inspiring values The Female Voice of Myanmar Nilanjana Sengupta,2015-12-09 The Female Voice of Myanmar seeks to offer a female perspective on the history and political evolution of Myanmar It delves into the lives and works of four of Myanmar's remarkable women who set aside their lives to answer the call of their country Khin Myo Chit who spoke about latent sexual politics in pre Independent Burma Ludu Daw Amar who as the editor of the leftist Ludu Daily was deemed anti establishment and was witness to the socialist government's abortive efforts at ethnic reconciliation Ma Thida whose writing bears testimony to the impact the authoritative military rule had on the individual psyche and Aung San Suu Kyi who has re articulated Burmese nationalism This book breaks new ground in exploring their writing both published and hitherto unexamined some in English and much in Burmese while the intimate biographical sketches offer a glimpse into the Burmese home and the shifting feminine image Martin Luther's Theology of Two Kingdoms in Buddhist and Christian Communities Pa Yaw,2024-05-29 Socially engaged religion teaches that people of faith have a responsibility to address and reduce suffering in all its forms both physical and spiritual including suffering resulting from social injustice exploitation oppression false faith and so forth True religion engages with society to alleviate suffering and bring transformation In other words religious violence is an obscenity a deviation from the true character of religion Martin Luther's Theology of Two Kingdoms in Buddhist and Christian Communities examines the principle of separation between religion and politics in the context of both Buddhist and Christian communities In predominantly Buddhist contexts such as Myanmar where a reciprocal relationship between religion and politics is expected separation is not effective Attempts by Christians to separate religion and politics cause the church to run away from tyranny and follow the state with blind obedience Martin Luther's model of two distinct but interconnected systems for religion and politics creates space for each institution to give constructive advice and criticism to the other for the health of all human beings The Voice of Hope Aung San Suu Kyi,Alan Clements,1997 Aung San Suu Kyi daughter of the founder of modern Burma won the 1991 Nobel Peace Prize and numerous other prestigious international awards for her courageous leadership of the nonviolent struggle for freedom in Burma With Burma expert Alan Clements Suu Kyi explains why she has chosen to risk everything to join in her country's struggle Photos Shambhala Sun ,1997 The Nation ,1997-07 The Quest ,1998 Turning Wheel ,1996 Being Benevolence Sallie B. nation state It identifies the roots of Engaged Buddhist social ethics in such traditional Buddhist concepts and practices as interdependence compassion and meditation and shows how these are applied to particular social and political issues It illuminates the movement's metaphysical views on the individual and society and goes on to examine how Engaged Buddhists respond to fundamental questions in political theory concerning the proper balance between the individual and society The second half of the volume focuses on applied social political issues human rights nonviolence and social justice

Nonviolence Speaks Brian Martin, Wendy Varney, 2003 This book addresses the power of popular nonviolent action against repression aggression and oppression A crucial aspect to effective nonviolent action is communication Activists need to be able to contact each other and to mobilize support from other parts of the world However within the nonviolence literature communication has been almost entirely neglected while within the communication literature nonviolent action is seldom mentioned This is the first major study to focus on the joint dynamics of nonviolence and communication Three case studies are examined the popular action that forced the resignation of Indonesian President Suharto in 1998 the successful people's resistance to the Soviet coup in 1991 and the successful internationally coordinated campaign against the Multilateral Agreement on Investment in 1988 In each case special attention is given to the role of communication in the struggle Attention is then turned to theory Surveys are made of nonviolence and communication theories probing for insights relevant to the nonviolence communication nexus Gradually a model for analyzing people's communication is developed The insights from theory are then used to propose a set of steps by which activist groups can analyze communication and develop effective communication strategies Conflict Studies, 1997-02 The Root of All Evil Sharon Grace Mijares, 2007 The authors of this book are a Muslim from Egypt a Christian mystic from America a Jew from the US and a Jew from Israel living in the US They write about gender imbalances in different world religions and cultures about the politics of governments global and local conflicts and fundamentalist movements They search for common ground and the possibilities to improve women's rights Burma, Women's Voices for Freedom Thanakha Team, 2005 Imagining the Sacred Vernon Ruland, 1998 Imagining the sacred helps readers expand their imagination and experience what it means to live wonder think and pray from within a religious tradition other than one's own As neighborhood skylines in every region in the world grow richer with a montage of church spires mosques synagogues and temples Ruland surveys this living and evolving religious world Encyclopedia of Life Writing Margaretta Jolly, 2013-12-04 First published in 2001 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Rethinking Karma Jonathan S. Watts, 2009 What is a Buddhist response to political oppression and economic exploitation Does Buddhism encourage passivity and victimization Can violent perpetrators be brought to justice without anger and retributive punishment What does Buddhism say or imply about collective karma and social justice Rethinking Karma addresses these questions and many more through the lens of the Buddhist teachings on karma Acknowledging that a skewed understanding of karma serves to perpetuate structural and cultural violence specifically in the Buddhist societies of South and Southeast Asia the book critically reexamines the teachings on karma as well as important related teachings on equanimity upekkha generosity dana and merit punna The eleven authors featured in this volume are thinker activists who have been deeply involved in issues of social justice at a grassroots level and speak from their own experience in trying to solve them For them these issues are seminal ones requiring deeper contemplation and greater sharing not only within the Buddhist community at large but among all those who seek to bridge the gaps between our idealization of human harmony our tendencies toward violent confrontation and the need for greater social justice
