists implicated in gender based violence Gender Violence Art and the Viewer includes contributions by the editors as well as Veronica Alvarez Indira Bailey Melia Belli Bose Charlene Villaseor Black Ria Brodell Megan Cifarelli Monika Fabijanska Vivien Green Fryd Carmen Hermo Bryan C Keene Natalie Madrigal Lisa Rafanelli Nicole Scalissi Hallie Rose Scott Theresa Sotto and Angela Two Stars It is sure to be of keen interest to art history scholars and students and anyone working at the intersections of art and social justice Public Art in South Africa Kim Miller, Brenda Schmahmann, 2017-10-16 How does South Africa deal with public art from its years of colonialism and apartheid How do new monuments address fraught histories and commemorate heroes of the struggle Across South Africa statues commemorating figures such as Cecil Rhodes have provoked heated protests while new works commemorating icons of the liberation struggle have also sometimes proved contentious In this lively volume Kim Miller Brenda Schmahmann and an international group of contributors explore how works in the public domain in South Africa serve as a forum in which important debates about race gender identity and nationhood play out Examining statues and memorials as well as performance billboards and other temporal modes of communication the authors of these essays consider the implications of not only the exposure but also erasure of events and icons from the public domain Revealing how public visual expressions articulate histories and memories they explore how such works may serve as a forum in which tensions surrounding race gender identity or nationhood play out Unstable Ground Rosalind C.

Morris,2025-03-04 What has gold done to people What has it made them do The Witwatersrand in South Africa once home to the world's richest goldfields is today scattered with abandoned mines into which informal miners known as zama zamas venture in an illicit often deadly search for ore Based on field research conducted across more than twenty five years around these mines Unstable Ground reveals the worlds that gold made possible and gold's profound costs for those who have lived in its shadow and dreamt of its transformative power From the vantage point of the closure of South Africa's gold mines Rosalind C Morris reconsiders their histories beginning in the present and descending into the pasts that shaped them Anchored in evocative descriptions of mining in the ruins this book explores the social worlds built on gold and the lives that were remade and sometimes undone by the industry over a century and a half Viewing this industry from its margins against the backdrop of the cyanide revolution the gold standard's demise and recurrent sinkholes as well as the insurrectionary protests and violence that continue to this day it recasts the history of South Africa and the incomplete effort to overcome apartheid amid the transformations of the global economy In writing that is by turns immersive incisive and poetic Morris unearths a history that was born of imperial aspiration and that persists as a speculative mirage Interweaving ethnography history personal testimony and political thought with striking readings of South African literary texts Unstable Ground is a work of extraordinary ambition and depth The Routledge Companion to Art and Activism in the Twenty-First Century Lesley Shipley,Mey-Yen Moriuchi,2022-12-30 The Routledge Companion to Art and Activism in the Twenty First Century brings together a wide range of geographical cultural historical and conceptual perspectives in a single volume of new essays that facilitate a deeper understanding of the field of art activism as it stands today and as it looks towards the future The book is a resource for multiple fields including art activism socially engaged art and contemporary art that represent the depth and breadth of contemporary activist art worldwide Contributors highlight predominant lines of inquiry uncover challenges faced by scholars and practitioners of activist art and facilitate dialogue that might lead to new directions for research and practice The editors hope that the volume will incite further conversation and collaboration among the various participants practitioners and researchers concerned with the relationship between art and activism The audience includes scholars and professors of modern and contemporary art students in both graduate and upper level undergraduate programs as well as artists curators and museum professionals Each chapter can stand on its own making the companion a flexible resource for students and educators working in art history museum studies community practice socially engaged art political science sociology and ethnic and cultural studies Chapter 17 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com>
