The United Nations world water development report, 2017 WWAP, UNESCO, 2017-03-15 The United Nations World Water Assessment Programme WWAP is hosted and led by UNESCO WWAP brings together the work of 31 UN Water Members and 38 Partners to publish The United Nations World Water Development Report WWDR series The annual World Water Development Reports focus on strategic water issues UN Water Members and Partners all experts in their respective fields contribute the latest findings on a specific theme The 2017 edition of the World Water Development Report focuses on Wastewater and seeks to inform decision makers inside and outside the water community about the importance of managing wastewater as an undervalued and sustainable source of water energy nutrients and other recoverable by products rather than something to be disposed of or a nuisance to be ignored The report's title Wastewater The Untapped Resource reflects the critical role that wastewater is poised to play in the context of a circular economy whereby economic development is balanced with the protection of natural resources and environmental sustainability and where a cleaner and more sustainable economy has a positive effect on the water quality. Improved wastewater management is not only critical to achieving the Sustainable Development Goal on clean water and sanitation (SDG 6) but also to other goals of the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development.

Biotechnologies for Wastewater Treatment and Resource Recovery Arun Lal Srivastava, Inga Zinicovscaia, Liliana Cepoi, 2024-11-07. Biotechnologies for Wastewater Treatment and Resource Recovery Current Trends and Future Scope presents up to date insights on the water crisis stemming from wastewater production. Edited by experts in the field, the book's chapters are structured around different types of bioremediation approaches: phytoremediation, myco remediation, bio stimulation, bio augmentation, rhizoremediation etc., all applied in the context of wastewater treatment. This comprehensive resource equips students, research scholars and policymakers with a holistic understanding of wastewater treatment and resource recovery through bioremediation techniques. Abundant real world applications and case studies empower readers to make well informed decisions ensuring the efficient utilization of energy and efforts in addressing this critical issue. Covers a thorough analysis of various bioremediation approaches such as phytoremediation, myco remediation, bio stimulation, bio augmentation, rhizoremediation etc. Offers the most up to date information on integrated wastewater treatment using biological and physicochemical methods. Includes case studies on bioremediation of domestic industrial wastewater for the elimination of heavy metals, emerging water contaminants, pesticides, microplastics amongst others.

Sustainable Biological Systems for Agriculture Megh R. Goyal, 2018-05-03. Sustainable Biological Systems for Agriculture Emerging Issues in Nanotechnology, Biofertilizers, Wastewater and Farm Machines explores and introduces the use of nanotechnology, biofertilizers and design of farm machines in agriculture. The contributions are from India, Africa and the USA; the chapters emphasize sustainable solutions for the enhancement of agriculture processes. The volume provides a wealth of information on new and emerging issues in this interdisciplinary field. The book is divided into several sections: Potential Applications of Nanotechnology in Biological Systems, Emerging Issues, Challenges and Specific Examples of Nanotechnology for Sustainable Biological Systems, Potential of Nano and Bio fertilizers in Sustainable Agriculture, Emerging Focus Areas in Biological Systems, Performance of Farm Machines for Sustainable Agriculture. The information provided here will be valuable to government, agricultural professionals, scientists, researchers, farmers and faculty and students all over the world.

The Water, Food, Energy and Climate Nexus Felix Dodds, Jamie Bartram, 2016-03-31. Global trends of population growth, rising living standards and the rapidly increasing urbanized world are increasing the demand on water, food and energy. Added to this is the growing threat of climate change which will have huge impacts on water and food availability. It is increasingly clear that there is no place in an interlinked world for isolated solutions aimed at just one sector. In recent years the nexus has emerged as a powerful concept to capture these inter linkages of resources and is now a key feature of policy making.

This book is one of the first to provide a broad overview of both the science behind the nexus and the implications for policies and sustainable development. It brings together contributions by leading intergovernmental and governmental officials, industry scientists and other stakeholder thinkers who are working to develop the approaches to the Nexus of water, food, energy and climate. It represents a major synthesis and state of the art assessment of the Nexus by major players in light of the adoption by the United Nations of the new Sustainable Development Goals and Targets in 2015. With a foreword by HRH the Prince of Wales.

Cost of water reuse projects in MENA and cost recovery mechanisms Gebrezgabher, Solomie, Kodua, T., Mateo-Sagasta, Javier, 2022-11-14. In: Mateo Sagasta, Javier, Al Hamdi, M., AbuZeid, K. Life Cycle Assessment of Wastewater Treatment Mu. Naushad, 2018-03-15. Life Cycle Assessment of Wastewater Treatment addresses in detail the required in-depth life cycle assessment of wastewater treatment. This is to meet the special demands placed upon wastewater treatment processes due to both the limited quantity and often low quality of water supplies. Wastewater management clearly plays a central role in achieving future water security in a world where water stress is expected to increase. Life cycle assessment (LCA) can be used as a tool to evaluate the environmental impacts associated with wastewater treatment and potential improvement options. This unique volume will focus on the analysis of wastewater treatment plants (WWTPs) using a life cycle assessment (LCA) approach. Key Features: Focuses on the analysis of wastewater treatment plants using a life cycle assessment (LCA) approach. Discusses unconventional water sources such as recycled wastewater, brackish groundwater and desalinated seawater. Explains life cycle assessment in detail, which has become one of the reference methods used to assess the environmental performance of processes over their complete life cycle from raw material extraction, infrastructure construction and operation to final dismantling. Explores a technique (LCA) that is becoming increasingly popular amongst researchers in the water treatment field nowadays because of its holistic approach. Based on real life experiences, the subject of wastewater is presented in simple terms and made accessible to anyone willing to learn and experiment.

The Human Face of Water Security David Devlaeminck, Zafar Adeel, Robert Sandford, 2017-03-09. This volume collects essays from academics and practitioners from a diversity of areas and perspectives in order to discuss water security at various levels and to illuminate the central idea of water security. Its focus is on the individual. Beginning with the big picture, this book aims to illustrate the depth of the water security crisis and its interconnections with other aspects of societal development. It particularly draws a connection to the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development and discusses the challenges faced in meeting the 17 sustainability development goals (SDGs) by the year 2030. Moving from international to domestic and community perspectives, this book provides a unique analysis of issues and solutions to the water issues we face today in light of the ever-looming global changes brought on by climate change. Over the past few decades, the recognition of our common need for water has increased as policymakers have sought to place more focus on the individual within policy. After the recognition of water and sanitation as a fundamental human right by the United Nations General Assembly in 2010 there is increasing recognition of the individual as the building block for the struggle for water security This reality also intersects with adverse impacts of global climate change and the book responds to the broader question will clean and safe water be available where we need it and when we need it in the future
