Culture, Diaspora, and Modernity in Muslim Writing Rehana Ahmed, Peter Morey, Amina Yaqin, 2012-08-21 Fiction by writers of Muslim background forms one of the most diverse vibrant and high profile corpora of work being produced today from the trail blazing writing of Salman Rushdie and Hanif Kureishi which challenged political and racial orthodoxies in the 1980s to that of a new generation including Mohsin Hamid Nadeem Aslam and Kamila Shamsie This collection reflects the variety of those fictions Experts in English South Asian and postcolonial literatures address the nature of Muslim identity its response to political realignments since the 1980s its tensions between religious and secular models of citizenship and its manifestation of these tensions as conflict between generations In considering the perceptions of Muslims contributors also explore the roles of immigration class gender and national identity as well as the impact of 9 11 This volume includes essays on contemporary fiction by writers of Muslim origin and non Muslims writing about Muslims It aims to push beyond the habitual populist framing of Muslims as strangers or interlopers whose ways and beliefs are at odds with those of modernity exposing the hide bound conservative assumptions that underpin such perspectives While returning to themes that are of particular significance to diasporic Muslim cultures such as secularism modernity multiculturalism and citizenship the essays reveal that Muslim writing grapples with the same big questions as serve to exercise all writers and intellectuals at the present time How does one reconcile the impulses of the individual with the requirements of community

How can one belong in the modern world What is the role of art in making sense of chaotic contemporary experience

Islam and the Liberal State Stephen H. Jones, 2020-11-26 National identity and liberal democracy are recurrent themes in debates about Muslim minorities in the West Britain is no exception with politicians responding to claims about Muslims lack of integration by mandating the promotion of fundamental British values including democracy and individual liberty This book engages with both these themes addressing the lack of understanding about the character of British Islam and its relationship to the liberal state It charts a gradual but decisive shift in British institutions concerned with Islamic education Islamic law and Muslim representation since Muslims settled in the UK in large numbers in the 1950s Based on empirical research including interviews undertaken over a ten year period with Muslims and analysis of public events organized by Islamic institutions Stephen Jones challenges claims about the isolation of British Islamic organizations and shows that they have decisively shaped themselves around British public and institutional norms He argues that this amounts to the building of a distinctive British Islam Using this narrative the book makes the case for a variety of liberalism that is open to the expression of religious arguments in public and to associations between religious groups and the state It also offers a powerful challenge to claims about the insularity of British Islamic institutions by showing how the national orientation of Islam called for by British policymakers is in fact already happening

The Making of a Salafi Muslim Woman Anabel Inge, 2017 Salafism often called Wahhabism is widely seen as a fundamentalist interpretation of Islam that subjugates women yet growing numbers of young British women many of them converts or from less conservative Muslim backgrounds are actively embracing it With unprecedented access to Salafi women s groups in the UK Anabel Inge provides the first in depth account of their lives probing the reasons for their conversion and their subsequent dilemmas and difficulties

Muslim Identity Politics Khadijah Elshayyal, 2018-02-28 The surge in divisive and far right politics and growing Islamophobia in Britain pose new challenges for Muslim advocacy organisations British Muslim activism has taken centre stage in the public sphere as a result Yet for over fifty years Muslim advocacy groups have worked to preserve religious identity lobby the state and provide concerted responses to the political establishment This is the first book to chart critically the national and global factors influencing the political mobilisation of British Muslim activists as Muslims Khadijah Elshayyal traces the changes of thought direction and method within Muslim identity politics after 1960 noting key organisations and turning points such as the Rushdie Affair the 9 11 attacks the 7 7 bombings and the current conflict in Syria The book argues that the Rushdie Affair prompted new debate around the subject of freedom of expression which has continued to be a point of contention ever since Providing a history of the interaction between Muslim advocacy groups and the state and the impact of state policy on Muslim communities Muslims Identity Politics shows that that Muslim citizens continue to experience an equality gap and recommends where transformation and progress can be made Based on primary sources and in depth interviews this book is a vital resource for government officials policy makers and researchers interested in multiculturalism Islamophobia and security issues in Britain The Contemporary British Mosque Abdul-Azim Ahmed,2024-03-21

Repositioning mosques as social cultural and political spaces this book provides new insights on key contemporary debates the religious identity of Britain secularisation the far right and terrorism and gender equality Exploring the story of the British mosque from house conversions to grand works of architecture and the role they play in public life Abdul Azim Ahmed details the establishment of early mosques during the era of Empire and the rapid growth in the years following the Second World War Ahmed takes a sociological approach to this study drawing on fieldwork and ethnographic case studies alongside reviews of databases and historical documents to provide perspectives on the British mosque from the congregants themselves The Muslim congregation a poorly understood and often overlooked dimension of religion in Britain is examined and issues of diversity denomination sacredness and society are explored Becoming 'Good Muslim' Bulbul Siddiqi,2017-11-28 The book uses an ethnographic approach to explore why the Tablighi Jamaat movement remains so successful in contemporary times It shows that this success results from the positive image that it cultivates and the systematic preaching activities of Tablighi Jamaat followers and that the organisation s apolitical image the public profile of the ijtema the humbleness of Tablighi followers and the attraction of belonging to the global Tablighi community all help to create a positive image of the Tablighi Jamaat among ordinary Muslims The book also argues that the Tablighi Jamaat remains successful because of its ability to hold its followers within a Tablighi guided life which is perceived as protection against the Western lifestyle Many elements of contemporary Western lifestyle are considered non Islamic and so by clearly defining what is Islamic and non Islamic in modern society the Tablighi Jamaat provides a way in which Muslims can live in the contemporary world but remain good Muslims Faith in Democracy Jonathan Chaplin,2021-04-30 What is the place of faith in public life in the UK Beyond secularism that seeks to relegate faith to the margins of public life and a Christian nation position that seeks to retain or even regain Christian public privilege there is a third way Faith in Democracy Framing a Politics of Deep Diversity calls for an approach that maximises public space for the expression of faith based visions within democratic fora while repudiating all traces of religious privilege It argues for a truly conversational space reflecting theologically on the contested concepts at the heart of the current debate about the place of faith in British public life democracy secularism pluralism and public faith Pointing the Finger Julian Petley,Robin Richardson,2013-10-01 The only detailed examination of how the British media treat Muslims Uncovering endemic racism in the British Media Ever since 9 11 Muslims and Islam have dominated the headlines in the UK In this important book several leading media commentators examine the phenomenon of Islamophobia and ask how we can tackle it Charting recent media controversies from the

Archbishop of Canterbury's comments on Sharia law to the veil debate the book argues that media hostility to Islam alienates Muslims and undermines efforts to combat extremism With interviews from Muslim journalists and examples of press fuelled myths about Islam in Britain this is a captivating insight into how Muslims are depicted in the West London Youth, Religion, and Politics Daniel Nilsson DeHanas, 2016-06-23 For more than a decade the Muslim question on integration and alleged extremism has vexed Europe revealing cracks in long held certainties about the role of religion in public life Secular assumptions are being tested not only by the growing presence of Muslims but also by other fervent new arrivals such as Pentecostal Christians London Youth Religion and Politics focuses on young adults of immigrant parents in two inner city London areas the East End and Brixton It paints vivid portraits of dozens of young men and women met at local cafes on park benches and in council estate stairwells and provides reason for a measured hope In East End streets like Brick Lane revivalist Islam has been generating more civic integration although this comes at a price that includes generational conflict and cultural amnesia In Brixton while the influence of Pentecostal and traditional churches can be limited to family and individual renewal there are signs that this may be changing This groundbreaking work offers insight into the lives of urban Muslim Christian and non religious youth In times when the politics of immigration and diversity are in flux it offers a candid appraisal of multiculturalism in practice Evangelical Christian Responses to Islam Richard McCallum, 2024-02-08 Do Christians and Muslims worship the same God Who was Muhammad How does the Israeli Palestinian conflict affect Christian Muslim relations This is a book about Evangelical Christians and how they are answering challenging questions about Islam Drawing on over 300 texts published by Evangelicals in the first two decades of the twenty first century this book explores what the Evangelical micro public sphere has to say about key issues in Christian Muslim relations today From the books they write the blogs they post and the videos they make it is clear that Evangelical Christians profoundly disagree with one another when discussing Islam Answers to the questions range from seeing Muslims as the enemy posing an existential threat to Christians through to welcoming them as good neighbours or even as close cousins Terrorist Recruitment, Propaganda and Branding Anna Kruglova, 2022-08-05 This book analyses the marketing techniques that terrorist organisations employ to encourage people to adopt their ideology and become devoted supporters The book's central thesis is that due to the development of digital technologies and social media terrorist groups are employing innovative marketing techniques and advertising strategies to foster an emotional connection with their audiences particularly those in younger demographics By conducting thematic and narrative analyses of Islamic State of Iraq and Syria ISIS propagandist magazines as well as looking at the group's online communities the book demonstrates that terrorist groups behave as commercial brands by establishing an emotional connection with their potential recruits Specifically groups and their potential supporters follow the logic of emotional choice The book emphasizes that while ISIS became the first group that discovered and benefited from the power of marketing it did not have a supernatural power and thus it is possible to find a response to it which is particularly important now The book eventually poses a question about whether terrorism has become the product of marketing in the same way as any mainstream consumer product is and asks what can we do to battle the appeal of marketing savvy terrorist groups This book will be of interest to students of terrorism studies radicalisation and propaganda communication and security studies Muslim Fashion Reina Lewis, 2015-10-15 In the shops of London's Oxford Street girls wear patterned scarves over their hair as they cluster around makeup counters Alongside them hip twenty somethings style their head wraps in high black topknots to match their black boot cut trousers Participating in the world of popular mainstream fashion often thought to be the domain of the West these young Muslim women are part of an emergent cross faith transnational youth subculture of modest fashion In treating hijab and other forms of modest clothing as fashion Reina Lewis counters the overuse of images of veiled women as evidence in the prevalent suggestion that Muslims and Islam are incompatible with Western modernity Muslim Fashion contextualizes modest wardrobe styling within Islamic and global consumer cultures interviewing key players including designers bloggers shoppers store clerks and shop owners Focusing on Britain North America and Turkey Lewis provides insights into the ways young Muslim women use multiple fashion systems to negotiate religion identity and ethnicity
